NEW FOE OF ICEMEN.

Butchers and Grocers Form a Co-operative Company.

VICTIMS HOLD MEETINGS.

Plan to Cut the Price of the Product One-Half.

BLOW FOR THE COMBINATION

Packers Promise Their Assistance in the Fight.

BOYCOTT OF THE OLD DEALERS.

A powerful combination to wage war on the ice trust was perfected last night at a meeting of the Grocers' and Butchers' Association, held at No. 66 Adams street. Nearly 400 business-men, customers of the different ice companies, attended, though not all of them were members of the association.

Two different meetings were started early in the evening for the same purpose—to organize an effective combination against the ice combine. But at the invitation of a delegation from the larger meeting those in attendance at the other, held at No. 106 Randolph street, combined their forces in the Adams street hall. Here an organization to be known as the Coöperative Ice Delivery company was perfected and active war declared on the ice men.

It is the plan of the long-suffering grocers and butchers to fight the ice men on their own grounds by going into the ice business for themselves and furnishing ice to members of their association for one-half the price charged by the trust companies.

Includes Butchers and Grocers.

There are 1,200 members of the Grocers' and Butchers' Association in Chicago, all of whom will join the coöperative company. As they are among the best patrons of the ice companies their action, it is believed, will be a serious blow to the trust, especially as the Grocers' Association has already perfected arrangements by which it can secure all the ice required for its members and other consumers.

At 8 o'clock 300 members of the Grocers' and Butchers' Association met at No. 66 Adams street to talk over their grievances against the ice trust and to devise ways and means of combating the ice men. At the same time an independent meeting of sixty butchers assembled at No. 106 Randolph street. The association meeting was told of the other meeting, and a committee invited the butchers to unite with the association meeting, which was done.

Ice for $2 a Ton.

W. H. Steadman, a butcher who has been struggling with the ice dealers for a week with no results, told of a plan he had formulated by which butchers and grocers might become their own ice dealers. He said he had made arrangements for supplying them with ice at $2 a ton, about one-half the price charged by the ice trust companies. This price included the delivery of the ice, and he advocated the formation of a coöperative company.

Where the ice could be secured he declined to say, as he was familiar enough with the tactics of the trust to know it would use every effort to get control of it. Rates on transportation had been secured from the railway companies and a plan perfected for the delivery of ice throughout the city. Several of the large packing-houses had offered to supply the grocers and butchers with ice till their own association was in working order.

A number of members of the association spoke on the subject. Some complained of the quality of the ice supplied and others of the impossibility of changing from one dealer to the other.

A committee was appointed to perfect the arrangements for coöperative ice delivery. It was constituted as follows:

W. H. Steadman, J. Clark,
J. Rupert, L. Rahig,
A. M. Crawford,

The Secretary was instructed to ascertain the amount of ice desired by each member of the association. Seventy-five new members joined the association during the meeting.

CASH TO FIGHT THE ICE COMBINE.

State Liquor Dealers to Give Funds to Make a Test Case.

Danville, Ill., May 20.—[Special.]—Funds for the fight the associated saloonkeepers of Chicago propose to make on the ice trust will be furnished by the Liquor Dealers' State Protective Association of Illinois. At a meeting of the officers of the association here today President J. F. Gainty of Chicago, who has been active in exposing the methods of the ice dealers in Chicago, brought the question to the attention of his colleagues. What he termed an attempt on the part of the ice dealers to boycott the saloonkeepers was condemned by all present in an informal discussion. No formal action was taken simply for the reason that the fight on the ice trust is to be inaugurated at Chicago on Friday by the members of the First District Liquor Dealers' Protective Association, which includes all of Chicago.

Agree to Furnish Funds.

As far as it could be done in advance of any action the district association may take the State Board agreed to furnish the funds to fight a test case through the courts.

"We are determined to fight the combined ice dealers," said President Gainty, "and see if there is not law enough to punish them for the actual boycott they are imposing on Chicago saloonkeepers. Many members of our association in Chicago who have had trouble because of short weights, insolence of drivers, or impure ice, and have refused to take any more ice of the dealers supplying them, have found that other dealers would not supply them. That is certainly a boycott, and taken in connection with the arbitrary increase in the price of ice calls for the strongest measures we can take to secure redress in the courts."

August Mette, President of the Chicago District Board, and by virtue of that office a director of the State Board, outlined the purpose of the district meeting to be held on Friday.

To Fight the Ice Dealers.

"We are going to fight the ice dealers and their boycott," he said. "They are taking advantage of their strong combination to refuse to allow customers to go to other dealers, have raised the prices of ice, and are getting rid of all their poor ice early in the season. Several times they have left ice at my place that was too impure to use. I am positive it is not Wisconsin ice, but ice from Sheffield, Ind., where the water is not fit for use. The purpose is to call the attention of the City Health Department to the quality of the ice, as well as to begin legal proceedings to test the right of the dealers to boycott us."

Other members voiced similar opinions of the grievances of the trade in Chicago against the ice dealers, and the result of the discussion was stated after the meeting by President Gainty as follows:

"The question is a local one, affecting Chicago, so far as the management of our fight against the ice trust is concerned, and it will be left to the First District Board to take the initiative, but the State Board, as

DUCHESS OF MARLBOROUGH OPENS FAIR

[SPECIAL CABLE BY JULIAN RALPH.]

London, May 20.—[Copyrighted, 1896, by the New York Journal.]—Henley, the famous regatta town, where more bunting has perhaps been displayed than in any other place in England, is as gorgeous as a bouquet today. All through the streets have been erected poles in pairs, swathed in red bunting, and connected by wires hung with flags. By a curious chance one wire held the silken emblems of Great Britain, the United States, and Spain.

All this display was because Consuelo, Duchess of Marlborough, was there to open the Oxfordshire agricultural show. The young Duchess passed the most wonderfully active and important day of her new official life.

She was the tallest and by far the most beautiful woman there, and there were thousands of comely women present. She and the Duke were the guests of Herman Hodge, M. P., of Wyfold Lodge.

She and her husband drove behind a team of bays to the Henley grounds, which were covered with booths and looked like a country fair at home, with a big grand stand facing the race course in the center. Reaching the stand the party found three boxes draped in red. At the middle one, which was carpeted by scarlet cloth, they were met by a deputation of officials, who welcomed them at some length in cordial terms. As she listened to the speeches, every now and then a far away look came into the Duchess' black eyes, showing that she was trying hard to remember the speech she would soon have to make in response.

She was stylishly dressed, wearing a beautiful gown of mauve merino and a maroon colored cloth cape, trimmed with white lace. On her shapely head was a large Paris hat of black velvet, trimmed with gold braid, white ostrich plumes, and pink roses. The Duke wore a black "Billycock" long coaching top coat, tan shoes, and white silk muffler.

Suddenly, as if afraid she would forget her speech, the Duchess ran hastily up the steps, leaving her welcomers standing in much surprise at the bottom. Reaching the top she faced about, fixed her eyes on the ceiling, and said:

"I have much pleasure in declaring this show open. I wish it every success."

Then she sat down. The others mounted the steps, filling the side boxes, and the Duchess chatted with them, laughing merrily and completing the charming impression she always makes. Around her were the Earl of Jersey, Lord Camoys, Viscount Valenia, and members of county families.

After a time the Duchess walked about the grounds with half a dozen men and women and visited every booth, looking at everything. She gave the staring country folk the impression of being shy and uncertain what to do, yet not the least awkward.

The Duchess tried hard to seem interested in the deadly speeches about rates, rents, improving breeds of swine, and the quality of butter. During the fearful ordeal the young girl was the cynosure of all eyes. As the multitude hammered the table with mugs she sat with a composed face, occasionally chatting sparklingly with the aged Earl of Jersey. She went through the motions of eating, for the country fare of cold meat, salad, cheese, butter, and hard boiled eggs was not much to her taste.

Mr. Hodge, in his speech, paid a graceful compliment to the Duchess. He said: "We are pleased and proud to welcome today a lady who has come far across the seas to the land of her brothers"—here he stammered and then said "cousins," which he then changed to "kindred." Recovering himself Mr. Hodge went on to say that this lady had come to bear the Duke of Marlborough's name, a name that was honored through the length and breadth of England. And the multitude applauded vociferously while the Duchess blushed prettily.

The Duke made a little speech, but did not allude to the Duchess. He is rapidly acquiring experience as a speaker. Since his boyish, stammering talk at the Union League club before his marriage he has changed so much that today his was one of the best of the many commonplace speeches made. After luncheon the Duchess went back to the ring and watched the horses and then went to a little marble lodge called "The Temple" to distribute the prizes awarded in the horseshoeing competition. Three or four hundred persons pressed behind the space wired off in front of the lodge.

The Secretary placed a little table in the middle of the open space, facing the crowd, at which the Duchess stood. As the Secretary called the name of the winner, and handed the Duchess his certificate and gold coin prize, the man would walk up and the Secretary would indulge in a violent pantomime behind the Duchess' back in order to make him take off his hat. The crowd would laugh, and the Duchess would very gracefully hand over the trophies with a pleasant smile and a few kindly words.

At first she was a little embarassed when the stupid smiths were slow in coming forward, but she soon got along like a school principal giving out diplomas.

When Herman Hodge called for cheers for her the crowd gave three hearty "hip-hurrahs," and she flushed, but did not know exactly what to do. Then the Duke advanced, and in a very manly way thanked the crowd on her behalf.

GROUND TO DEATH UNDER THE WHEELS.

Fate of a Respectably Attired Man Supposed to Be John Ristow of Oshkosh, Wis.

A fairly well-dressed man, about 35 years old, and supposed to be John Ristow of Oshkosh, was killed last night by a Northwestern freight train at Forty-sixth street and West Chicago avenue. The body was horribly crushed under the wheels and caused the partial derailment of a car. A letter gave the clew to the man's identity. The remains were taken to the County Morgue.

As a result of attempting to board an Illinois Central train at Eighty-seventh street after the platform gates were closed John Gorman, No. 156 Ninety-first street, had his legs so badly crushed that amputation will be necessary. The man clung to the platform gate for three blocks and was dashed against the station platform railing at Eighty-fourth street. The man was removed to his home.

Colon, Colombia, May 20.—[Copyrighted, 1896, by the Press Publishing Company, New York World.]—The Venezuelan Government has forbidden the circulation in Caracas of a Panama newspaper because it published an offensive article on the condition of affairs under President Crespo. This newspaper asserts that it is an American journal and therefore will invoke United States interference to get the prohibition removed.

AUCTION WILBERFORCE'S BIRTHPLACE.

It Brings $8,000 at Public Sale—Attempts to Secure It by Public Subscription Fail.

[SPECIAL CABLE BY JULIAN RALPH.]

London, May 20.—[Copyrighted, 1896, by the New York Journal.]—The birthplace of William Wilberforce, at Hull, to which many American negroes have made pilgrimages, was sold at auction today for $8,000. Public subscription to secure it failed.

BIG MAN FOR THE PLACE.

RADICAL MOVE IN THE NEW YORK BOARD OF EDUCATION.

President Daniel C. Gilman of Johns Hopkins University Said to Have Signified His Willingness to Accept the Post of Superintendent of the Greater New York City Schools—Part of a System of Proposed Reform.

New York, May 20.—[Special.]—A determined attempt is on foot in the New York Board of Education to elect to the post of Superintendent of the New York city school system President Daniel Coit Gilman of Johns Hopkins University.

SINCE THE MOUNTAIN WILL NOT GO TO MAHOMET, MAHOMET MUST GO TO THE MOUNTAIN.

This movement is a part of a system of radical change from the educational system now in operation in New York. It began with the recent act of the Legislature reorganizing the New York schools and putting the system on a new basis.

Dr. Gilman, who is one of the most distinguished educators of the country, is in no sense "running for the office," although he has signified his willingness to accept it if he is called. He has reached this decision because the field for education in New York presents exceptional opportunities.

Dr. Gilman has been President of the University of California. In 1875 he organized Johns Hopkins University.

A considerable part of the Board of Education favors retaining John Jasper, the present Superintendent. It is charged against him that he is "in a rut," and not the man to undertake the proposed reforms.

Surprise at Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., May 20.—[Special.]—The report that President Gilman of the Johns Hopkins University had been offered the position of Superintendent of Public Schools of New York City was as great a surprise to the students and members of the faculty as it was to the citizens of Baltimore.

Dr. Gilman said he had not as yet received any official communication from New York on the matter and therefore he could not say what reply he would make to a proposition. He added, however, that in his opinion the opportunity now open in New York was one of the most extraordinary that have occurred in the history of the country.

In this statement he evidently had in view the fact that the consolidated school system of the Greater New York would be the largest in the world.

President Gilman's salary at Johns Hopkins is $10,000 a year, but some time ago he voluntarily cut off a couple of thousand of it because of the university's temporary financial straits on account of its investments in the Baltimore and Ohio. The trustees say that every inducement will be offered to President Gilman to remain.

SEES ROOSEVELT'S TEETH IN THE DARK.

Sly Patrolman Is Caught Taking a Nip by the Commissioner and Pursued Through the Streets.

New York, May 20.—[Special.]—President Theodore Roosevelt of the New York Police Board has added a new exploit to his odd career as the head of the New York police system. In company with a roundsman he made a tour of the tenderloin district to see how closely his bluecoated officers were attending to their duties.

All went well during the first part of his tour.

Then the Commissioner saw a spectacle which transfixed him with surprise. Across the street, standing outside the door of a saloon, was one of the star policemen of the precinct. As the Commissioner watched an arm was pushed out of the door and the next moment the patrolman's face was buried in a huge schooner.

Commissioner Roosevelt sneaked across the street in the shadows and laid his hand on the officer's shoulder. The patrolman recognized the Commissioner's teeth from newspaper cartoons, and, with a howl of terror, dashed down the street. Away went the Commissioner hot on his trail. After a dozen blocks had been traversed in half as many minutes the Commissioner caught his man, who proved to be Patrolman Meyers. His teeth chattered in terror as Roosevelt took his number.

NEW STATION IN LAKE-FRONT PARK.

Illinois Central Railway Company Builds a Temporary Structure Opposite Foot of Jackson Street.

A new building occupies a place on the Lake-Front Park at the foot of Jackson street. It is the temporary suburban station of the Illinois Central railroad, while the Van Buren street station is being replaced by a new building and the tracks depressed at that point.

The men have been working on the temporary structure for several days and put the paint and finishing touches on it yesterday. It will be opened on Tuesday of next week.

The work has been done under a temporary permit granted by Commissioner of Buildings Downey. Deputy O'Shea said yesterday it will have to be torn down at the expiration of sixty days, although the railroad people think an extension will be granted if they request it. Chief Engineer Wallace says the Lake-Front Park ordinance gives the company the right to erect temporary buildings during the construction period.

ASKED TO PAY THEIR TAXES TWICE.

Austin Receipts Signed by Constable Cerf Come Back on Ex-Collector Frankland.

Residents of Austin in large numbers have been receiving notices from County Treasurer D. H. Kochersperger that their names were on the delinquent personal property tax lists. It appears, however, that in the majority of instances the persons notified held receipts signed by Adolph M. Cerf as Deputy Collector. Cerf, it will be remembered, committed suicide some weeks since.

Taxpayers notified that they were in arrears, with the amount in each case, include the following:

B. J. Wayte, No. 333 North Park avenue	$13.69
P. D. Earl, No. 425 Popular avenue	5.50
W. H. Dickinson, No. 5415 Ohio street	2.95
C. E. Pierce, No. 5515 Superior street	2.50
Ellen E. Dorin, No. 223 Walnut avenue	2.30
O. C. Smith, No. 5420 Ontario street	2.15

Otis Piper Jr., who was Collector George Frankland's Chief Deputy, says Cerf was not instructed to collect the taxes.

"The fact of the matter is," said Piper, "the Cicero Lumber company refused to pay its personal taxes, and we had Cerf, who was a constable, sworn in to make a demand, and in case of refusal a levy on their property. On the same list was a large number of other delinquents. Cerf took it upon himself to make these other collections. Cerf having committed suicide Mr. Frankland will probably have to make up the deficit. The amounts are all small, but nevertheless it will cast a reflection upon Mr. Frankland after the past trouble he has had over money matters with the Cicero Town Board."

In this connection it will be recalled that Frankland turned over all funds in his possession excepting $3,900 which he claims is due him for services rendered. Litigation over this is now pending.

County Treasurer Kochersperger has notified ex-Collector Frankland to come to his office at once and make a settlement.

ANOTHER MRS. STETSON IS REPORTED.

Wife Number One of the Late Theatrical Manager Is Said to Have Been Alice Lane.

New York, May 20.—[Special.]—There is or was a third Mrs. John Stetson, so, at least, it was said today, who married the late theatrical manager in Boston long before he met either Miss Richmond or Kate Stokes.

It is not known where the first Mrs. Stetson is living, or, indeed, whether she is alive at all. Her friends in this city, among those who witnessed the marriage ceremony, are now trying to locate Mrs. Stetson No. 1.

Information regarding the first marriage has been furnished to a detective agency. An elderly woman called at the office today and furnished the manager with the details about the marriage. It appears that Mrs. Stetson No. 1 was Mary Jane Allen, who in late years was known as Alice Lane, and that the marriage to Stetson was performed in Boston in 1863.

"There seems to be no doubt at all," said the manager today, "that Stetson was married to Alice Lane. At the time John Stetson married Alice she was the housekeeper for Mrs. Lucy Meloin. Stetson met the girl there and fell in love with her. Stetson one day proposed an immediate marriage as the best way of stopping their jealous quarrels. My informant was present in the house the night the ceremony was performed. Stetson himself got the Rev. Father Taylor of the North Street Mission, who performed the ceremony. Father Taylor gave Alice a marriage certificate, and she had it in the summer of 1882, at which time she was living at Natasket Beach."

Soon after the wedding, it is said, Stetson and his wife went to live at a hotel in Blackstone square. From there they moved to No. 4 Alden street, where Mrs. Stetson had some trouble with a servant and shot her, or it was charged that she did. Stetson declared that if Alice would ever dare to come to Boston again he would see that the old shooting case was reopened and she was sent to prison.

FUGITIVE BANK PRESIDENT RETURNS.

G. C. Trumpff of the Defunct South Side Savings Bank of Milwaukee Voluntarily Surrenders.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 20.—[Special.]—G. C. Trumpff, the President of the defunct South Side Savings Bank, fled to Europe after the failure of the bank in 1893. His partner, John B. Koeting, is now serving a term in State's prison for wrecking the bank. The same charges of which Koeting was convicted were made against Trumpff. The testimony in the Koeting case showed that the assets of the bank had been dissipated in grain speculations and in bad loans, and that there was a shortage of nearly $800,000, while the assets were about $1,200,000.

Mr. Trumpff made his way to Europe and has resided in Germany for the last three years. He came back voluntarily this afternoon and is at the residence of his daughter, Mrs. Ludwig, corner of Fifth and State streets. The police do not know of his return. When seen tonight Mr. Trumpff declined to talk, except to say he had returned to answer all the charges which were made against him. He is not afraid of conviction, as he claims to have had nothing to do with the active management of the bank for a long time previous to the failure of the bank. Mr. Trumpff will surrender himself to the authorities tomorrow.

CAN MAKE READY FOR WAR

SENATE PASSES THE FORTIFICATIONS BILL WITHOUT OPPOSITION.

Little Prospect of a Refusal on the Part of the House to Concur in the Amended Measure for Seacoast Protection—The Appropriation Carries $10,763,888, Double the Amount Provided For by the Congressmen—Can Put Up Defenses in Two Months

Washington, D. C., May 20.—[Special.]—Without opposition and almost without debate the Senate passed the fortifications appropriation bill. The measure was taken up and adopted within three hours, and the only thing which approached opposition was an effort made to pass several unimportant amendments.

The prospects for an immediate improvement in the coast defenses of the country are more than good. The Senate bill appropriates $10,763,888, as against $5,845,837 appropriated by the House, and this large apparent increase may result in some little trouble in conference. In reality the Senate has decreased the total appropriations several hundred thousands, for the House bill contemplated contracts equaling the amount of the cash appropriations. The Senate has made the whole appropriation available at once.

The sentiment for coast defenses is general in Congress, and the opposition to liberal appropriations was confined exclusively almost to the party leaders who were anxious to make a record for economy.

As the Senate has passed the bill without opposition, and as the matter comes directly before the House, the prospect is that the Senate bill will be agreed to. Secretary Lamont has said he could spend $20,000,000 to advantage the next year, so there will be no difficulty in applying half that amount. When the fact is taken into consideration that the appropriations last year amounted to $1,904,557 only it will be seen how important a step forward in the direction of coast defenses the Senate bill is. The new bill appropriates a lump sum of $5,000,000 for the engineer work on the gun and mortar batteries, whereas last year only $500,000 was set aside for this purpose. The appropriations for carriages this year are $1,125,000, as against only $100,000 this fiscal year. Plenty of large guns and mortars are finished now, or nearly so, and these large appropriations for the engineer work and gun and mortar carriages will enable the War Deparement to put several of the seaports in good condition within a few months if necessary.

DOG-CATCHER GETS ALD. FORREY'S COW

Evanston's Faithful Official Captures the Animal Unaided and Makes the Owner Pay a Pound Fee of $2.

Poundmaster Dixon of Evanston, who is also the official dogcatcher of that burg, yesterday spied Ald. Frank M. Forrey's mild, muley, Alderney cow trespassing on the public domain, and after careful stalking succeeded in making a capture, taking the animal to the pound.

Mr. Forrey paid the pound fee of $2 without grumbling, but he protested when he learned his pet had been milked at the pond and the milk appropriated. Mr. Dixon, who had already proved his personal bravery by stealing up unarmed behind the cow and leading her off single-handed, was not afraid to tell the Alderman he did not see why his cow should be treated with greater consideration than other cows. He borrowed a law book of the Police Justice and showed the Alderman the law required all impounded cows to be milked.

Dixon has shown before this he was not afraid to tackle beasts larger than a brindle pup. Just now there is a scarcity of dogs in Evanston, and the poundmaster started out yesterday to round up the cattle that were defying the town ordinances. He failed to discover any delinquents until he reached the alley in the rear of Mr. Forrey's house, No. 2040 Sherman avenue.

Here he found the Alderman's cow staked in a vacant lot in the rear, and on closer investigation discovered that the animal had wandered across the alley in search of a luscious morsel, and was obstructing the alley. Without stopping to calculate the danger, Mr. Dixon walked boldly up to the animal, overawing it as he approached, by a steady look from his official eyes, untied the tether, and resumed his journey back to the pound. The cow made no attempt to resist, and was landed without difficulty among the strays.

PICTURES OF WOULD-BE PRESIDENTS.

Oscar Marshall Selected to Take Official Photographs of All the Republican Aspirants.

Oscar Marshall of New York, who since the time of Lincoln has made the official pictures of the Republican Presidential candidates for the National Central committee, was in consultation with Secretary M. J. Dowling at the headquarters of the National League yesterday.

The matter of the official pictures has been turned over to the league this year by the Central committee, with full power to act, and Marshall will as heretofore be the artist.

He had with him yesterday pictures of all possible candidates, from McKinley to Quay.

Marshall was born in Chicago fifty-two years ago. One of his relics is the first sketch of Lincoln made by his brother for the official picture of the campaign in 1860.

SEPARATIONISTS CLAMOR FOR TELLER.

Treasonable Utterances at a Meeting of Silverites Indorsing a Division of the United States.

Denver, Colo., May 20.—[Special.]—Secession and Teller was the echo of a meeting that was held last night under the auspices of the Young Men's Silver club. It was really the first shot in the coming campaign, where the Western agitators hope to appear with the senior Senator of Colorado at the head of their ticket, consisting of a fusion of all the diverse elements that have gone heretofore with the Populists.

Ex-Congressman J. B. Belford, who achieved national fame as the "red-headed rooster of the Rockies," was the speaker. His remarks were as inflammatory as his lurid hair, but every sentiment was cheered till the hall rang.

The meeting was held in the Chamber of Commerce and was supposed to be under the auspices of Republicans who are endeavoring to organize a silver party with Teller as candidate for President. Judge Belford told how the Chinese labor question was the problem twenty years ago, but today the problem was to offset the danger of competition of Japanese manufacturers. The Chinese question was settled, but today the Eastern gold bugs and plutocrats hated the Western people so violently they would rather see the poverty imposed by the threatened invasion of Japanese manufactures than to adopt the policy of the fathers by placing silver on an equality with gold. The speaker said that the danger of a division would come in this government, and the Mississippi River might be the eastern boundary line of a new Western republic. He gave a new description of this new silver republic from British Columbia on the north to the deep water harbor at Galveston on the south, and from the Mississippi River on the east to the Golden Gate on the west. He said 95 per cent of the money that had been voted out of the Treasury of the United States had been voted to build up Eastern interests. The time had come when the West proposed to have something.

THERMOMETER MARKED 275 DEGREES.

Pastor of Trinity Methodist Church Invents a New Scheme to Gauge the Spiritual Temperature.

Strangers who dropped into Trinity Methodist Church on Indiana avenue last night grew nervous and showed an inclination to turn in a 4-11 alarm when they glanced at the thermometer on the front wall and noticed the temperature of that room.

It was 275°.

The strangers wondered whether the janitor was simply burning up the hymn books or whether there was a poor firewall between the church and the buildings next door, which were probably in the grasp of the "fire fiend with his red tongue and lurid glare."

But as the regular members kept their wraps on and showed no alarm the strangers staid the prayer meeting out, though they skillfully maneuvered to keep an open space between themselves and the door.

But it was a spiritual thermometer and had no reference to heat—at least to earthly heat. The thermometer is used to denote the spiritual warmth of the room as shown by the number present. The presence of 100 persons would show that many degrees, which would be "Cold," while 400 on the scale would be "Boiling." The spiritual thermometer was designed by the pastor, the Rev. Frank Crane, for use in the Sunday-school room, but last night it hung in front of the prayer meeting. It is five feet high, and everybody in the room can see whether or not the room has the proper spiritual temperature.

It indicated "Warm" last night, 275°, and the refreshments served after the meeting appropriately consisted of lemon sherbet and cooling drinks.

BETROTHAL RING AND STATION CELL.

Miss Kitty Booz's Engagement Comes to a Sorry End—Result of a Lovers' Quarrel.

Miss Kitty Booz, who hails from Ottumwa, Ia., and who recently has lived at Loomis and Van Buren streets, was locked up in the West Lake Street Police Station last night charged with the larceny of a ring. Her accuser is F. L. Eastman, a clerk in the drug store over which Miss Booz resides. Eastman and the young lady, according to her story, were engaged to be married, and a $150 diamond ring was the pledge of their troth. They had a lovers' quarrel, she says, and Eastman demanded the return of the ring. Unluckily she had mislaid the jewel and did not comply. Hence the complaint and the station cell.

CZAR AT THE GATES.

To Make the Grand Entry Into Moscow Today.

AMERICANS NOW THERE.

Mrs. Potter Palmer Shows an Independent Spirit.

UNIQUE ROYAL SERENADE.

It Is Given by 1,380 Choristers and Musicians.

ALL OF THEM CARRY LANTERNS.

[SPECIAL CABLE BY HENRY W. FISCHER.]

Moscow, May 20.—[Copyrighted, 1896, by the New York Journal.]—Bedraggled brilliancy and dampened display are still the order of the day in Moscow.

The principal interest lies in the constant procession of Oriental potentates and Princes to and from Petrovsky Palace, paying homage to the Czar and Czarina. European Princes mingled their plumes, banners, and splendid uniforms of their guards with the less orderly but more brilliant Oriental pageants.

The Ameer of Bokhara, also the Khan of Khiva, with great suites, all in carriages, each drawn by many horses, went to the palace and held private interviews with the "Little Father" of the Russians and the "Grand White Czar" of the dependent Princes of Asia.

The Ameer wore a Russian General's overcoat, hiding his own peculiar dress. Leaving the Czar's private room he was conducted to the Czarina, who was holding separate court. To her he presented the chief Bokharan order, set in a blazing circlet of great diamonds.

Dozen Foreign Princes.

Altogether nearly a dozen foreign Princes have arrived in the last twenty-four hours, so that the crimson carpet which covered the platform of Smolensk station was scarcely taken up before it was laid down again to be pressed by the sacred feet of new coming royalties. The Grand Dukes Vladimir, Alexius, Sergius, Constantine, Nicholas, and Dimitri Constantinovitch; also their sisters, wives, cousins, and aunts were kept busy riding to the station embracing their foreign cousins with salutes, kisses, and handshakes as each royal train sped in till they must have been fagged out and bored.

Besides the Duke and Duchess of Connaught the Crown Prince of Denmark, Duke Albert of Wurtemburg, the Dukes of Hesse and Baden, Prince Fushimi of Japan, the Ameer of Khan, and the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha were the most important arrivals, while the Princes of Saxony, Naples, and Montenegro are due to arrive before you get this.

Silent Multitudes.

The route traveled by all the nabobs was densely walled by silent human beings, ankle-deep in mud, patient as monuments, and unmindful of the pitiless, cold, slanting rain.

I say silent, because the extraordinary fact is the Russian multitudes saw the incessant procession without the lowest murmur of applause. They bestow shouts and cheers upon the Czar and Czarina whenever seen, but have it not in their hearts to applaud any master except their own.

Next in importance to the crowds were the bodies of troops and scattered soldiers, of whom there are 200,000 now in Moscow. They make a grand spectacle.

The Czar's visit to the great military camp was postponed yesterday not on account of dynamite, as was whispered fearsomely in a myriad of timid beards of the visitors, but solely because of the arrival of the sad news of the death of the Archduke of Austria.

The military bands here have practiced nearly all the national airs in the world to be in readiness for the present week's unparalleled spectacles. They played today the English, Danish, German, Russian, Italian, and Heaven alone knows how many national hymns.

Plans for the Coronation.

Arrangements are now completed for the coronation and are much the same as those made for the last ceremonial thirteen years ago, but are more gorgeous and resplendent.

Twelve steps are to be ascended to the dais, on which stand the thrones, each having an altitude of about five feet. Great officers of state and members of the imperial family will be grouped on or around the steps of the dais. The Metropolitan's throne is at the base and to the right of the pillar facing the iconostos and at a much lower elevation than the imperial dais. On this occasion there will be six Metropolitans present.

Royal and distinguished persons assisting in the grand ceremonial will be accommodated on either side in sloping tribunes and in two galleries or balconies in the back of the cathedral, besides in the courtroom. Only about 500 will be present.

Since the coronation of Ivan the Terrible all the Czars have been crowned in the Uspenski Sabor. This is to be regretted, because if the ceremony were held in the cathedral it would form one of the most gorgeous spectacles possible for the mind to conceive. In the Uspenski Sabor overpowering wealth and glittering magnificence will be cramped in the very narrowest limits, with scarcely room for the movements of the actors in the ceremony.

The Three Cathedrals.

Nearly the whole cathedral close has been raised a couple of feet by a wooden platform, and this is balustraded crosswise so as to form connecting ways between the imperial palace and the three ancient Cathedrals of the Annunciation—St. Michael, Archangel, and the Assumption. In the first the Czars are baptized, in the third they are married and crowned, and in the second they are buried. All these connecting staged ways are covered with crimson cloth and low balustrades ornately decorated with velvet and gold. Admission is now granted to distinguished visitors and special press correspondents.

The coronation is always preceded by a fast and temporary seclusion on the part of the Czar, hence the three days' retreat into which his Majesty retired on his arrival on Monday at Petrovsky Palace.

The Emperor is by no means a passive participant in the act and ceremonial of the coronation, but is the chief actor in the solemn scene. He recites aloud the orthodox confession of faith. Upon his knees he offers intercessory prayers for the Empire of all the Russias. He enters the inner sanctuary and takes bread and wine, of which he partakes with the Metropolitans.

Americans Well Housed.

The Americans who are here to attend the coronation of the Czar are well housed.

I believe there are few persons of royal blood in this city who are in more comfortable quarters than the citizens of the republic.

Mrs. Charles B. Alexander of New York City has engaged one of the most beautiful palaces in the city. Gen. McCook, who represents the United States Government at the coronation, his wife, and daughter are living in the palace with Mrs. Alexander.

Mrs. Potter Palmer, wife of the millionaire hotel proprietor of Chicago, is living in a richly furnished private house. Mrs. Palmer showed her independence by refusing to pay the exorbitant rates charged by the hotel proprietors in this city. I also learned that Mrs. Palmer declined to engaged a four-in-hand because of the enormous charge for it.

MRS. POTTER PALMER.

She will do her riding in an ordinary droschke.

Among the Americans who will witness the coronation of the Czar on the 26th are Minister and Mrs. Breckinridge, Admiral Selfridge and suite, Gen. and Mrs. McCook and daughter, and Mrs. Charles B. Alexander.

The toilets of the American ladies who will be present at the ceremonies are most elaborate. Mrs. McCook will wear a décolleté gown of white satin, trimmed with old lace, tulle, and passementerie. Her long train will be of brocade with silver embroidery, and her ornaments will be diamonds. Her court ball costume will be of white rare lace, trimmed with passementerie in semi-train.

Miss McCook will also wear white satin, the plain skirt embroidered with cherry blossoms.

Mrs. Charles B. Alexander's gown will be of white satin, the whole front of the skirt being covered with diamonds and rhine stones. Her train will be of white brocade, and her ornaments will be diamonds.

Great Day for the Germans.

This was a great day for the Germans in Moscow. Prince Henry of Prussia gave a dinner to most of his countrymen in this city.

The German Liedertafel, reinforced by 2,000 Russian singers and members of opera companies, serenaded the Czar and Czarina tonight. Each singer was admitted to the castle yard by card, and all the societies carried illuminated banners. They sang songs by Shubert and Kreutzer, and a selection from the "Tannhäuser."

The Czar made a short address of thanks, speaking in German.

The Czar and Czarina will tomorrow make a triumphal entry into this city, and will proceed direct to the Cathedral of the Assumption in the Kremlin, where a te Deum will be sung. The royal pair will then visit the Kremlin Cathedrals of the Annunciation and of Michael the Archangel.

The Czar and Czarina will receive the foreign Ambassadors tomorrow and Friday.

TO MAKE THE GRAND ENTRY TODAY.

Czar to Emerge from His Three Days of Retirement.

Moscow, May 20.—The rain, which had been persistently falling ever since the Czar and Czarina arrived here on Monday, has ceased this evening, and there is promise of fine weather for tomorrow's state entry into Moscow.

This is the occasion of the triumphal progress along the Tverskaia street from the Petrovsky Palace to the Kremlin, for which preparations have been made on a larger scale than for any other event of the coronation festivities.

The decorations of the city will be at their best tomorrow. The occasion will witness the culmination of the competition which has raged for months to secure reserved positions along the line of progress. The street is lined with the official pavilions and with roomy grand stands, and it is proposed to allow a little more latitude than usual to the people on the streets.

Program of the Day.

The Czar and Czarina will attend a Te Deum at the Uspensky Cathedral and will then visit the Archangel and Blagovestchensk Cathedrals, where they will venerate the sacred relics and icons and offer up prayer at the tombs of their imperial ancestors. The interesting ceremony of the visit of the Czar and Czarina to the shrine of the Iberian Madonna, the most sacred of the icons in Moscow, and which is placed between the double archway of the gate of the Kremlin, will take place upon the entry into the Kremlin.

After the day's ceremonies the Czar and Czarina will go to the Alexandrinsky Palace, there to remain until next Monday, when there is to be a grand review of troops and the consecration of the imperial standard.

The most notable arrival today, although it was entirely without ostentation, was that of the dowager Czarina. She was received privately at the station by the Czar and Czarina.

Grand Display by France.

The French mission also arrived today. Great preparation has been made to have the French representation at the coronation on a scale suitable to Russia's nearest ally among the nations. Two of the largest noblemen's palaces in Moscow have been rented and refitted in the costliest manner by France especially for the coronation. Here the French Ambassador will give a ball during the festivities, which is to be attended by the Czar and Czarina. The sum set aside for the supper alone is $70,000. Orders were long ago placed in Morocco, Algiers, and along the Riviera for the choicest fruits, vegetables, and flowers that the season affords, all of which are on their way here especially for the Ambassador's ball.

The French Ambassador will ride in the procession tomorrow in the ornate state chariot of Louis XV., which comes from the Musée de Cluny in Paris, with trappings for horses and liveries for postillions and footmen on a corresponding scale of magnificence.

Demonstrations of Welcome.

The Crown Prince Constantine of Greece, Duke of Sparta, and Prince and Princess Ferdinand of Bulgaria arrived during the day and were received at the station, as was the French Ambassador, by members of the imperial family and by guards of honor. There were vast gatherings of people to witness these receptions and to add their demonstrations of welcome.

The city is filled with as many people as it will hold, and everywhere are dense crowds, so that the streets are almost impassable. Many among the groups that pass wonder no more at what they see than they cause those to wonder who see their unfamiliar costumes and features.

A grand serenade was given tonight in the court-yard of the Potrovsky Palace by the combined choirs and orchestras in the city, numbering 1,380 members, and comprising the choruses of the Imperial Theater.

The Czar and Czarina listened to the music from the balcony of the palace and warmly applauded the performance. The musicians carried lanterns, thus giving picturesqueness to the scene.

Vast Multitude Listens.

The serenade in the courtyard of the Petrovsky Palace was listened to with rapturous applause by a vast multitude until 11 o'clock at night. Not only was it a delight to the ears, but also to the eyes. Each singer carried a long pastoral staff, pendant from which were lights in tinted globes, giving a charming effect. As the darkness deepened colored fires were lighted on the ground, which threw their glowing hues upon singers and spectators alike, besides illuminating the surrounding buildings.

A special effect was made with a beautiful composition, unaccompanied by the instruments, entitled "Night."

HONORS FOR THE FRENCH EMBASSY.

Grand Duke Vladimir and the Paulovki Regiment Receive Them.

London, May 20.—The Moscow correspondent of the Times says:

"The crowds now seemed so bewildered by the number and variety of the foreign visitors that there was no apparent recognition and no cheering for their particular friends from Paris, the French mission to the coronation, which arrived during the day."

The Standard's correspondent says:

"Special emphasis was given to the reception today of the French Embassy. The Grand Duke Vladimir was on the platform to meet them and they were accorded the extra distinction of a guard of honor, which has never before been granted except to members of royal families. The guard was composed of a company of the Pauloviki Regiment, which presented a singular appearance. They wear a curious headgear with a brass frontal ornament, resembling closely that worn by the British Grenadiers depicted by Hogarth. The band played the 'Marseillaise' as the train arrived. A crowd of general officers was on the platform, including Gen. Dragomirof. The French officers all wore the cross of the Legion of Honor, and each was presented to the Grand Duke Vladimir by M. Boisdeffre, the head of the mission."

MULTITUDES THRONG IN THE MUD.

Jam of People Makes It Impossible to Walk in the Streets.

London, May 20.—The dispatch from Moscow to the Standard says: "To the joy of the multitude the weather is finer than for a week past. Half the people are engaged in decorating their houses and the other half in watching the process. It is now hopeless to expect that the accumulation of deep mud in the streets can dry or be removed, but a continuation of the fine weather will make the general aspect brilliant and such as will repay the citizens for their expense and trouble.

"Every train and countless vehicles bring crowds of sightseers from every town and village within a circle of 200 miles around. Where the multitude is to sleep is an insoluble problem."

The Daily Telegraph's Moscow dispatch says: "Some of the peasants have made a pilgrimage of over 1,000 miles on foot, with only a capacious wallet and a stout staff, in order to get a glimpse of the Czar and to help make a Russian holiday.

"Tens of thousands of little lamps of all the colors of the rainbow were lighted today to test their efficiency, this being the first instance of the use of electricity here for illumination. It has taken seven Russian artists, each of whom has received a diploma from the Imperial Academy, to decorate Moscow with towers, pavilions, arches, etc.

"The classification of guests has been a still harder problem. The King of Servia made every effort to obtain permission to attend, but it was impossible, as, being a King, he would have taken precedence of all other envoys, none of whom, except Queen Olga of Greece (who is a Grand Duchess of Russia and a cousin of the late Czar), is a reigning monarch of equal rank.

"It is impossible to walk any of the principal streets without getting crushed almost to a jelly. I tried to enter the Kremlin tonight without a ticket, but in vain.

"The public is carefully excluded.

"The shops are shut and all Moscow has turned out in holiday attire. The bells are ringing and the people are chatting and laughing joyously. It is one of the rarest and most marvelous scenes conceivable."

NO SENTENCES UNTIL NEXT WEEK.

Principal Reformers Will Not Be Executed—Their Fate Is Unknown.

Pretoria, May 20.—The sentences of the leaders of the Johannesburg reformers, it was announced today, will stand over until next week, and in the meanwhile sentences of fifteen years' imprisonment have been substituted for the sentences of death imposed on Col. Rhodes, John Hays Hammond, Lionel Phillips, and George Farrar. Nine others of the prisoners have been discharged, eighteen are sentenced to five months' imprisonmnt, and twenty-two are sentenced to three months' imprisonment.

London, May 20.—It was rumored on the Stock Exchange today all the reform prisoners are to be released unconditionally.

Another private dispatch received from Pretoria today says that President Kruger has pardoned the fifty-nine prisoners who were condemned to imprisonment and banishment and to pay a fine of $10,000 each.

No mention is made of the further commutation of the sentences of Col. Rhodes and Messrs. Hammond, Phillips, and Farrar.

An official dispatch received here from Pretoria gives the names of the reform prisoners who have been liberated, as follows: Messrs. Mosenthal, Roger, Dubois, King, Butters, Brodie, Joel, Davis, and Mien.

Those to be liberated in three months are: Davies, Hanson, Heller, Mullens, Bell, Solomon, Garland, Lingham, Gilfillian, Brown, Beecher, Spencer, Williams, Anderson, Head, Buckland, Goldring, Hutchinson, Rogers, Bettleheim, Lace, and Van Hulsmeyer.

Those who will have their cases considered five months hence are: Carr, Niven, Lawley, Clement, Fricker, Strange, Goddard, Bailey, Aurat, Dundar, Bettington, Hoskin, Hangerman, Richards, Leonard, Tremeer, Donaldson, and Marshall.

Those whose cases will not be considered for a year are: Fitzpatrick, Sandilands, Jameson, and Hamilton.

The following did not sign the petition to have their sentences of imprisonment commuted to fines and their penalties, therefore, are not modified: Hall, Sower, Samson, and Nawes.

A dispatch has been received from Gov. Sir Hercules Robinson which says that one portion of the prisoners will be released immediately and another portion in three months. A third portion of the prisoners will have their cases considered and passed upon after five months and a fourth portion after one year.

STORMS OFF THE COAST OF ENGLAND

Vessel Driven Ashore and Much Loss of Life Is Feared.

London, May 20.—Violent gales have prevailed along all the coasts and the shipping at Hull has suffered considerably.

A large vessel was driven ashore near Port Patrick, Scotland, this morning.

It is feared there has been great loss of life.

The official celebration of the Queen's birthday, which occurs on Sunday, took place today throughout the country and the empire in general. On the parade ground of the Horse Guards there was the usual attractive ceremony of trooping the colors, and it was witnessed by a large crowd of distinguished people, including the Prince and Princess of Wales, the Duke and Duchess of York, Prince and Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, the Duke of Cambridge, Prince Charles of Denmark, and the Commander-in-Chief, Lord Wolseley. Her Majesty was born on May 24, 1819.

The attractiveness of the trooping of the colors here was marred by some lively rain showers.

There were the usual Queen's birthday observances at all the garrison towns and naval stations.

PARNELLITE FACTIONS MAY UNITE.

Dillon Makes Overtures to Redmond to Join Hands for Ireland.

London, May 20.—A meeting of anti-Parnellites was held today, at which a resolution was adopted looking to a reorganization of the factions of the Irish party for the purpose of promoting the home rule interests. It is said tonight that John Redmond will not accept the overtures of John Dillon unless the anti-Parnellites renounce the Liberal alliance.

MRS. HILL WAS ZEREGA'S WIFE.

Dead Woman Disappeared from the Professor's Home in London.

[SPECIAL CABLE BY JULIAN RALPH.]

London, May 20.—[Copyrighted, 1896, by the New York Journal.]—Further inquiries respecting Mrs. Hill indicate the unfortunate woman was the wife of Señor Eduardo Zerega, whom I described yesterday.

Zerega, who is a Spaniard, is a distinguished professor of the guitar and mandolin. Three years ago he took a house in Brompton road, where he now resides. He is an exemplary tenant. He always lived most happily with his wife, and he had two children, a boy and a girl, aged 15 and 9 years respectively. The Señor, his wife, and children formed a guitar and mandolin band last summer and traveled to various places on the South coast giving performances. They appeared before the Queen at Osborne and visited the United States. They returned to Brompton road in the middle of February, when things went on smoothly.

About three years later Mme. Zerega went out one morning. This was the last seen of her by any one. Last week Zerega received a cable from New York by which he became acquainted with the death of his wife.

The sudden departure of madame was shrouded in mystery. Her relatives and friends scout the idea that she contracted any liason. Zerega is a busy man. He is spoken of highly in the neighborhod.

CHANDELIER FALLS IN A THEATER.

Kills a Woman in a Box and Injures Several Others.

Paris, May 20.—During a performance at Helle Opera-House the heavy counterpiece of the big chandelier broke and crashed through the ceiling into a box, where it killed one woman and injured several other people. The audience were almost in a panic when the manager went upon the stage, explained the situation, and reassured the people.

THE KREMLIN AT MOSCOW, WHERE THE CORONATION OF THE CZAR IS TO TAKE PLACE.

STRIKERS BUYING MANY OMNIBUSES.

Milwaukee Street Car Men Expect to Win by Reducing the Company's Earnings.

Janesville, Wis., May 20.—[Special.]—The Milwaukee street car strikers have adopted new tactics in their fight with the company.

Agents have been sent to all the cities about Milwaukee and even as far south as Rockford, Ill., to secure omnibuses and carryalls to be used in the opposition lines. P. Abraham, one of the strikers, was here today and secured four large carryalls, which were shipped to Milwaukee this afternoon. The next move will be to provide horses to haul the conveyances.

Abraham said that public sentiment was all with the strikers and that they would win, because of the consequent curtailing of the company's income, as the expenses were increasing daily.

Cleveland, O., May 20.—One thousand men who have been idle for the last ten days as a result of the strike at the shipyards of the Globe Iron company returned to work today. The company submitted a proposition offering a substantial advance in wages and after a long and heated discussion the men voted by a small majority to return to work on condition that all hands be taken back.

Kansas City, Mo., May 20.—The striking firemen of the Armour packing plant who went out May 6 for increased wages and fewer hours compromised their differences today, lifted the boycott against the company's meat, and will return to work tomorrow morning. The thousand or more employés in different departments of the plant who were laid off because of lack of work will also be reinstated.

Detroit, Mich., May 20.—The second day's session of the convention of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers was devoted to matters pertaining to particular unions and to proposed changes in the constitution and by-laws. The delegates will, it is said, instruct its conference committee to accept no reduction in the 1895-'96 scale, and as far as can be learned there will be a slight advance in two departments.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 20.—[Special.]—The committee representing the union carpenters has issued a general appeal to all carpenter workers in Milwaukee to join the various unions and to take a decided stand for the general betterment of their condition. It is claimed that carpenters are compelled to work at 12½ cents an hour, though four years ago, they say, they received 27½ cents an hour. The carpenters receive sometimes $1.25 to $1.50 a day for ten hours' work, while the ordinary day laborers of the city receive $1.50 for eight hours' work. A general strike of the carpenters is talked of for the near future.

MILLERS SCORE MEMBERS OF CONGRESS

They Demand the Restoration of Commercial Treaties and the Readoption of the Reciprocity Idea.

Cleveland, O., May 20.—The fourth annual convention of the Winter Wheat Millers' League was held here today. Seventy-five millers were present, chiefly representing Ohio, Indiana, and Kentucky. Several papers were read.

Resolutions were adopted, the preamble of which recites the fact that the House of Representatives has failed to enact a measure favorable to the restoration of reciprocity; that the Ways and Means committee has proclaimed the inadvisability of enacting the reciprocity bill of Congressman Kerr; and that the flour milling industry, acknowledged the greatest in the land, in amount of capital involved and value of annual product, has suffered untold loss of trade by the withdrawal of commerical treaties following the repeal of the McKinley law and must continue to suffer much loss until reciprocity is restored.

"Therefore, it is resolved that the Winter Wheat Millers' League, expressing upon this subject the sentiment of the entire milling industry, asserts its belief that the duty of the House is imperative along the lines of the legislation proposed, and that to further delay a public expression of all its members by means of a bill or a resolution committing the majority to a decisive position on this great subject is trifling with the pledges of Representatives in Congress and will further prostrate the milling and agricultural interests of the land."

A resolution was also adopted condemning the new export bill of lading.

STATE DOCTORS CONFER TOGETHER.

So-Called Expert Medical Testimony Is Roundly Denounced.

Ottawa, Ill., May 20.—[Special.]—The second day's session of the Illinois State Medical Society was attended by over 600 members of the association.

Dr. Harold N. Moyer of Chicago delivered an address on medical legislation in Illinois and in his remarks said that the laws in Illinois were too loose and indefinite to protect the people against frauds committed daily by traveling specialists. He denounced medical expert testimony in the courts, saying that physicians during the present day could be hired for a nominal sum to give testimony in support or against any case. In this particular he suggested that the courts appoint a physician in every district, whose duty it would be to give medical expert testimony in litigations.

Papers were read by Dr. John A. Pierce of Springfield, Dr. John B. Delee of Chicago, Dr. J. E. Sutton of Canton, and Dr. Emma B. Standley of Alexis.

SCRIBES DINE AND TALK.

KNIGHTS OF THE QUILL ABOUT THE FESTAL BOARD.

Third Annual Banquet of the Associated Press—Feast of Reason, Flow of Soul, and a Sumptuous Spread—Toasts to the Departed Drunk in Silence—Speeches by Men Famed in Journalism and in Other Walks of Life.

The third annual banquet of the Associated Press was held last night in the main banquet hall at Kinsley's. The walls of the chamber were tastefully decorated with Persian tapestries. The tables were arranged in the form of an open square, with a central extension from the President's seat down the open space. Flowers in profusion beautified the tables, and imitations in smilax of telegraph wires made the circuit of the board, suspended from floral imitations of poles whose bases rested on the tables.

On the ringing of an immense dinner bell the 108 guests fell into line in the reception-room, and, headed by President Victor Lawson and Joseph Medill, marched into the banquet hall. With a brief address of welcome President Lawson requested the guests to fall to.

While the banquet was in progress a copy was laid before each of the feasters of Joseph Medill's speech last winter before the Old-Time Printers' Association of Chicago, which was really a history by Mr. Medill of the old American statesman and philosopher, Benjamin Franklin.

Toasts to the Departed.

Just at the end of the dinner Mr. Stone requested the attention of the company and said:

"Mr. President, a year ago at the banquet table the members drank the health of a distinguished lady member of the Associated Press. Within the year that lady has joined the majority, and I ask that we rise now and drink to the memory of Mrs. Nicholson of the New Orleans Picayune." In accordance with the request the guests rose and drank to the memory of their late associate.

Immediately after the company took their seats President Lawson offered a toast to the memory of Col. John A. Cockerill. After the toast was drunk, in silence and standing, the guests resumed their seats and the quartet sang "The Vacant Chair."

After that President Lawson introduced the toastmaster of the evening, Maj. Moses P. Handy, who introduced Charles Emory Smith as the first speaker of the evening.

Charles Emory Smith.

Mr. Smith said in part:

"Today the eyes of the entire world are fixed upon that ancient capital where are gathered the potentates of the world with their representatives, within the stately walls of the Kremlin, within that ancient palace where Peter the Great began his career, where the coronet is to be placed upon the brow of this young monarch. And we stand here as the representatives of a system which is the precise reverse of that, as the representatives of an organization which is based upon the principle of complete democracy, a democracy of our country, and a democracy of the Associated Press, where every man is the peer of his associates; where all stand upon the same footing of equality; where all are equally proprietors of the great franchise possessed by this association, the greatest of all news franchises, the greatest of all prerogatives: that of gathering the news of the entire world and of sharing that news as our own individual right. [Applause.]

Joseph Medill's Speech.

The next speaker was Joseph Medill of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, whose address was as follows:

"Taking all things into consideration I find myself constrained to assume the rôle of a reminiscent. I am, unfortunately, in years and journalistic service the senior of most of the profession around me. And as I do not wish to discuss any of the topics which you come here to consider I will confine my remarks to the earlier phases of progressive newspapers and news gathering, which began near the middle of this century. Previous to that time newspapers contained little but Congressional speeches, clippings from exchanges, and tedious editorials.

"The main business which your convention has performed pertained to telegraphy; to obtaining, receiving, and publishing the daily news of the world in the journals of this country, transmitted from the sources of information by wire. The medium employed for conveying it is called electricity. What this subtle element is composed of I shall not stop to discuss, chiefly because I don't know.

"Dr. Franklin found by a dangerous experiment that it was identical with the lightning that flashed from the clouds, killed men, rended oaks, and set fire to human habitations. But this mysterious substance or mode of force was harnessed by Morse fifty-two years ago for the use of mankind.

"With the advent of the Morse telegraph began the evolution of American journalism, in the collection and transmission of news. Previously there had been an improvement from postboy, saddlebags, and horse to stage coach in the days of Postmaster General Ben Franklin of 150 years ago, to the steamboat of Robert Fulton of eighty years ago, and thence to the railway car, which got only fairly started in its competition with the stage coach when electricity sped by it like a flash of light, bearing the news of the day on its wings.

"The postboy and the stage coach still plod along on out-of-the-way roads and bypaths. The steamboats and ships and railway cars distribute the newspapers containing the lightning's collection of the whole world's transactions and new thoughts up to the hour—almost to the minute—of going to press at the speed of 50,000 copies an hour on some of the presses, folded and counted.

"This, in brief, is what I call the evolution of the press in newsgathering and distribution during the last fifty years. And there is no example or evidence of the truth of the theory of evolution more striking or remarkable than the progress of the science of electricity as applied to the collection of intelligence from all parts of the earth, in time consuming only seconds, from the antipodes to the linotype operator. A few minutes later it is locked up, stereotyped, impressed on sheets at the speed of 1,000 copies a minute per press. A few brief minutes later that same news, hot from the wires and the press, is sent flying over the country at a mile a minute to a thousand distributing points from the city center of collection and distribution.

"All this has taken place in my time. I was just entering on journalism—trying my 'prentice hand' on an Ohio weekly in the Muskingum Valley—when the Morse wires came, strung along on poles from Cleveland and Pittsburg. Their starting place was New York and Philadelphia. This happened at the time Gen. Zach Taylor was contesting for possession of the White House with Lewis Cass in '48, and he got there. Four years after Morse stretched his wire from Washington to Baltimore, and Clay was running the Presidential race with Polk and failed to cross under the wire ahead.

Due to Morse's Invention.

"How little the journalists of the years closing the first half of the century imagined or suspected the revolution in newsgathering Morse's invention would cause before the end of the second half of the century! The present generation of publishers can hardly realize the change and development in newspaper business the use of electricity has brought about. They found the strong current whisking along the wires in silence when they came into the business, and they knew of it from childhood, and have been enveloped in it ever since, and therefore they are not specially surprised at what it is doing. They are merely watching rather languidly the competition going on between the telegraph and the telephone—or the transmission of ideas and news by signs and sounds addressed to the eye or the ear.

"But the publishers of the preceding generation whose memories reach back and beyond Morse's demonstration of what electricity was capable of doing, still regard it as a marvel as they reflect on the preceding methods of procuring fresh news for their papers. In those days no Puck had put a girdle round the earth in forty seconds, as Shakspeare seemed to dream might some time happen.

"The newspapers were filled with descriptions of the Morse telegraph when it was first introduced, but the mass of readers could not comprehend how it worked. I often heard people ask how it was possible for the lightning to get past the telegraph poles and not run down into the ground; and when it thundered how the operators could play the ticker without being killed by lightning striking the wire. Others could not comprehend how the 'electric fluid' could make marks at the other end of the line without shocking every one in the room. The whole thing at first was an X ray puzzle to the public, and old men still smile when they think of those times and the mystification the new invention occasioned."

Importance of the Wires.

"The importance of electrical transmission of news to the daily papers so greatly transcends all other interests of the profession that it alone requires an active organization of the members of the press for mutual benefit and protection. It is the consideration of this business which has brought you all here today—many of you from distant cities. You come to hear the annual report read, and to consider the affairs of the association, its income and outlay; its relations to the news collecting business, and to hear suggestions as to how the collection of the news at home and abroad may be made more perfect.

"The New York newspapers formed an association for the collection, sale, and distribution of news obtained by telegraphic means just as soon as the Morse wires were extended to the adjacent cities. They hired the transmission of a certain number of words per day from various points of collection to New York, and an agent of theirs, D. H. Craig, made up a news report therefrom, and sold it to as many outside newspapers as could afford to pay the price charged for it and telegraph tolls for carrying it to them. That was the first of the Associated Press business. Mr. Craig was the boss and dictator. He had a short and effectual way of enforcing discipline and maintaining his authority. If any of us grumbled at the lateness of receiving his news, or its quality, or talked back to his autocracy, he cut us off, stopped our news, and after we had begged his pardon and promised never to repeat our offense, he would let up, but fine us to the amount of the cost of the news if we had received it.

"When I embarked in publishing a morning daily paper in Cleveland in 1852, I found the Craig rule sharply enforced, including one which cut off any paper which became delinquent in paying its bills for the telegraph news. I was sometimes more bothered in obeying the last named rule than any of the others. When advertisers were slow in paying their bills I had to 'shin round' for the money with which to pay Craig, for to go to press without his news, thin and scanty as it was, would be to go broke and suspend publication, hence I had to hasten sometimes to keep my credit good with the autocrat. But there were other publishers in Ohio who also found it inconvenient to obey all of Craig's rules, especially the pecuniary one. But I must not be too severe on the New York Associated Press agent, for at the time of the first serious quarrel of the Western press with that of New York he did us great and useful service. The history of it may be found among the records of the Western Press Association, or you can find it out by inquiring of Richard Smith or Murat Halstead, then publishing the Cincinnati Gazette and Cincinnati Commercial, or your humble servant, if found with humor to relate the particulars of that 'war.'

Western Men in Revolt.

"The Western newspapers grew more dissatisfied each year with the telegraph press service, the country news, its high cost, and the arbitrary treatment they were subject to, and at last called a conference meeting of the publishers of half a dozen Western States at Indianapolis. We formed an organization under the name of the Western Associated Press and adopted some rules which would not disturb the Associated Press of New York or arouse the suspicion of its amiable agent. A committee was appointed to visit New York, and Gen. Anson Stager, General Western Telegraph Agent, went along to help us. We succeeded in being allowed to put the news agent into the New York Associated Press office with authority to make up and send a 300-word extra dispatch to the afternoon papers and a 1,000-word message, to be put on the wires after 10 p. m., for the morning papers. It was called the midnight dispatch, and was published in an extra edition. We secured it at low tolls. The extra day dispatch was comparatively expensive, as its wires were occupied at that time on commercial business.

"The next year we met again, perhaps at Cincinnati, and again managed to obtain further concessions and more telegraphic news from New York. The third year we met in Cleveland, the fourth in Louisville, the fifth in Chicago, the sixth in Detroit, and thus we itinerated or boarded around until we settled down in an official headquarters—Detroit—under a regular charter and by-laws for twenty years. We asked the New York association to recognize our separate organization and sell and exchange news with us, which that organization refused to do. We then declared our independence, had a war, and won out. The New York Association conceded most of our demands and formed an alliance with us. We had some subsequent disputes, but not of serious character until the present one.

"First and last I served on the Board of Directors and on the Executive committee and as President of the association about twenty years. Growing weary of the duties and finding a new generation of journalists growing up around I concluded, as I had enjoyed all the honors and had passed the chair, to retire from active service in the great association. All its subsequent doings and history you gentlemen are more familiar with than I am, and therefore it requires no recapitulation. As the organization has grown powerful and is managed by able, capable, and experienced journalists it needs no advice or counsel from me, and hence I offer none, except that, when you make peace with your rival organization, let it be with honor and full equality of rights. Such a peace will be lasting, and will never be broken for technical or trivial reasons."

Mr. Russell and Mr. Estabrook.

Sol Smith Russell was then introduced and told a series of stories which brought out great applause. He was followed by H. D. Estabrook of Omaha, who had the following, in part, to say:

"When Benjamin Franklin, that patron saint of American journalists, whose heroic statue, the gift of a Chicago journalist, is soon to be unveiled in one of your parks—when Franklin, I say, flew his kite, and felt the lightning thrilling along his kite string and tingling in his finger-tips, did he dream of the electric telegraph, the Atlantic cable, or the telephone? When Gutenberg looked at the first impression taken from his movable types, did he dream of the modern newspaper or the Associated Press? Yet Franklin was what he was, because Gutenberg did what he did.

"Now, the millions of newspapers which hourly flutter from the press are not only the original manuscript multiplied by millions, but every newspaper is in itself a new original, from which millions of other originals may be ushered into being. A thought once published is a unit with the fecundity of the infinite. Talk about a censorship of the press—of arraigning the sword aganist the pen. Never again. For weal or woe the pen henceforth is to be the maker of our laws and the arbiter of our destinies."

Man from Boston Talks.

Stephen O'Meara of the Boston Journal said: "I am in Chicago the first time for two years. That may seem almost impossible to a Chicago man, but it is true. In company with two unsophisticated New-Yorkers I took a walk on Michigan avenue, and we were fairly startled with the brilliancy and variety of the bicycle costumes worn by the ladies of Chicago. [Laughter.] Both were hardened wheelmen themselves, and yet before they had gone half a block they hid their eyes and begged to be led back to their rooms. [Laughter.] I came to Chicago at 9 o'clock this morning, and it was lucky that I was introduced as from Boston rather than from Ohio, because I had captured an office before 4 o'clock in the afternoon. [Laughter.] I have congratulated myself ever since I have seen the gorgeousness combined with good taste which has marked this banquet that the Eastern members did their share of entertaining last year and that it will be three years before the Eastern members will again be called upon to rival this display."

BUSINESS MEETING IN THE MORNING.

Report of Board of Directors Shows Good Conditions.

The annual meeting of the Associated Press was held yesterday morning in Recital Hall, Auditorium Building, President Victor F. Lawson in the chair. The attendance was large.

The report of the Board of Directors for the year ending Dec. 31, 1895, was presented. It showed that the membership had grown from 381 to 418, and the stockholders had increased from 124 to 138. The present membership is 458 and the number of stockholders 140. The finances had been brought to a most satisfactory condition. The revenues had been steadily maintained at their maximum, while the expenses had been reduced. The monthly margin of excess of receipts over expenses had not only been maintained since the last quarter of 1895, but had more than doubled in amount. As a result a dividend of 10 per cent of the principal of the advances on the guarantee fund had been paid. The board congratulated the membership on the great progress made during the year toward the accomplishment of the original and proper purpose of the Associated Press—the control and administration of the news gathering and distributing business of the country by the newspapers of the country.

The following new directors were unanimously elected:

For three years—Albert J. Barr, Pittsburg Post; L. Markbrite, Cincinnati Volksfreund, vice E. H. Purdue, who declined a reelection; Stephen O'Meara, Boston Journal.

One year—John Norris, New York World.

A resolution was unanimously adopted thanking E. H. Purdue and J. S. Scripps, retiring directors, for diligent, faithful, and intelligent discharge of their duties. A resolution was also adopted by a rising vote expressing the great sorrow of the association at the death of Col. John Cockerill.

Gen. Felix Agnus offered a resolution, which was unanimously adopted, recording appreciation of the intelligent services of the directors in behalf of the association, and especially of its President, Victor F. Lawson.

The following Advisory Boards were elected:

Eastern Division—P. C. Boyle, Oil City Derrick; Arthur Jenkins, Syracuse Herald; A. P. Langtry, Springfield Union; Foster Coates, New York Commercial Advertiser; James Elverson Jr., Philadelphia Inquirer.

Central Division—D. M. Houser, St. Louis Globe-Democrat; A. Howard Hinkle, Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette; Harry S. New, Indianapolis Journal; George Thompson, St. Paul Dispatch; E. Rosewater, Omaha Bee.

Southern Division—A. S. Ochs, Chattanooga Times; G. H. Baskette, Nashville Banner; A. B. Pickett, Memphis Scimitar; Page M. Baker, New Orleans Times-Democrat; H. H. Cabaniss, Atlanta Journal.

Western Division—R. C. Campbell, Rocky Mountain News; James G. Hoge Jr., Seattle Post-Intelligencer; Hugh Hume, San Francisco Post; W. H. Mills, Sacramento Record-Union; H. W. Scott, Portland Oregonian.

SAY IT IS NOT A FLOUR TRUST.

First Annual Meeting of the North American Milling Company Is Held.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 20.—The North American Milling company held its first annual meeting at the West Hotel this afternoon with about forty of the stockholders present, mostly from Northwestern points. The reports of the Secretary, Treasurer, Auditor, and manager were read and the plans of the association discussed. Directors were elected, but as a quorum of the new board was not present new officers were not elected. They reiterated their denial that a flour trust had been formed or was in contemplation.

WEST SIDE IN DARKNESS.

POOR SERVICE OF THE CITY'S ELECTRIC LIGHTING SYSTEM.

Current Shut Off When Most Needed and Turned On After Intervals of Hours—Complaints of Business-Men in Halsted, Van Buren, and Madison Streets—Demand a Remedying of the Difficulty—Power-House Engineer's Statement.

West Side business-men, especially those who have stores on Halsted street, Van Buren street, and Madison street west of Halsted, are disgusted at the failure of the city electric lighting system in that division of the city. Twice within a week the lights have been extinguished for several hours during the evening.

Last Tuesday night all the lights controlled from the station at Blue Island avenue and Halsted street were suddenly extinguished at 11 o'clock and not relighted until 2 o'clock—three hours later. Almost the same failure of the lights in the same territory was noted two nights before, and the impression prevails among business-men on the West Side that radical changes are necessary somewhere.

Business-Men Protest.

Following are some complaints made by business-men yesterday in response to questions asked them:

J. L. Morris, stove merchant, Desplaines and Randolph streets—"I have made no complaint. I thought it was useless. Two months ago the light pole on one corner was broken by a teamster. City electricians disconnected the wires and the pole has been out there on our sidewalk since. It is apparently unfit for use when in regular service, but I guess they have concluded not to put it up again. This is a busy intersection and the lights are badly needed. I think a remedy is possible and think it should be forthcoming."

John Heiland, druggist, Desplaines and Madison streets—"We have noticed the failure of the city lights twice within the last seven days. It is such a common thing we pay no especial attention to it. Yes, our corner is made very dark without the lights and crossing the cable car tracks is made doubly dangerous. It is an impediment to business and it seems to me the trouble could be avoided."

Some Independent Plants.

Many of the big business houses between Desplaines and Halsted streets on Madison have their own electric lighting system in operation up to midnight and do not notice the failure of the city lights. These made no complaint.

At George F. Wisshach's drug store, Halsted and Madison streets, the proprietor said: "Yes, there is a city light on our corner, and as our store is open all night we always notice the failure of the lamp. It gets out of order a great deal and I frequently go out and look up and down the street in order to find if it is the only lamp out or whether the whole circuit is out. I have noticed the lamps being out on Madison street twice during the last week. We miss the lights very much at this intersection after midnight. Whatever the defect may be I think it should be remedied."

At Simon's dry goods store, No. 100 Halsted street, corner of Monroe, one of the firm said: "We have noticed the failure of the lights on Halsted street twice during the last week, but our lights at this intersection are so bad we are not surprised that others make complaint. THE TRIBUNE is doing a good thing in taking the matter up. Business-men of Halsted street will welcome a remedy."

J. F. Best, manager for the Overdier company, No. 126 Halsted street—"We know the service is bad and would welcome some relief."

C. F. Noll, druggist, Adams and Halsted streets—"I have noticed the bad service, especially during the week. Halsted street merchants would be glad of some relief."

Engineer's Statement.

At the light station, Halsted street, near Harrison, the engineer said the interruption to the lights Tuesday night was caused by the breaking of a valve rod on the engine, and that the current was turned on again at 1:30 o'clock. He explained there was another engine in the house, but it was undergoing repairs and no shift could be made.

INDICTED BANK OFFICIALS ARRESTED.

Federal Authorities Refuse to Talk of the Alleged Charges Against O. E. Miller of Chicago.

Denver, Colo., May 20.—C. H. Dow, President of the Commercial National Bank, which failed in the panic of 1893, was arrested here today on indictments charging him with misappropriation of funds of the bank and making false reports to the government. He was released under $5,000 bail.

Sidney B. McClurkin, paying teller of the bank, indicted with Dow, was arrested this afternoon at Colorado Springs.

It is said that O. E. Miller of Chicago, who obtained $145,000 from the Commercial Bank on almost worthless securities, has also been indicted, but the Federal authorities refuse to talk about the matter. Miller is an intimate friend of Dow.

WISCONSIN VETERANS AT RACINE.

Number of G. A. R. Members in the State Is Reduced to 11,631.

Racine, Wis., May 20.—[Special.]—Gayly decorated streets, business houses, and residences greeted the Wisconsin veterans of the late war when they assembled here this morning to take part in the thirtieth annual department encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Department Commander William D. Hoard of Fort Atkinson called the convention to order at 10 o'clock and delivered his annual address. He referred to the rapid falling off of membership through death and suspension, which has been greater the last year than in any previous year in the history of the organization.

Alluding to pensions the commander said: "The uncalled for and in many respects heartless attitude assumed by the present national administration toward the pensioners calls for language of severe reprobation."

Assistant Adjutant-General S. H. Talmage read his report, which showed there are 11,631 members of the Grand Army in good standing in the State. The total loss during the year was 1,657, and the net loss 760. Of these there were 232 by death, 115 honorably discharged, 152 transfers, 1,150 suspensions, and 8 dishonorably discharged. The number of posts in the State is 274.

ATTACHED FOR ADVANCES ON GOODS.

Action for $168,000 Against the Goodridge Rubber Company.

New York, May 20.—Dresser & Goodridge, commission merchants of this city, have attached the Goodridge Rubber company of Newport, R. I., for $168,000. Dresser & Goodridge have only a slight interest in the company, but have from time to time made advances of money on goods manufactured and sold.

Good Blood

Is essential to health. This is true from the very nature of the human body. The blood is the circulating fluid which carries nourishment to all the organs. The health of the body, the strength of the nerves depend upon the quality of the blood with which the nerves and other organs are supplied. Good blood means strong nerves, good digestion, robust health. The surest way to have good blood is to take Hood's Sarsaparilla. This medicine possesses exactly those qualities which enable the blood to carry health to every nerve, organ, and tissue. It creates a good appetite, gives refreshing sleep, and cures that tired feeling.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier.

Hood's Pills the best family cathartic and liver stimulant.

SILVER WINS IN IOWA.

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION DECLARES FOR 16 TO 1 COINAGE.

Names Gov. Horace Boies for Presidential Nominee and Instructs the Chicago Delegates for Him—Gold Men Make a Gallant Fight but Succumb to a Two-Thirds Majority—Warn Silverites That Their Cause Will Disrupt the Party.

Alternates-at-Large.

D. P. STUBBS, VAN WAGOENEN,
C. H. MACKEY, A. C. DAILEY.

Dubuque, Ia., May 20.—[Special.]—As was expected, the Democrats of Iowa today declared for free silver at a ratio of 16 to 1 and instructed twenty-six delegates to Chicago to present the name of Horace Boies as a candidate for the Presidential nomination on a free silver platform.

The resolutions were positive in regard to the ratio, and it is a matter of much comment tonight that the financial plank prepared by Gov. Boies, which recommended the ratio of 16 to 1, with the added provision that if experience showed the ratio was wrong it should be changed, was turned down by the committee, as it did not appear in the platform.

The gold men accept the situation with as good grace as possible, but ex-Senator W. O. Schmidt of Davenport says that if the National Democratic convention indorses free silver Scott County will soon be giving 4,000 Republican majority.

S. S. Wright was named for Temporary Chairman.

There came a hush as the speaker started out on the money question. He was soon sure of his footing, for the sound money men had good lungs and active hands and feet, and they easily drowned the cries of "Rot!" which came from the enthusiastic free-silver delegates from the Third District.

"That's the way John Sherman talks," was hurled at the speaker once or twice, but he bravely faced the source of the outcries, and commenced his statements, while the sound money men cheered him on. The interruptions were soon stopped, and the speaker passed the danger point without any outbreak, and turned from a discussion of the money question to the defense of Ambassador Bayard. Both factions could cheer this, and from this point to the end of the speech it was plain sailing. Along toward the end of the speech there came a slight diversion.

"The people demand a man for the Presidency of permanent and splendid character," declared Mr. Wright.

"Horace Boies," came from some delegate down in the center of the house. Then the crowd took it up, and the yells for Boies came in every time the speaker stopped to catch his breath.

Wright Talks for Sound Money.

Mr. Wright said regarding the money question:

"Money is a medium of exchange—a something by which we are enabled to measure the value of all commodities in the most convenient manner. To this end it has been made lawful for the government, under the direction of Congress, to coin certain metals. I believe that the government should do no more than to stamp upon a coin that which represents its purity, fineness, and weight, and let it battle for supremacy among the commodities and in the markets of the world. The stamp placed upon a metal should be regulated by its real, intrinsic value. This is all the government should do in reference to coinage. It is certainly fair to the owners of silver bullion for the government to offer to stamp it at its real value as universally accepted. That man who advances the argument that the debtor can, after the establishment of a free coinage law at the ratio of 16 to 1, pay his debts at half their face value, may fold to his bosom all the comfort derived by asserting a proposition so glaringly, so palpably at variance with the fundamental principles of a free government, based on true ethics. To make a piece of money out of 51 or 52 cents' worth of silver and say that it shall be received in the payment of all debts as $1 is but to confiscate one-half of the wealth of every man whose money is loaned; it is to cut in two the little bank deposit of the laborer and to double the price of all things he buys.

"I am opposed to any system of laws that would even have a tendency toward decreasing the purchasing power of money and increasing the price of commodities without in the same degree raising the price of wages.

"I am opposed to any system of finance that will drive the recognized legal standard into vaults or out of the country, and thus create a financial stringency in comparison with which the present would be considered a time of bountiful harvest and overflowing riches. I am unconditionally opposed to our government coining 50 cents into a dollar. I am unalterably opposed to the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, or at any other ratio inconsistent with the true, honest intrinsic value of both metals.

Parity Cannot Be Maintained.

"And I believe that in order to have the free coinage of more than one metal we must first be assured that a parity can be maintained between them. It seems to me that a parity in value can be no more easily nor successfully maintained between gold and silver than it can be maintained between horses and cattle. We do not want a fluctuating debased currency. We do want an honest dollar, based upon sound principles of finance."

The following committees were reported from the different districts:

District Delegates.

1. W. R. Herry, Keosauqua; W. H. Stackhouse, Burlington; alternates, H. M. Eicher, Washington; Ed Leman, Wapello.
2. T. M. Gobble, Clinton; Max Meyer, Iowa City; alternates, E. C. Fullerton, Muscatine; W. T. Clark, Davenport.
3. John S. Murphy, Dubuque; S. L. Filkins, Eldora; alternates, A. M. Fortune, Waverly; C. M. Greene, Green.
4. Tim Donovan, New Hampton; F. D. Bayless, Elkader; alternates, J. P. Blaise, Mason City; J. J. Kieran, Fayette.
5. Thomas Bradfield, Marshalltown; J. M. Terry, Cedar Rapids.
6. H. C. Taylor, Bloomfield; W. A. McIntyre, Ottumwa; alternates, George E. Taylor, Nebraska; J. H. Tucker, Brooklyn.
7. M. H. King, Des Moines; J. H. Cunningham, Knoxville; alternates, E. T. Likes, Des Moines; G. T. Tengis, Madison.
8. S. A. Brewster, Creston; Charles Thomas Bedford; alternates, W. T. Davis, Fremont; Charles Thomas, Taylor.
9. W. W. Ware, Council Bluffs; F. D. Allen, Audubon; alternates, G. E. Ferguson, Harrison; G. B. Morressey, Sheldon.
10. B. F. Jordan, Boone; C. C. Colclo, Carroll; alternates, J. M. Muleoney, Palo Alto; Charles Bullett, Crawford.
11. T. P. Murphy, Sioux City; Charles Sayster, Sheldon; alternates, James Dalton, Cherokee; George Smith, Lemars.

New State Central Committeemen.

The following members of the State Central committee were selected to take the places of members whose terms expired:

Third District—E. M. Carr, Manchester.
Eighth District—Ed Carry, Leon.
Tenth District—M. F. Healy, Fort Dodge.
Eleventh District—T. B. Stringfield, Sheldon.

At 2:25 p. m. the convention came to order, and the Committee on Permanent Organization reported as Permanent Chairman E. M. Carr of Manchester, and that the Temporary Secretaries be made permanent. The customary rules of previous conventions were recommended, with the addition that all resolutions go to the committee without debate and that nominating speeches be limited to ten minutes. The report was adopted and the sound money temporary organization went out of existence as Chairman Carr took the gavel.

Then the silver men celebrated their victory by cheering and stamping their feet, and the applause reached a full sized roar when he said:

"The administration's financial policy is not the financial policy of the Democrats. It never has had and never will have the support of the Democratic party. It is the direct and proximate result of Republican legislation, and has been opposed for twenty years by a majority of the Democratic members of Congress. There are, however, some Democrats who support this policy, but their course is but another proof of the truth of the old adage, there is nothing new under the sun, for even God's chosen children in the absence of Moses erected a golden calf and fell down and worshipped it."

The election of delegates-at-large was next in order. J. J. Shea of Council Bluffs nominated Horace Boies and he was elected by acclamation by a whoop. On the selection of the second delegate came the test on silver. S. B. Evans of Ottumwa was named by the silver men and Judge Babb, formerly Democratic candidate for Governor, by the gold men. Evans was elected by an overwhelming majority, the vote being 670½ to 263½.

Boies Felicitates the Convention.

Just before the election of alternates Gov. Boies appeared. He was received with a rousing demonstration. After the noise had subsided Mr. Boies said:

"Gentlemen of the Convention: It would be impossible for me to express in language the gratification I feel at meeting you here and under these circumstances. When this battle began a few weeks ago, so far as I have taken part in it, I had a single desire, and that was that the masses of the Democratic party of this great State of Iowa should be heard in this convention. [Cheers.] I believed, as I believe now, that upon many occasions, in many conventions of political parties, the voice of the people had been stifled, and so far as I was concerned I was determined that the Democracy of Iowa should speak in the primaries. I believe they have done so. [Applause.] And I believe this is the safety, and the only safety, of any political party on earth. [Cheers.] So I say to you that when I meet such a convention as this, whose delegates have been selected in the way that the delegates to this convention have been selected, it is a source of gratification to me that I am unable to express in the English language.

"I want you from this time forward to know that in Iowa the strength of the Democratic party lies with the masses of the party, and from this day forward I want the masses of the Democratic party to take its destinies into their own hands. [Cheers.] I assure you that when that is done the Democratic party will march on to a certain victory. [Renewed cheering.] Now, gentlemen, you must excuse me from making any extended remarks. I am occupying time that belongs to you for the transaction of business. I have said all I wish to say. A thousand times I thank the masses of the Democratic party of Iowa for the interest they have taken in this contest." [Cheers.]

Iowa Platform for Free Silver.

The majority report of the Committee on Resolutions was read by W. L. Read of Des Moines. It was as follows:

"The Democracy of Iowa in convention assembled hereby reaffirms its allegiance to the time-honored Democratic doctrine of bimetallism, to the use of both gold and silver as primary money, and the coinage of both at a ratio without charge or limit.

"We hold to the use of both gold and silver as the standard money of the country, and to the coinage of both gold and silver without discrimination against either metal or charge for mintage.

"In the judgment of this convention the explicit pledge of the national Democratic party, if fairly and honorably kept, requires the constant effort of every loyal Democrat to accomplish the repeal of all laws heretofore enacted through the instrumentality of the Republican party which do in letter and spirit alike discriminate against silver and in favor of gold, and the substitution thereof of affirmative legislation which shall upon some terms or other restore silver to equal rights with gold in the mints and coinage of the country.

"Second—We hereby affirm as a deliberate conviction of this convention that the act of 1873 in so far as it demonetized silver and established gold as the single unit of value is a flagrant violation of one of the most important provisions of the Constitution of the United States, a violation which every political party ought to condemn and every good citizen should assist in expunging from the statutes of the republic. We therefore favor the immediate repeal of all laws by which silver was demonetized, and demand its unqualified restoration to the right of free and unlimited coinage in the mints of the United States as money of final redemption at the old ratio of 16 to 1.

"Third—We recognize the fact that upon this question the country has reached a crisis that can be no longer evaded nor postponed. We know that the result of the conflict must be a return to the money of the Constitution, or the substitution therefor for all time to come of a standard of values, born of British aristocratic greed, that doubles the purchasing power of money, and in behalf of the toiling millions of this republic we welcome the conflict and pledge the Democratic party of Iowa to stand by the Constitution, to defend the right, to beat back with all its strength every aggression of the money power of the Old and New World alike, and to aid to the utmost limit of its ability in restoring to ourselves and our posterity the sacred heritage of the financial system bequeathed to the American people by the fathers of the republic and which was equally fair and just to all citizens, and in this effort we cordially invite the cooperation of all good citizens without reference to political affiliations in the past.

"Fourth—We hereby enter our most earnest protest against all schemes for the retirement of our non-interest-bearing national paper currency and the substitution therefor of $500,000,000 of interest-bearing bonds, to become an additional burden upon the producing classes, that national banks may be supplied with interest-bearing capital on which to transact their individual business. And we also protest against the further issuance and sale of government bonds to acquire gold with which to redeem the same with the coin of either metal it may possess, in strict accord with both the spirit and the letter of the law.

"Fifth—We denounce as a transparent fallacy the claim that labor can be benefitted by the maintenance of a single gold standard as the basis of our financial system. The experience of all ages and of every country alike clearly demonstrate that a contracted currency invariably compels a contraction of business, the lessening of industrial enterprises, the enforced idleness of great numbers of the working classes, and nothing of which the human mind can conceive is more clearly self-evident than the naked truth that the wages of labor must always be adjusted to and correspond with the prices of labor's products in the markets in which they are sold.

"Eighth—Reposing full faith and confidence in the Democracy, patriotism, and ability of Horace Boies, formerly Governor of the State of Iowa, we hereby declare it to be the bounden duty of every patriot in Iowa without regard to former party affiliations to use all honorable means to secure his nomination at the Democratic National convention to be held at Chicago, July 7, 1896, for the high and responsible office of President of these United States, to the end that the principles of Jeffersonian Democracy be preserved and promoted and liberty and prosperity be restored to the great body of the people, and the delegates to the convention are expressly authorized and instructed to place his name in nomination at Chicago."

Fight of Sound Money Men.

After the reading of the majority report Judge French presented the following minority report as a substitute for the free silver plank:

"Sound money is necessary to the prosperity of the people. We therefore oppose all devices for debasing the currency, whether further issues of government paper money or the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1. Consistent with these principles, we favor the largest and most liberal use of silver possible and the strict maintenance at par with gold of all outstanding currency of the country." [Groans from the silver men.]

"We heartily indorse the administration of President Cleveland [cries of "Oh," "Oh," and groans] for its wisdom, courage, and fidelity to the public interests. [Cries of "Rats!"]

"Committed as the Republican party is to the reënactment of McKinleyism, we welcome a renewal of the contest of 1892 upon this issue, with the abiding faith that the people will again register the same verdict as in that contest upon the odious system of bounties and class favoritism."

Judge French then began to address the convention, but motions to adjourn and to lie on the table, accompanied by cheers from the gold men and groans from the silverites, created such a pandemonium that he could not be heard.

Finally Judge French was allowed to talk. He urged the silver men to be careful of the steps they were about to take. He said they could not, as Democrats, vote for such a financial plank as was contained in the resolutions of the majority. If they voted for it they were not Democrats.

Mayor Vollmer of Davenport was the next speaker, and he came near causing an uprising by declaring that "if this convention adopted the report of the majority of the committee when election came they would find a crowd of long-haired, wild-eyed Populists dancing upon——" but he never finished the sentence. Shouts of "Put him out!" "He's insulting the convention!" "Throw him out!" and other significant sentiments were hurled at his head. Several delegates demanded that he should apologize, and finally, after his voice could be heard, he told the convention if he had been given an opportunity to finish his statement they might have found it was different from what they had assumed it was. He did not explain, however, but started in with the statement that in every country where there is a silver standard the laboring men are compelled to work for wages on which an American workman would starve. Then the crowd howled again and Mr. Vollmer took his seat.

There were several speeches in favor of the majority report and the roll call was ordered on the substitution of the minority report for the majority. It was lost by a vote of 216½ yeas to 617½ nays.

The majority report including the silver plank was then adopted by a viva voce vote.

A motion was then made to elect the district delegates by acclamation. It was carried amid great confusion and the convention adjourned.

Congressman Henry Renominated.

Hartford City, Ind., May 20.—[Special.]—The Republican Congressional convention for the new Eighth District met here today and nominated Charles L. Henry of Anderson by acclamation, I. P. Watts of Winchester and Gen. Shanks of Portland having withdrawn from the race. Over 2,000 Republicans were present, and great enthusiasm prevailed.

NOT IN A WAY OF BARTER

SUPPORT GIVEN M'KINLEY NOT DUE TO PROMISES OF REWARD.

No Offices Under the Control of the Next Administration Have Been Peddled Out for Votes—Mark Hanna Says He Does Not Want One and Many Others Are Writing to Maj. McKinley to the Same Effect—Other News of a Political Character.

Cleveland, O., May 20.—[Special.]—"I am not a candidate for any office," said Mark A. Hanna today. "Because I do not wish one. My satisfaction will come in seeing the man the people want given to them in spite of all efforts of professional politicians to the contrary."

MAJ. M'KINLEY IN HIS STUDY AT HIS HOME IN CANTON, OHIO.

This statement made to THE TRIBUNE is, by the way, the longest given for publication by Mr. Hanna since the beginning of the campaign for Maj. McKinley's nomination at St. Louis. It has been said that those who have taken care of Maj. McKinley's interests here are to be rewarded with political preferment as soon as he is seated as President of the United States. Mr. Hanna is the chief of these. He disposes of the story as to himself in the foregoing terms. Another mentioned in this connection is Col. Myron T. Herrick, an intimate friend of Maj. McKinley's, a delegate to the St. Louis convention from the Cleveland district, and the President of the Society for Savings here, a financial institution whose deposits of $25,000,000 represent the accumulations of 50,000 persons.

"What I have been able to do for Maj. McKinley," Col. Herrick said today with equal emphasis, "has been done in the line of my duty and I expect no reward. I believe that the candidacy of Maj. McKinley has developed in this country an amount of disinterestedness and self-sacrifice such as have never been seen in relation to a public man before. I am proud of having been of service to my country, and that is all the participation I or my colleagues desire."

It may be stated finally on the highest authority that William McKinley's name goes to the St. Louis convention and will return from it without having been used as a commodity for sale or barter, as a pledge for future action or as a threat. No man, East, West, North, or South, has been promised political office or political patronage as a result of his support, nor has any pawn been made of the political principles of Maj. McKinley, so admirably summarized in his now famous phrase—"An honest dollar and a chance to earn it by honest toil."

Today letters were received from delegates to conventions in States as widely separated as Illinois, California, New Hampshire, and Washington, all of whom had rendered distinguished services in their respective bodies to the McKinley cause, and in each letter a disclaimer of any desire to be paid, by office, influence, or otherwise, was entered in unmistakable terms.

Belated District.

Word was received from Baton Rouge, La., that the belated Sixth District had just elected T. B. Brooks and W. W. Johnson as delegates to the national convention, with instructions for McKinley. News also came from Sacramento, Cal., that the State McKinley League had adopted strong resolutions which deny that any promises whatever were made to induce any delegate to the State convention to vote for instructions favoring Maj. McKinley, and affirming on behalf of the Republican party of California that its support of the Ohio man is not founded upon barter, trade, or promises, but rests upon principle and upon the belief that William McKinley represents to the fullest extent the great predominant issue of protection to American industry.

At Home Until Friday.

Canton, O., May 20.—[Special.]—Maj. McKinley is at home resting. He will spend his time until Friday in the library of his pleasant home in Market street working on his correspondence. This will be varied by receiving callers and by drives about the shady streets of Canton. The latch string is out and all who come are made to feel at home, shaken hands with, invited to take a chair, and listened to with patient attention.

Interest here centers on the expected coming of Senator Matthew S. Quay. Every one in town, from the lame attendant at the railway station to the clerks in the hotels, is alert and watching for the man with the drooping eyelids from Pennsylvania. Indications point to his being escorted by no inconsiderable portion of the population, first from the station to the hotel and thence to the McKinley residence. The proposition to receive Mr. Quay has been discussed there and everything is as open to him as to any other citizen of the United States who desires to call.

The dispatches in the morning papers which announced that he would leave the National Capitol as soon as his duties in the Senate permitted were read aloud to Maj. McKinley. He smiled and said hospitably: "I am always ready to receive visitors."

So Senator Quay may be sure of his welcome at the McKinley home. All Canton is proud of its distinguished townsman, so he is certain of being accorded a hearty reception from the population as well.

HOT FIGHT IN TODAY'S CONVENTION.

La Salle County Democracy Torn Up Over the Financial Question.

Ottawa, Ill., May 20.—[Special.]—The Democratic county convention to be held here tomorrow promises a bitter contest.

Although the free silverites will go into the convention with sufficient delegates to carry instructions for Altgeld and free silver, yet the sound money men announce their intention of contesting every inch of the ground.

The Democracy of Ottawa, chagrined and humiliated by the antics indulged in by Attorney-General Moloney at the caucus held on Monday evening, will send to the convention a sound money delegation and ask for recognition. They base their claim for admission upon the unfair, arbitrary, and autocratic conduct of the Attorney-General as Chairman of the local caucus, and will urge that had a fair and proper test been had the free silver element would have been defeated.

The contest thus precipitated by Ottawa will probably result in the admission to the floor of the free silver delegation, but it will afford the sound money men an opportunity of thoroughly ventilating the claims of the Moloney machine and showing that hatred of the national administration and not love of free silver is the controlling motive in the actions of the Attorney-General and the State administration.

Indications point to a large attendance. The northern portion of the county—Mendota, Earlville, and the surrounding country—will come solidly opposed to free silverism and will urge in the interest of harmony the selection of a representative delegation to the State convention with no instructions on the money question, leaving that matter to abide by the determination of the national convention.

Silver and Altgeld.

Yorkville, Ill., May 20.—[Special.]—At the Kendall County Democratic convention, after selecting candidates for county offices, resolutions were adopted indorsing free silver, Altgeld for Governor, and Dennis Hogan for District Central committeeman, and W. D. Steward for minority candidate for the Legislature.

McHenry Does Not Instruct.

Woodstock, Ill., May 20.—[Special.]—The McHenry County Democratic convention was held in this city today, and selected six delegates to the State convention. They go uninstructed, but favor 16 to 1 and Altgeld. Delegates to the Senatorial convention are uninstructed. A full county ticket was nominated.

PLATT DENIES SIGNIFICANT RUMORS.

Says There Was No Politics in His Visit to Gov. Morton.

New York, May 20.—Ex-Senator Platt and Messrs. Fish and O'Grady returned from Albany this evening. Mr. Platt explained to a reporter that his visit to the State capital was for the purpose of talking with Gov. Morton regarding some bills passed by the Legislature, which are still in the hands of the Executive.

Mr. Platt would not admit that national politics was discussed at this meeting. Concerning Warner Miller's announcement today that half of the New York delegation would go to St. Louis favoring McKinley's candidacy, Mr. Platt intimated that he might have something to say later on, but at present did not care to say anything about the matter.

Speaker Fish was equally non-committal and refused to discuss Mr. Miller's remarks.

M'KINLEY CLUB IS INCORPORATED.

Republicans of Twenty-first New York District Organize.

New York, May 20.—[Special.]—The first McKinley club incorporated in this State filed a certificate of incorporation at Albany today with the Secretary of State. It is to be known as the McKinley League of the Twenty-first Assembly District of New York City.

Forty-eighth Senatorial.

Pinckneyville, Ill., May 20.—[Special.]—Republicans of the Forty-eighth Senatorial District today nominated Albert Bollinger of Monroe County for State Senator, he defeating E. J. Ingersoll of Carbondale. R. C. Brown of Randolph County and Harry B. Ward of Perry were nominated as candidates for Representatives.

Hastings Not a Candidate.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 20.—Gov. Hastings denied the story today that he had consented to become a candidate for Vice-President before the St. Louis convention at a recent conference at Washington with Senator Quay.

Second Ballot for Senator.

Baton Rouge, La., May 20.—The second day's ballot in the Legislature for United States Senator resulted as follows: Blanchard, 51; Denegre, 31; Pharr, 30; Price, 11; Blackman, 3; McEnery, 3.

Open Letter to T. C. Platt.

Chicago, May 18.—Mr. Thomas C. Platt, New York, N. Y.—Dear Sir: You do not appear to be correctly informed as to the opinions and views (so recently expressed) of William McKinley as regards finance, otherwise you surely would not have placed yourself on record charging him with favoring free silver coinage and not in favor of sound money. For your information I beg to inclose you a picture taken from THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE of today giving quotation from McKinley's Marquette speech on Feb. 12, 1896—viz.: "No man need be in any doubt what the Republican party stands for. It stands now as ever for honest money and a chance to earn an honest dollar."

If the above does not convince you that you have made misstatements regarding McKinley's views on the financial question then I suggest that you read his speeches during the Ohio campaign of 1891 and 1893, when he placed himself upon record again and repeatedly against the free coinage of silver and advocated sound money more emphatically than any candidate now before the people has ever done, so far as any published record shows.

When you reach St. Louis you will find there 10,000 Republicans ready and most willing to tell you that you have made misstatements concerning McKinley such as no honorable man would knowingly make. And I assure you if anything could have added strength to McKinley's cause it is safe to say it has been greatly strengthened by the unjust and unwise attack made upon him by some of his opponents. Don't worry yourself. McKinley will have quite two-thirds, if not more, of the delegates to St. Louis on the first ballot, including many of the New York delegation. Yours truly,

W. S. MANNING.

OHIO GRAND LODGE I. O. O. F. ADJOURNS

Reports Show a Good Membership and Financial Condition.

Lima, O., May 20.—[Special.]—The session of the Grand Lodge of Ohio, I. O. O. F., adjourned today. Grand Secretary Lyman reported $203,182 paid out for relief during 1895; on hand, $2,263,850. There are 717 lodges at work; total membership, 65,840.

POLICEMAN SERVES AS A FOOTPAD.

Is Sentenced to Seven Years' Imprisonment for Highway Robbery.

Vincennes, Ind., May 20.—Policeman James Nunley, for murderously assaulting George Schaller last November for his money, this morning received a sentence of seven years in the penitentiary for his crime.

4—J. G. WALLING, J. D. M. SHAW.
5—W. F. STRAIT, T. Y. WILLIAMS.
6—W. D. EVANS, A. H. WILLIAMS.
7—H. T. ABBOTT, O. R. LOWMAN.

Aberdeen, S. D., May 20.—[Special.]—The South Dakota Democratic convention adopted the following financial plank:

"The Democratic party of South Dakota is in favor of the present standard value in our monetary system and the use of full legal tender silver coins and paper convertible into coin on demand in such quantities as can be maintained without impairing or endangering the credit of the government or diminishing the purchasing or debt-paying power of the money in the hands of the people."

Lynch of Beadle moved the adoption of the following as a substitute:

"Resolved, That we demand a restoration of the money of the Constitution by a law providing for the free and unlimited coinage of both gold and silver as full legal tender at the ratio of 16 to 1, regardless of the action of any other country."

The convention by a vote of 167½ to 224½ rejected the substitute and adopted the original resolution.

The other resolutions arraign the Republican party for extravagance and declare an unalterable allegiance to the Cleveland Administration, also oppose any effort to materially alter the present just and conservative tariff, and pronounce against secret political organizations.

The fight over the financial plank was extremely warm, but the free silver delegates did not withdraw from the convention, as was rumored they would do early in the evening.

The sound money Democrats received important reinforcements this morning, notably from the Black Hills, whose delegates have been for silver, but changed to a right about because of the flood of protests from that part of the State.

Last night the silverites had matters their own way and would not concede that the battle was lost.

The gold men secured the temporary organization by a small majority.

The State officers' nominating convention was called this noon to be held in Deadwood on Sept. 16.

DENOUNCE GROVER AS A DESPOT.

South Carolina Democrats Indorse Free Silver at 16 to 1.

Columbia, S. C., May 20.—[Special.]—The Democratic State convention, which met here today, was thoroughly under Senator Tillman's control, and, as his opponents were in a hopeless minority, there was little friction in the proceedings. The financial plank adopted is as follows:

"We demand the free and unlimited coinage of silver at a ratio of 16 to 1, regardless of the action of any and all nations, and that such coinage be a legal tender for all debts, public and private."

The abolition of the national banking system is also advocated.

A. H. Patterson was elected Permanent Chairman. In his speech he cautioned the convention not to vote for delegates to Chicago who favored anything but free silver or who would vote for any man who had betrayed his party as he said Cleveland had done.

This sentiment brought forth great applause.

Senator Irby, who opposes Tillman's ideas about bolting, introduced a resolution pledging the party to abide by the decision of the national convention. This was referred to the Committee on Platform and Resolutions, of which Senator Tillman is Chairman. The resolution was reported unfavorably and the report was overwhelmingly adopted. The committee made no recommendation on this subject, leaving the delegates free to follow Senator Tillman out of the national convention if free silver was not declared for and a free silver candidate is not nominated.

A resolution by Senator Tillman, which is part of the platform, says the administration of Cleveland is "undemocratic and tyrannical and a departure from those principles which are cherished by all liberty-loving people. The veto power has been used to thwart the will of the people as expressed by the Representatives in Congress. The appointive power has been used to subsidize the press, to debauch Congress, and to overawe the citizens in the free exercise of their rights as citizens. A plutocratic despotism is thus sought to be established on the ruins of the Republic."

DECLARATION FOR SOUND MONEY.

New Hampshire Democrats Do Not Favor Silver Fallacy.

Delegates-at-Large.

FRANK JONES, A. W. SULLOWAY,
I. W. DREW, CHAS. A. SINCLAIR.

Alternates-at-Large.

F. N. CHASE, S. H. DANFORTH,
W. A. PLUMMER, FRANK G. NOYES.

Concord, N. H., May 20.—The New Hampshire Democratic State convention met today to choose delegates-at-large to the national convention. Harry Bingham presided.

The financial plank of the platform is as follows:

"Under present conditions there can be but one standard of value and that every kind of currency should rest upon a gold basis, so long as gold is the standard recognized by the great commercial nations of the world; and we heartily commend the action of President Cleveland in so firmly maintaining our public credit and faith in the face of formidable opposition."

The platform was adopted without a dissenting voice.

CLEVELAND CANNOT GET HIS VOTE.

Unusual Statement of a Candidate for Election in Ohio.

Washington Court-House, O., May 20.—[Special.]—The first Presidential Elector nominated by the Ohio Democrats this year is George Inskeep of this city, who was nominated by the Seventh District Congressional convention yesterday. Mr. Inskeep says he desires to state that under no circumstances will he cast his vote in the Electoral College for Grover Cleveland or any other gold standard candidate. He must be for free coinage of silver, to get his vote. He says if he should be elected Presidential Elector and his vote would reëlect Cleveland President he would not give it to him.

Wisconsin Democrats Meet June 23.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 20.—[Special.]—Chairman George W. Peck of the Democratic State Central committee today issued a call for the State convention to elect delegates to the national convention at Chicago. The convention will be held in this city on June 23. Each county in the State is entitled to one delegate for each 500 Democratic votes or major fraction thereof, cast for Presidential Electors at the last Presidential election. There will be 359 delegates in the convention, and the number from Milwaukee County will be forty-nine.

FORM NEW LODGE AT BLOOMINGTON.

Knights of Pythias Have a Street Parade and a Celebration.

Bloomington, Ill., May 20.—[Special.]—Bloomington was in full dress today on account of the institution of Bloomington Lodge No. 545, Knights of Pythias. Many Knights from out of town are here, Lexington and Clinton especially sending large delegations. The lodge instituted tonight is the fifth in this city. There are not less than 1,200 Knights in the city and probably as many more in the county outside of Bloomington.

The attraction today was the grand street parade. Capt. F. J. Maxwell was marshal of the day, and Capt. J. H. Leaton of uniform rank commanded the line of march. Among the grand lodge officers who arrived today were: John L. Brown, Grand Chancellor, Vandalia; Henry P. Caldwell, Grand Keeper of Records and Seals, Chicago; Past Chancellor Fitch C. Cook, Peoria; Past Chancellor Charles A. Barnes, Jacksonville; Supreme Representative Eugene C. Race, Chicago; Supreme Representative Colostin D. Myers, Bloomington. An elaborate banquet was served at a hotel to the grand lodge officers and other prominent visitors. At the same time a banquet was served to all Knights and their friends at Turner Hall.

At the institution of the new lodge the work was conducted by B. H. McCann, Deputy Grand Chancellor Commander, assisted by John A. Sterling, John J. Pitts, R. A. Russell, Prof. E. M. Van Petten, C. T. Wertz, W. H. Hughes of Bloomington; Fitch C. Cook of Peoria, J. J. Brown of Vandalia, Henry P. Caldwell of Chicago, and others.

THESE TALK FOR PUBLIC HEALTH.

Officers Elected by the State Association of Iowa.

Davenport, Ia., May 20.—[Special.]—The annual meeting of the Iowa Public Health Association closed today with a trip to Blackhawk's Watch Tower and a banquet. Papers were read by Dr. J. M. Emmert, Atlantic; Dr. F. St. Thomas, Council Bluffs; W. H. Knowlton, C. E., Dubuque; Dr. C. H. Preston, Dr. Charles McNeil, Dr. Jennie McCowen, and James Cameron, Plumbing Inspector, Davenport. The election of officers resulted as follows: President, Floyd Davis, Ph. D., Des Moines; Vice-President, Dr. J. M. Emmert, Atlantic; Secretary and Treasurer, P. J. Fullerton, Waterloo. To a committee, of which F. W. Weiland of Dubuque is Chairman, was left the selection of the next place of meeting.

IN THE SPRING.

What Is the Best Thing for People To Do at This Season?

"I must take a spring medicine. My blood needs thinning."

We frequently hear people making the above remark just at this time of the year. They feel weak and languid as milder weather approaches and realize that their health needs attention. But did it ever occur to such people that thinning the blood will only tend to make them weaker and that it would be far wiser to take something to increase their strength?

Thousands of people have discovered that thinning the blood is a mistake and have derived more benefit from building up their health and vitality in springtime. This fact is clearly proved by the following opinions of some reliable people:

Mr. E. B. Toale, of 432 De Kalb Ave., Brooklyn, recently said: "I formerly suffered a great deal in the spring from weakness and nervous debility. I tried many remedies, but obtained no relief until I began taking Duffy's pure malt whiskey. Since I commenced using it my friends are all astonished at my improved appearance."

Mrs. L. C. Miller, 524 N. 23d St., Philadelphia, says: "I used to suffer very much from weakness and debility at this season, but now I use Duffy's pure malt whiskey and keep up my health. By taking it I find that my appetite is better, I sleep well, and do not have that tired, languid, weary feeling I formerly experienced. It is certainly the best thing I ever tried."

People who wish to build up their health at this time of the year can see that Duffy's Pure Malt whiskey is far superior to all spring medicines, because it is a strengthening, health-giving stimulant. It is unequaled for purifying the blood, quickening the circulation, toning up the system, and restoring the vitality.

MUNYON WINS THE MEDICAL PROFESSION.

Many Well-Known Doctors Acknowledge the Efficacy of This New Method of Treating Disease.

Not One of His Cures But Has Stood the Severest Tests.

During the last week many physicans have called at Prof. Munyon's office, others have written, and all asking for information in regard to the prescribing of his remedies. Having seen the wonderful effect of these little pellets in cases which have baffled them for years, they feel that it is their duty toward the sick to give them that which affords the quickest relief, and at the same time does not create some other disease far more serious than the one cured. In Munyon's harmless medicines they have found the desired remedies. The Professor believes that in a very short time his new school of medicine will be adopted by the medical profession at large, and also introduced into all hospitals and institutions. He is as much opposed to quackery as any reputable physician, and is ready to join hands with them at any time in exposing people who humbug the public.

By a free distribution of his cures to 40,000 invalids in Philadelphia he has shown his honest belief in the value of his new discovery. He is radically opposed to filling the system with strong drugs and dangerous nostrums. He says more people have been killed by medicine than by pestilence and famine.

The immense sale of these remedies and the wonderful testimonials of people who have been cured of dangerous and chronic diseases prove that the new system of curing is as superior to all other methods as the electric light to the tallow dip.

A DYING SPARK.

Stop Right Now! Don't Light Another! You're Burning Your Brains.

Wrecks Along the Street-Side.

Oft-times tobacco's victims look at the dying spark in the cigar stump, or at the big masticated "chaw" of tobacco just expectorated, and with nerves nicotinized with tobacco, mentally resolve, "Now, that is my last. I will never use it again. It is injuring me physically and financially and my nerves are so irritated that I can't stand the least annoyance." What is the result? These good resolutions are made while the effect of tobacco paralyzes the cravings of millions of irritated nerve centers and when the effects pass away the good resolutions weaken, showing that the use of tobacco is not a habit but a disease of the nervous system caused by the education of the nerves to crave for the nicotine poisoning. As an instance, here is the case of a North Carolina clergyman, who writes:

Hillsboro, N. C.

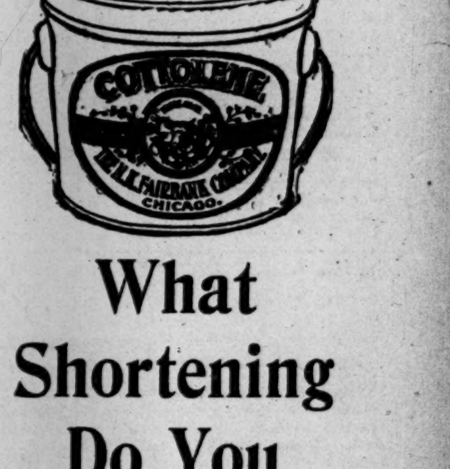

Gentlemen—Two weeks ago I began to use No-To-Bac, and I am now prepared to give it my unqualified indorsement as accomplishing precisely what is claimed for it. I have been an inveterate chewer of the weed for years and had made some half dozen or more efforts to overcome the habit without success. On the 19th day of January I began to use No-To-Bac, and by the time I had used three boxes my desire for tobacco was gone and I feel like a new man. Your remedy is indeed wonderful and it will enable any man to get rid of the tobacco habit, no matter what hold it may have taken of him, if he desires to give it up and will carry out your directions.

Allow me to thank you most heartily today, and it gives me great pleasure to give this testimonial.

Very truly yours,
(Rev.) B. S. McKENZIE.

Does it not suggest itself that the natural thing to do is to take a remedy that is specially prepared to overcome the nerve craving effects and restore the tobacco irritated nerves to a normal and healthy condition? You will find it in No-To-Bac. If No-To-Bac fails to cure The Sterling Remedy Company of New York, Montreal, and Chicago have so much faith that they positively guarantee to refund the money. LIVELY DEBATE OVER QUESTION OF CHURCH DISCIPLINE.

Delegates to the Methodist General Conference Again Thrash the Straw of the Sinfulness of Card Playing, Dancing, and Theater and Circus Attendance—Proposal to Make No Change Is Overwhelmingly Indorsed—Church Officers Selected.

Cleveland, O., May 20.—[Special.]—The election of Bishops in the M. E. General Conference has not ended the excitement attendant upon the gathering. The amusement question and the matter of discipline created almost as earnest a debate. It was the report of the Committee on State of the Church that created the most spirited discussion of the entire conference.

The committee's recommendation was that no change be made in the wording of the present discipline, which forbids cards, dancing, the theater, and the circus.

The Rev. Levi Masters took the floor and delivered himself of a speech containing some very plain language. The proper course, in his estimation, wasto simply lay down the general principle, leaving its application to the individual conscience and judgment. If a good Methodist could not under any circumstance attend a horse race why allow him to watch a game of football; if he couldn't play cards, why let him play billiards. The fact of the matter, he declared, was that the present rule was systematically ignored.

Defenders for the Discipline.

The Rev. J. B. Graw of New York regarded it as unfortunate that anybody should want a change. "This is," said he, "an age of worldliness and sinful pleasure. If this paragraph is removed it will carry joy to the hearts of those who belong to the church and yet are not regarded as spiritually-minded." When the objection to the paragraph comes to be analyzed it is seen to be founded on the fact that it specifies a number of sins but does not specify them all. He would stand by the present discipline to the end, even though he stood alone.

Dr. Berry, editor of the Epworth Herald and representative of the Epworth League, opposed the change. He declared that the young people of the church wanted it kept as it is. They felt the need of the safeguard provided by the enumeration of the more subtle forms of temptation.

The Rev. John D. Walsh of Kentucky thought the present wording of the clause somewhat mixed, but its meaning was clear enough. To change it now would give the impression that the church had withdrawn its objections.

A standing vote was taken and the recommendation to make no change was indorsed by a large majority, only about forty of the 500 delegates being on the negative side.

Retirement of Bishops Discussed.

Bishop Foster, who had presided during the morning and had vainly tried to keep order, announced after recess that he would yield the chair to Bishop Goodsell. He went on to say that he had received letters from all parts of the country denouncing his retirement as cruel and unjust.

"These brethren have been misinformed," he continued. "There comes a time in every man's life when he must retire, and the conference simply recognized this fact."

Cheaper Edition of Hymnals.

A proposition to appoint a committee to revise the church hymnal was laid on the table. Homer Eaton, on behalf of the Book Concern, promised that a cheaper edition than any now in print would be prepared for the use of congregations.

The following church officers were elected: Book agent at Cincinnati, Lewis Curts, reelected; Henry C. Jenings of Minnesota; book agent at New York: George P. Mains, secretary of the Church Extension Society of Brooklyn. Secretaries of the Missionary Society, A. B. Leonard, A. J. Palmer.

A resolution was passed indorsing the bill now before Congress to prohibit the sale of liquor in the Capitol at Washington.

CONFER ON MISSIONARY MISSIONS.

Presbyterians Hold a Preliminary Meeting at Saratoga.

Saratoga, N. Y., May 20.—[Special.]—Presbyterians have been arriving in large numbers all day, and tonight there must be fully 1,200 here from all parts of the country. The balance of the Commissioners and accompanying friends, which will swell the throng to 1,600 or 1,800, will reach the seat of the General Assembly tomorrow.

A trainload of Commissioners from Chicago, Cincinnati, and other Central Western points reached here this evening. Owing to the system successfully carried out by the Rev. James N. Crocker and the Rev. Dr. William Durant, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, all of the Commissioners and friends before leaving home were supplied with cards bearing upon their face the name, street, and number of their place of entertainment. Consequently the Commissioners are rapidly disposed of on their arrival.

In the First Presbyterian Church this afternoon was opened the General Missionary conference, which is auxiliary to and conducted in connection with the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America. This afternoon the conference opened with devotional exercises, after which Prof. H. W. Hulbert of Lane Seminary, Cincinnati, O., was elected Chairman and the Rev. Cleland B. McAfee of Parkville, Mo., Secretary. After the docket had been read and adopted, outlining the program, the Rev. Dr. William S. Marquis of Rock Island, Ill., who had been in communication with all of the Synodical Chairmen within the jurisdiction of the General Assembly, submitted a lengthy report. He reviewed the various methods, and he credited the synods of Indiana and New Jersey with operating the most successful plans for contributing to the interest and support of foreign missions.

Thorough Organization Needed.

Dr. Marquis suggested that thorough organization was needed, and the most practicable plan should be recommended to the General Assembly for adoption. Systematic contributions, he added, were preferable to spasmodic donations.

The Rev. Dr. Thomas Marshall of Chicago presented what he described as "the plan of campaign." The church has 1,000,000 communicants, and each one should give at least $1 and as much more as possible.

The Rev. Dr. Butler of Blairstown, N. J., spoke of the effective work done by the women's societies. The Rev. Dr. John R. Davies of New York City held that too many organizations caused a leakage by reason of misdirected energy. The Chairman was instructed to appoint a committee of nine on resolutions, to whom were referred the Marquis report and the Marshall plan, to consider and report at as early a day as possible. The committee embraces the Rev. Dr. Butler of Blairstown, N. J.; the Rev. Dr. William S. Marquis of Rock Island, Ill.; the Rev. Dr. Charles Little of Connersville, Ind.; Prof. H. W. Hulbert of Cincinnati, O.; Mrs. Young of Chicago; Mrs. Scott of Cincinnati, O.; Elder A. B. Moore of Cedar Rapids, Ia.; and Elder Roderick McDonald of Payallup, Wash.

There was a continuation of the missionary conference this evening, when addresses were made by the Rev. Dr. Thomas Marshall of Chicago, the Rev. Drs. Arthur T. Brown, John R. Davies, and F. F. Ellenwood of New York City, and others.

Lively Contest for Moderator.

The General Assembly will tomorrow afternoon elect a successor to the Rev. Dr. Robert Russell Booth of New York City. The Rev. Dr. John L. Withrow of Chicago will be placed in nomination by the Rev. Dr. John S. Davies of New York City. The other two candidates are the Rev. Dr. David R. Breed of Pittsburg, Pa., and the Rev. Dr. Francis C. Montfort of Cincinnati, O. The canvass is becoming interesting. It is believed by some that the name of the Rev. Dr. Thomas L. Sexton of Seward, Neb., may not be presented, and, if it is, it will only be in a complimentary way.

It is probable a Moderator may not be elected on the opening day. The assembly will number a few over 600 Commissioners and a majority vote is necessary.

Chicagoans here tonight deny the statement published that Dr. Withrow is the candidate of the "Liberals." To class the doctor as a "Liberal" is what they characterize as "purposely misleading."

A prominent Chicago divine stated tonight that "Dr. Withrow, through all his ministry in different cities, has been known as a conservative in theology and a thorough Presbyterian. The difference between Dr. Withrow and some others who are candidates is that he is a friend towards those of other views and above all means to be fair to every section of the church. If he should be chosen the assembly will have a Moderator who will not make up the committees on any narrow and sectional lines." The late years have witnessed too much contention for the good of the church."

Benjamin L. Agnew of Philadelphia, Pa., was mentioned late tonight as a probable candidate for Moderator, but he most emphatically denies it and says he does not seek the honor.

CONFERENCE OFFICERS ELECTED.

Proceedings of Methodist Protestant Conference at Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo., May 20.—The principal business of this morning's session of the Methodist Protestant conference in Kansas City, Kas., was the election of General Conference officers. The selection of editor of the Methodist Recorder, published at Pittsburg, was the first taken up. The Rev. D. S. Stephens, the present editor, withdrew, because of his previous appointment as Chancellor of the Kansas City University. The nominees were the Rev. M. L. Jennings, Michigan; the Rev. G. S. Shepherd of Pittsburg; the Rev. A. H. Widney, Illinois; the Rev. Hugh Stackhouse, Indiana; the Rev. J. E. Cowan, West Virginia; and the Rev. S. A. Baker. The Revs. Shepherd and Baker withdrew. Two ballots were taken without result, whereupon Mr. Stackhouse withdrew. The third ballot gave Dr. Jennings the place.

Editor F. T. Tagg of the Methodist Protestant, published at Baltimore, was reëlected for the next four years; the Rev. Dr. J. F. Cowan, West Virginia, was reëlected editor of the Sunday-school literature of the church; the Rev. C. G. Osburn, Traveling Secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions; and the Rev. J. C. Berrien, Corresponding Secretary of the Board of Ministerial Education.

The election of the Rev. Ogburn over Dr. Melvin was said to be due to the attitude of the Maryland delegates on the woman question. It was moved that Dr. Melvin be indemnified in the amount of $1,000. This he refused. It was finally decided he should be retained in his present position until Dec. 1.

SUNDAY-SCHOOL OFFICERS ELECTED

Danville Secures the Next Meeting of the Illinois Association.

Peoria, Ill., May 20.—[Special.]—Nearly 250 delegates and visitors were present at the second day's session of the Illinois Christian Sunday-School Association today. Officers were elected for the coming year as follows: President, R. F. Thropp, Gibson City; Vice-President, J. P. McKnight, Harrison; Recording Secretary, Miss Mary Hedrick, Taylorville; State Board, Knox P. Taylor, Bloomington; J. P. Lichtenberger, Paxton.

The question of locating the next convention was then taken up, and invitations were received from Decatur, Danville, and Eureka. After a spirited contest Danville was selected.

A normal class of eight members was then graduated and given diplomas. A report was submitted by the Treasurer, showing the receipts of $2,840 for evangelistic work during the year. The Rev. N. S. Haynes spoke on "How May Attendance of Children of Responsible Age Upon Public Worship Be Increased," and President Lichtenberger delivered his annual address.

Miss Mary Hedrick of Taylorville discussed primary work. J. A. Harrison of Stanford opened the discussion on the question of finance. The association was shown to be $900 in debt, but after spirited debate it was decided to place a third evangelist in the field, whose special duty shall be to secure pledges for the State work. Tonight J. H. Hardin, President of Eureka College, made an address.

CONGREGATIONALISTS AT AURORA.

Corporate Members of Illinois Home Missionary Society Named.

Aurora, Ill., May 20.—[Special.]—The second day's session of the General Congregational Association began with an election of corporate members of the Illinois Home Missionary Society.

The following were chosen: To serve one year—L. O. Baird of Chicago, L. D. Strophlet of Mound City. Two years—Lorenzo Bull of Quincy. Three years—Edward P. Goodwin, Chicago; Henry M. Lyman, Chicago; J. F. Loba, Evanston; Leonard F. Houghton, Peoria; J. A. Bradley, Jacksonville; David Beaton, Chicago; J. T. Reade, Lombard; J. W. Shaw, Hinsdale; Frank P. Hines, Albion; N. J. Carpenter, La Grange; James T. Rogers, Peoria; William S. Gates, Ravenswood; H. A. Ainsworth, Moline; George Churchill, Galesburg; R. B. Starr, Mendon. Directors were elected as follows: Dr. J. M. Sturtevant, Lovejoy Johnson, the Rev. David Beaton, Albert W. Boysden, Thomas C. MacMillan, the Rev. George H. Wilson, Henry A. Bushnell, and the Rev. Lyme.

Papers were read by L. O. Baird of Ottawa on "Are Our Ethical Standards Declining?"; Eli Corwin of Chicago, "Our Academies"; and W. F. McMillen of Chicago, "Congregational Sunday-School and Publishing Society." President E. P. Goodwin of the Illinois Home Mission Society gave the address of the afternoon, which was followed by an open parliament.

CELEBRATE A 72D ANNIVERSARY.

New $400,000 Building for the American Baptist Publication Society.

Asbury Park, N. J., May 20.—The seventy-second anniversary of the American Baptist Publication Society began today in the Auditorium. The session opened with devotional services, after which President Samuel A. Crozer of Pennsylvania delivered his address.

The report of the Board of Managers alluded to the destruction of the building of the society at No. 1420 Chestnut street, Philadelphia, on Feb. 2. The report said a new building costing $400,000 is to be erected on the site. Receipts from all sources were $558,590, against $532,763 the previous year.

James A. Bradley, founder of Asbury Park, delivered an address of welcome. He was followed by the Rev. Dr. W. M. Lawrence of Chicago with an address on "Denominational Literature and Its Distributions."

At the afternoon session there was a "young people's hour," in charge of the Baptist Young People's Union of America. The Rev. W. G. Partridge of Cincinnati followed with an address on "The Sunday-School Considered in Its Relation to the Kingdom of Christ."

The Rev. W. W. Main of Massachusetts spoke on "The Requisites to Greater Efficiency in Sunday-School Work." The Rev. C. A. Stakely, D. D., of Washington discussed "Sunday-School Literature."

ASSEMBLY OF SOUTHERN CHURCH.

Presbyterians from the South Gather for the Memphis Meeting.

Memphis, Tenn., May 20.—Tomorrow will witness the opening exercises of the General Assembly of the Southern Presbyterian Church. Among the conspicuous divines who will be in attendance are the Rev. Joseph R. Wilson, the Rev. R. P. Farris of St. Louis, formerly the editor of the St. Louis Presbyterian; the Rev. R. Q. Mallard of New Orleans, editor of the Southwestern Presbyterian; the Rev. Dr. J. P. Smith of Richmond, Va., editor of the Central Presbyterian; and the Rev. Dr. James Woodhow. Missionaries to China, Japan, and Africa will also be present and address the assembly. The retiring Moderator of the assembly is the Rev. C. R. Hemphill, now pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of Louisville, Ky.

Mission Rally at Birmingham.

Birmingham, Ala., May 20.—Five hundred delegates attended the mission rally which inaugurated the sixty-sixth annual General Assembly of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church of the United States here today. Dr. J. W. Laughlin of St. Louis presided. The tenor of the various addresses on mission work was that the church should push its efforts in the cities and towns.

SMALLPOX IS REPORTED AT ELGIN.

Asylum Is Said to Be Quarantined Against the Rest of the City.

It was learned in Chicago yesterday that smallpox has broken out at Elgin, and that the asylum is quarantined against the rest of the town to prevent the spread of the disease.

The Chicago Health Department knew nothing of the matter until it was brought to its attention by Mrs. James T. Quinn of No. 278 Center avenue, whose husband died in the asylum last Monday. Mrs. Quinn had been staying in Elgin and was there when the smallpox broke out. On that account admission to the hospital was refused her as a protection to the patients.

On hearing of the alleged existence of smallpox Assistant Commissioner of Health Reilly telegraphed to Elgin to ascertain the truth of the report. Late last evening he had heard nothing.

IS NO HURT TO AMERICA.

GEN. WEYLER'S BAN ON CUBAN LEAF TOBACCO PROVES A BOON.

It Will Result in Promoting the Industry in the United States Because of the Necessarily Increased Demand for the Home-Grown Article—Traveling Salesmen Will Be Called In Because of the Temporary Effect of the Edict.

[SPECIAL CABLE.]

Havana, Cuba, May 20.—[Copyrighted, 1896, by the Press Publishing Company, New York World.]—Gen. Weyler's decree prohibiting the export of tobacco has brought American dealers here to hasten the export of purchases heretofore made. Eight arrived from Tampa today. A member of the firm of Seidenberg & Co. says that they have $200,000 worth of leaf tobacco on the island and cannot bale it in ten days. The Tampa men declare that their business will be ruined. Consul-General Williams says the United States Government has taken no action in the premises, but that protests have been filed by other governments.

The object of the order is to keep employed a class of Cubans here who might add to the troubles if left idle by a failure of the tobacco supply. Moreover, shutting off exportation will hurt an American industry which is supposed to contribute aid to the rebels.

Back of the order are capitalists and manufacturers interested in keeping down the price of tobacco here, which the American demand has been raising.

Frank Larrue, a Cuban of French extraction and a naturalized American citizen, has been arrested in Cordens charged with aiding the rebels. No action has yet been taken in the case by Consul-General Williams.

Armando Acevedo, a leading lawyer in Matanzas, was shot dead in the streets. He was a brother of Pedro Acevedo, a rebel leader.

New York, May 20.—[Special.]—The big Havana cigar manufacturers in New York say that all the cigar factories in the city engaged in the manufacture of clear Havanas will be closed down in ninety days as the result of Gen. Weyler's decree forbidding the exportation from Cuba of leaf tobacco.

A thousand men will be thrown out of employment here and 40,000 will have to quit work in Florida. Other places throughout the country will be affected in a lesser degree.

The manufacturers in this city have telegraphed their salesmen to come home.

While Weyler's order has this disastrous effect on the clear Havana trade it is a distinct boon to the domestic tobacco growers and to manufacturers of cheap brands.

The domestic leaf already has gone up 25 per cent in price, and the manufacturers of cheap cigars are looking for a big boom in business.

Leading cigar manufacturers and jobbers ridicule the announcement made in a morning paper that as a result of Gen. Weyler's orders in Cuba nearly every manufactory in Chicago engaged in making Havana cigars will close within ninety days and that thousands of cigarmakers will be thrown out of employment.

Eugene Vallens, one of the largest manufacturers and importers of Havana goods, said:

"It is undoubtedly true that stocks, especially wrapper stocks, are light in this country, but they are sufficient to last for at least four months, and before that time I look for a repeal of the Weyler edict prohibiting the exportation of leaf tobacco from Cuba. By that time the Spanish Government will have become thoroughly satisfied of the folly of the order. It undoubtedly was issued under the impression that it would cripple the resources of the Cuban cigarmakers of this country and thus prevent them from contributing to the support of the insurgent cause.

"There are many more growers of tobacco in Cuba than manufacturers, and when they find the price of their product cut in two as a result of this order they will not feel disposed to submit quietly. The American market has been their salvation.

"Already protests are being raised against the order in Havana, as the following cablegram received yesterday from our Havana house will show:

"'A protest has been entered before the Executive Council against the edict. Will telegraph results of their deliberations.'

"Should the edict continue in force for any length of time it would undoubtedly affect the prices of Havana goods, but I don't think it would result in throwing many cigarmakers out of employment."

CANOVAS FORESEES NO TROUBLE.

Premier Says the Competitor Case Will Not Disturb Foreign Relations.

[SPECIAL CABLE BY A. E. HOUGHTON.]

Madrid, Spain, May 20.—[Copyrighted, 1896, by the Press Publishing Company, New York World.]—"The Competitor case is not at all likely to disturb the relations between the Spanish and the American Governments," said Premier Canovas to me today.

"The official relations between the two countries," the Premier went on to say, "have become of late even more cordial, if possible, than ever, while the general relations also are improving with the subsidence of popular excitement on both sides.

"The Spanish Government is quite satisfied with the friendly disposition shown all through by President Cleveland, Secretary Olney, and the other Federal authorities, especially with the fair, amicable tone adopted in the representations made about the Competitor case."

Premier Canovas spoke also of the efforts of the American Government to get from the inferior courts and the United States Supreme Court some well-defined, fixed jurisprudence in regard to filibustering expeditions. "In the Competitor case," he continued, "this government was able to interfere on political and diplomatic grounds to suspend execution of the court-martial's sentence, and decided to refer the whole case to the Supreme Naval and Military Court of Appeals in Madrid, which is competent to pronounce not only on the validity of the procedure, but on the merits of the case.

"The executive branch of the government could not invade the domain of judicial power, but the Supreme Court will ascertain whether or not the procedure and decision of the naval court-martial at Havana were in harmony with the stipulations of the treaty of 1795 and the protocol of 1877, which naturally could not be set aside by any subsequent Spanish legislation or Spanish court.

"The appointment of Gen. Fitzhugh Lee to be Consul-General at Havana causes no concern or apprehension, as the Spanish Minister at Washington continues to report the excellent disposition of the executive.

"The debates in the American and the Spanish Congresses will not affect materially the relations of the two countries. We understand that the executive in America cannot interfere with the freedom of speech of orators, though here in Spain we have the advantage that our Ministers present in the Cortes can always point out that the government and the majority of the nation are not responsible for the utterances of the opposition members.

"My opinion is that the state of affairs in Cuba is improving in its military and political aspects. The insurgents are beginning to surrender, with their arms, and families are coming in to seek the protection of our forces, which have been able to push operations in May, as the rains begin later this season."

TAYLOR PRAISES THE SPANIARDS.

Minister to Madrid Says They Are a Noble and Chivalrous People.

[SPECIAL CABLE BY DON MANUEL D'ALHAMA.]

Madrid, May 20.—[Copyrighted, 1896, by the New York Journal.]—The Minister of Foreign Affairs today sent a note to the papers here declaring that, according to official information from Washington, Senator Morgan never called the Queen "cruel." His words censuring the Queen's speech were "cruel monarchy," and so they appear in the official report of the Senate proceedings. The correction arrived just in time to prevent the entering of a protest today in Congress against Mr. Morgan's words.

Mr. Taylor, the American Minister to Spain, said today, with reference to the report he intended going to the United States: "I have no intention of leaving Madrid until the end of my natural term of office. I pray Providence that when that day arrives, and I bid good-by to this noble and chivalrous people, that all doubts now existing shall have disappeared and no cloud shall darken the Spanish sky."

WOODMAN RAKES THE PRESIDENT.

Condemns Him as Partly Responsible for the Condition in Cuba.

Washington, D. C., May 20.—[Special.]—Charley Woodman took up the cudgels for Cuba before the Foreign Affairs committee today in support of his joint resolution recognizing the Cubans as insurgents. Perhaps because of his experience in the convention the West Side Congressman was in no amiable frame of mind, and handled President Cleveland without gloves. In the course of his talk to the committee the 'Squire said:

"The view of an Executive officer of the Government of the United States assuming to place his personal opinions or desires above those which the people have almost unanimously expressed through their representatives in Congress presents a humiliating spectacle. This government of all governments of the world which should be controlled by the people is in the hands of a dictator, who runs things to suit his personal ideas.

"The President of the United States neglects to carry out the will of the people, clearly and plainly expressed—expressed as advisory instead of authoritatively as a personal courtesy to him. He appreciates not that courtesy. He makes no reply to the plainly stated advice of Congress—in other words, he treats Congress with contempt, and permits by his inaction the continuance of the worst condition of affairs ever seen in a country or under a government which makes a pretense of civilization. He permits, contrary to the will of the people of the United States, a condition of warfare on the Island of Cuba, within sixty miles of American soil, the details of which are an insult to the boasted intelligence of the end of the nineteenth century.

"The domination of the butcher should be brought to an end. The President should be requested directly by the House of Representatives to take action in the matter. The reign of blood and carnage and butchery and brutality should end, and the condition of war—if war must exist—should be such a condition of war as is recognized by modern civilization. The wholesale murder of prisoners-of-war and non-combatants should cease. The virtue of women should be respected. The cries of helpless children of slain and outraged parents should be made through the House of Representatives to reach the brain and the alleged heart of the President, who, through his own little ones, should be within reach of some feeling of humanity.

"The world recognizes—from a standpoint of humanity—that war exists in Cuba. The failure to officially so declare rests upon the head of the Executive. It is apprehended that this resolution may show him where he stands—in open opposition to the will of the people. Let the horrors cease."

FILIBUSTERS SAIL FROM NEW YORK.

Steamer Three Friends Takes a Valuable Cargo of Arms to Cuba.

New York, May 20.—[Special.]—Gen. Rafael M. Portuondo's filibustering expedition succeeded in stealing out of New York harbor early on last Saturday morning on board the steamer Three Friends.

Gen. Portuondo was on board with thirty-five Cubans under command of Gen. Couspier. They had been brought from Brooklyn by a tug.

The cargo arrived on lighters and was transferred to the hold of the steamer. It included 2,000 rounds of ammunition, 500 rifles, and a half ton of dynamite. The Three Friends then put to sea without attracting the United States authorities.

ATTORNEY KILLS HIMSELF AND WIFE.

Charles M. England of Los Angeles, Who Had Cleared Himself of Charge of Forgery, Ends His Life.

Los Angeles, Cal., May 20.—Charles M. England, a young attorney who resided in East Los Angeles, killed his wife last night, and then committed suicide. The bodies were found today. England came from Arkansas, and was indicted by a grand jury in that State a short while ago for forgery. He had cleared himself of the charge. He shot his wife through the temple as she lay asleep, and then sat down and wrote several letters to relations and friends and a will, disposing of his few possessions. He then lay down by his wife's body and shot himself.

HOLD THEIR ANNUAL ENCAMPMENT.

Sons of Veterans of Illinois Meet at Masonic Temple.

The fourteenth annual encampment of the Illinois Division, Sons of Veterans, is being held at Commandery Hall, Masonic Temple. Nearly 100 are in attendance, representing a State membership of 2,500. Frank L. Shepard is Commander.

The opening session was held yesterday, when the officers made their reports. The Commander's report showed that sixteen new camps, with a membership of 454, were instituted during the year.

The report of the Committee on Ritual, which recommended a change from three degrees to one degree, was tabled.

Galesburg was selected as the location of the next encampment. This encampment will be in conjunction with the G. A. R.

Today new officers are to be elected, and delegates to the national encampment at Louisville, Ky., Sept. 8 to 12, will be chosen. Capt. W. G. Dustin, editor and proprietor of the Dwight Star and Herald, and son of Gen. Daniel Dustin, once a subtreasurer in Chicago, has no opposition for the office of Commander.

Three hundred guests attended the reception and ball given in honor of the Ladies' Aid Society, G. A. R., and Daughters of Veterans last evening. The dancing was in the Masonic Temple drill hall.

PRINCETON TIGERS ARE BEATEN.

University of Virginia Team Does the Trick Easily.

Princeton, N. J., May 20.—[Special.]—Costly errors at critical moments and general listless playing cost Princeton the game with University of Virginia this afternoon. Wilson pitched a good game for the Tigers, striking out fourteen men. The visitors obtained a good lead in the first inning, and got four more runs in the fifth. Princeton then began to try, but could not overcome the big lead. The score:

Bond Defeats MacQuiston.

Bond defeated P. D. MacQuiston yesterday afternoon in the first match in the tennis tournament to select a second representative for the Western inter-collegiate games. The sets were 7—5, 6—4. The other matches will be played off as soon as possible as follows: Rand and Bond, Hill and Anderson, H. M. MacQuiston and Linn.

NEW ROLE FOR HENSON.

FIRST PRODUCTION IN THE WEST OF TINEL'S "FRANCIS."

Second Concert in the Cincinnati May Festival Series Is Not a Success Musically, but the Fault Is That of the Chorus and Not of the Composer or Soloists—Narrative Is Given to the First Tenors, Who Were Not Equal to the Innovation.

Cincinnati, O., May 20.—[Special.]—The second concert in the May festival series took place this evening in Springer Hall amid scenes similar to those of last evening. The audience was if anything a larger and more enthusiastic one in spite of the threatening aspect of the weather. The program for this evening was devoted entirely to the first production in the West of Tinel's "St. Francis," or, more properly, "Francis," the libretto for which was written by a Flemish poet, Lodewijk de Koninck.

The story of Tinel's "Francis" is founded upon incidents in the life of St. Francis of Assisi, founder of the order of the Franciscans, following him through life, beginning with happy, careless, pleasure loving boyhood, through paths of self renunciation, poverty, and internal conflict up to his final glorification and santification. The story, based on these incidents, gives ample scope for musical illustration, working steadily toward a legitimate and inspiring climax.

The libretto is full of poetic suggestions, noble and strong throughout. The English adaptation is by Mr. John Fenton, and is wonderfully good for a translation, adhering very closely to the original meaning without sacrificing the poetic effect. This work has proved a great favorite in the Old World, where it has been sung nearly fifty times in Germany and a dozen times in England. It received its first production in the English language at the Cardiff (Wales) festival, of which Sir Joseph Barnby was the musical director, a little over a year ago, and since then at Bradford, Manchester, Liverpool, and Bristol.

The performance of this evening was far from being the success, musically, that greeted the audience of last evening. The soloists and orchestra were up to the requirements of the score in nearly every case, but no so the chorus. The narrative, instead of being intrusted to one or more soloists, as is so often the case, is given by Mr. Tinel to the first tenors, who, unfortunately for every one concerned, are not usually found in large numbers, nor with large and leading voices, in the United States. Hence their attempts to tell the story of the oratorio was a lamentable failure.

Mr. Tinel may have realized that such a possibility might arise, for in the second part of "Francis" he gives the narrative to the basses, but, alas! the result was not perceptibly better. When the chorus had an opportunity to sing all four parts at once the volume of sound seemed to give the individual singer courage with decidedly favorable result, but when any one part essayed to take up the thread on its own responsibility the effort was weak, the attack poor, and intonation and pitch faulty.

The characters were taken as follows:

Voice from Heaven..........
Angel of Hope..........
Angel of Love..........Mme. Medora Henson
Francis..........Mr. Ben Davies
Angel of Peace..........Mr. George J. Hamlin
Spirit of War..........
Host..........Mr. Ffrangcon Davies
Watchman..........Mr. Plunket Greene
Spirit of Hatred..........Mr. Watkin Mills
Chorus of 450, orchestra of 125, and organ.

The solos assigned to Mme. Henson may be said to be absolutely thankless, having nothing but technical beauties which appeal only to a musician to recommend them, with not even a hold on a high note, so dear to every soprano's heart, to redeem them in the popular sight. She sang, however, like a musician, the only criticism which could justly be made being a tendency at times to vary slightly from the key, which, all things considered, might be pardoned.

Mr. Ben Davies, on whom the brunt of the male solo work fell, was in better voice than last evening and sang the part of Francis with intelligence and beauty. His singing of the "Hymn of the Sun" and the "Hymn of Love" created the nearest approach to enthusiasm on the part of the audience.

Mr. Ffrangcon Davies sang the rôle of the Host with great dignity and fine declamatory effect.

The minor parts, principally in concerted work, were most acceptably taken by the gentlemen to whom they were allotted, Mr. Hamlin's voice showing to particular advantage in the quartet. The singing of this quartet demonstrated positively one fact, and that was that Mr. Tinel's composition, to receive its proper rendition, should be sung by musicians and not by amateurs.

GENERAL NEWS FROM NEW YORK.

Daughters of the Revolution Call a Meeting to Act on Consolidation.

New York, May 20.—[Special.]—There is a strong possibility that the Daughters of the Revolution will unite their issues with the Daughters of the American Revolution and thus end a series of internal dissensions that have been in progress for a long time. A call has been issued for a meeting to be held May 28 at which such a consolidation will be acted upon.

WORDY WAR OVER ICE QUESTION.

Commissioner Kerr Writes a Caustic Letter to the Civic Federation.

The charge of selling impure ice in the city for domestic uses will be brought before the Central Council of the Civic Federation at its meeting in the Palmer House this evening. In the meantime there is likely to be a merry war of words between the federation officers and the City Health Department.

Commissioner Kerr addressed a letter to President W. T. Baker late last night in which he says he knew it all the time and was powerless to act on account of the Council having failed to pass the ice ordinance he requested several months ago.

The Knickerbocker Ice company enters a general denial to the charges. The Washington Ice company said it preferred not to discuss the subject.

The Civic Federation referred the matter to Mayor Swift early yesterday morning in a letter in which it said:

"Recognizing the serious menace to public health which arises from the sale of impure ice in our city, the Public Health committee of the Civic Federation desires to call your official attention to the following facts concerning our ice supply: Out of five samples of ice sold to the agents of the Civic Federation at different stations and by different companies for domestic or drinking purposes none was found safe for use. We think it only necessary to call your Honor's attention to these facts in order to secure an immediate enforcement of the ordinance."

The signatures to this letter are typewritten and are:

Sarah Hackett Stevenson, Chairman,
D. R. Brower,
H. M. Thomas,
W. E. Quine,
Sanger Brown,
F. G. Logan,
W. C. Hollister.

Accompanying the letter were unsigned statements of detectives of the Civic Federation, covering the situation practically as stated in THE TRIBUNE of yesterday.

The letter and accompanying statements were given to Health Commissioner Kerr, who at once prepared an answer to Mr. Baker and the Civic Federation. After calling attention to what he terms "the want of authentic signatures" to the document (the signatures being typewritten), and the same lack of signatures to the purported reports of detectives, Mr. Kerr says:

"These, however, are minor matters, since there is nothing in the report, or in its accompanying document, of practical value, except as evidence of the interest taken by the federation in all sorts of affairs. By 'practical value' I mean that there is absolutely nothing important, and at the same time true, in these seventeen pages which was not already known and of record in the Health Department, whose business it is to know, and, so far as it has legal authority and resources, to deal with.

"As a matter of fact, your detectives' reports and the alleged results of your chemist's analyses are wholly insignificant as compared with the information secured by the city bacteriologist and city chemist, and their six inspectors, concerning every one of the thirty-eight localities from which last winter's ice supply was cut. Of the thirty-eight localities inspected the water was pronounced 'good' in eight, 'usable' in eleven, 'suspicious' in nine, and 'bad' in ten.

"I have bonds from twenty-eight ice dealers, and if the Civic Federation will furnish proof competent to convict any of them of violation of the ordinances concerning the cutting, storing, and sale of ice, every city official concerned will be prompt to avail himself of such proof."

Mr. Shedd of the Knickerbocker Ice company said yesterday there was no truth in the report that his company was selling impure ice for domestic purposes. He said his company was under bond to the city not to sell impure ice, and it was not doing so. The domestic ice sold was from Wolf Lake, which was guarded from contamination by dams, and special sewers carrying off the drainage to the river. None of the river water got into that lake. The ice was being used for home consumption, and as such he considered it safe and pure.

At the office of the Washington Ice company nothing would be said about the charge of selling impure ice. They did not care to deny or affirm the charges.

GOES BEFORE GRAND JURY TODAY.

Inspector Shea Will Present His Evidence in the Marshall Case.

Inspector Shea started on a tour of investigation when he heard of the published statements purporting to come from Inspector Schaack and Detective Andy Rohan questioning the validity of his evidence against the men under arrest for the Marshall murder. Late in the afternoon he received telephone communications discrediting the alleged interviews.

The West Side Inspector is firm in his belief of the guilt of the men in custody, and will go before the grand jury today with his testimony. He does not believe the men who committed the recent depredations on the North Side are the robbers who attempted to loot the Marshall store.

WASHINGTON IS A CHOSEN STATE

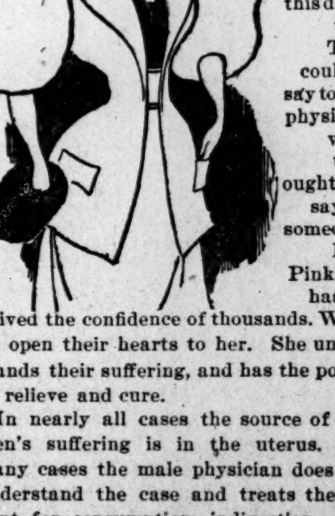

Is Selected as the Western Representative for an Exhibition.

Tacoma, Wash., May 20.—The Tacoma Chamber of Commerce has issued a call for a convention of the commercial bodies of Washington, to be held here June 17, to take action on the invitation of the Philadelphia Museum for Washington, as the typical Western State, to make a permanent exhibition of the natural and manufactured products of the State in the great commercial museum now being established in Philadelphia. Pending the erection of permanent buildings space is too limited to allow an exhibit from each State. Washington was recently chosen to represent the West and Georgia the South.

HESITATE NO LONGER.

Modesty in women is natural. It is one of women's chief charms.

No one cares for one who really lacks this essential to womanliness.

Women have suffered fearfully because of over-sensitiveness in this direction. They couldn't say to the physician what they ought to say to someone. Mrs. Pinkham has received the confidence of thousands. Women open their hearts to her. She understands their suffering, and has the power to relieve and cure.

In nearly all cases the source of women's suffering is in the uterus. In many cases the male physician does not understand the case and treats the patient for consumption—indigestion—anything but the right thing.

It is under such circumstances that thousands of women have turned to Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., and opened their heart and lives—woman to woman—and received her help.

You ask how she can tell if the doctor cannot? Because no man living ever treated so many cases and possesses such vast experience.

Displacement, inflammation, torpid action, stagnation, sends to all parts of the body the pains that crush you.

Lydia E. Pinkham's "Vegetable Compound" is the sure cure for this trouble. For twenty years it has done its grand work and cured thousands.

SHORT STORY OF THE DAY.

Cousin Mar' Elizy's Visit.

"JUST what I told Jenny," declared Mrs. Basset approvingly, from the depths of the striped rocking-chair, in which she passed her evenings. "There ain't no need to turn things upside down because o' Cousin Mar' Elizy's visit. Tidy the rooms a bit and set a good, plain table, and let it go. It don't seem possible it's twenty years sence she was here!"

"What's good enough for us is good enough for her, and I want you should bear it in mind," observed Mr. Basset with masculine emphasis.

"W'y, of course it is. Now, Jenny had a notion to take her carpet up and make a rug for the dining-room out o' the best breadths; said she'd do 'ith a bare floor herself. But I told her that 'd be clear ridic'lous—wouldn't it, Nathaniel?" and Mrs. Basset raised her gray eyes inquiringly over her spectacles.

"Ridic'lous? I sh'd say so! Might better buy a carpet out-and-out," said Nathaniel shortly.

"W'y, so you might—if there was any call to. And it matches the wall-paper full as well as 'tis, anyhow. Well, well! To think o' seeing Mar' Elizy again! I don't know as we'll know her, but then, tain't likely there'll be another woman stop off here on the same train. How fair she used to be, and al'ays wore her hair crimped and put back over a roll. Father wouldn't let me, on account o' being Methodys, but Uncle Robbins used to say the better a woman looked, the better she acted, and I don't know but what he was right. She was a lively, sociable girl as you'd as' to see, and she had three good offers, to my own knowledge, Mar' Elizy did."

"Mebby you had better get a new carpet, when all's said and done," observed the master of the house slowly. "Wool goods is marked down now, and there's a hole in my end of the table that I've ketched my chair-leg in twenty times if I have once."

"My father!" exclaimed Mrs. Basset in a deep tone of wifely concern. "Now why didn't you say the word and I'd have put a good stout patch under it? You know how poor my eyesight is, and as for Jenny, I tell her she wouldn't see 'em if there was circus-posters pasted up on the meetin'-house door. Well, to be sure, if you feel like bein' at the expense of a carpet, I ain't the one to gainsay you. We want to make Mar' Elizy's visit pleasant for her, and any one might get their death of a fall when a carpet ketches that way. I don't know how William Judd was in his last years, but he was close as wax when she was married to him. That was one thing that set me ag'in him; he'd never part with a cent, even in his courtin' days, without lookin' both sides of it. But he prospered, and if she's left well off now, I'm sure I don't begrudge it to her.

"D'YE HEAR THAT, MA?"

She was fond of a good time from her youth up, and liked seein' comp'ny," said innocent Mrs. Basset, preparing to wind up her carpet rags.

"It's likely you heard of all the offers she had, for you was more like sisters than cousins," remarked Mr. Basset reflectively.

"That's true; we was just like own sisters," assented his wife, "though come to think I never told her about William Judd's askin' me; and yet I might a' done if he hadn't made up to her so quick. Dear, dear, I have to laugh when I think o' the letter he wrote me! 'Twas beautiful, and very feeling, but I no sooner set eyes on it than I see 'twas taken down out of 'Dan'l's Genteel Letter-Writer.' I fetched pa's book, and there 'twas word for word, with two answers, a 'yes,' and a 'no,' and I was just mischievous enough to cut out the 'no,' and get brother to give it to William when he called round that night. I remember how fiery he looked at me next time we met, and it wa'n't but a fortnit after that he put the question to Mar' Elizy. She took him up quick enough, and I recollect she was kind of boastful to me, though you was waitin' on me then yourself, Nathaniel. But I wa'n't agoin' to spile her and William's enjoyment by lettin' out how I had first chance. I used often to say I wouldn't look at a man as had not the spunk to speak up, but——"

"As to well off and ill off," broke in Mr. Basset, "it's my belief there's money put into them Western mortgages that never comes out, 'specially when they fall to women folks. I never could see as William Judd was so turrible smart about business, and I wager my wife can make as good an appearance as his, and my girl hold up her head with the best, and no thanks to anybody."

"La, father," said Mrs. Basset soothingly, "you needn't heat up that way; I ain't faulted you none, have I? I'm sure my good black silk was the talk o' the town when I bought it. And dear knows it's a wonder if Mar' Elizy's Harriet can come near our Jenny for looks—the Judds was all peak-faced, and that foxy hair is sort o' apt to run in families. Jenny might 'a' been married twice over if you'd seen fit, and so I shall tell Mar' Elizy."

"That silk's as good as ever, ain't it?" demanded Mr. Basset suspiciously.

"W'y, yes, I call it so"—with a slightly forced air of cheerfulness. "The worn spots ain't noticeable, and that streak o' wagon grease yielded some when I took napthy to it; and if it ain't up to the top-notch of the style, w'y, me and you ain't as young as we once was. I tell Jenny, if the waist gets much smaller"—(this was Mrs. Basset's figurative way of alluding to her own increasing amplitude)—"if the waist gets much smaller I'll give it to her, and the skirt and overskirt'll make a new pair o' sleeves, and maybe trim a hat. She's wore that spotted delaine for best goin' on three years now. There, just heft that, will you, Nathaniel?" and the good lady put the last touches to a corpulent rag ball.

"Where is Jenny anyhow?" asked Mr. Basset after a pause.

"I guess she's gone up-stairs to her room," answered his wife with a certain air of timidity. "She's felt all upset since old Mis' Watters was over here yes'day."

"What was she here for, I'd like to know?" pursued Mr. Basset impatiently.

"W'y, father," ventured Mrs. Basset, "she'd tuk it into her head that Jenny was goin' to be married this summer while cousin Mar' Elizy was here. You know how long John Lamson 's ben keepin' comp'ny with her, and now it seems he's got a chance in the new creamery over to Kelloggville—$750 a year and that little place o' Jim Kellog's. Well, she'd got it all planned out, and when she heard you'd forbid him the house she said it fa'rly tuk her off her feet, she did so."

"I wish she hadn't got back onto 'em so quick then," growled Father Basset, "that's all I can say."

"Well, I wisht so, too, pa—gittin' Jenny all stirred up ag'in the very time when I was tryin' to quieten her down. She'll carry on a spell, an' then set round like one in an aguy fit, and I don't know what's to be done for her, unless Mar' Elizy's visit should prove kind o' medic'nal. Mebby it will. That's a good position for John; 'twas some time we did with less."

"Punkins are all very well," returned Father Basset in a gruff, argumentative voice, "but why take up with a punkin when there's a squash lyin' handy—heh?"

"To be sure, father," returned Mrs. Basset in a bewildered tone.

"What does she want to take up with John Lamson for when she might have Mister Canfield—a nice, citified young chap as you'd want to lay eyes on, talks like a book, and his pa worth $25,000 if he is a cent? It ain't John I object to, I tell you—it's her throwin' away her chances," ended Nathaniel angrily.

"Just what I said, father," ejaculated Mother Bassett, in the tone of one whose prophecy has come true. "I says to Jenny we might like to have you settle down near by, where we could keep track of you like, and have you run in every day or so and cheer us up, as we're gittin' along in years; but if its for your good to go off the Lord knows whar, an' have dancin' and card parties, and git into a higher spere than the one you was born to, w'y, you must think of your own good. O, I've put it to her strong, time and ag'in, but it does seem as though she was as set on John as I was on you, pa. Well, when Mar' Elizy comes we can talk it all over with her, and take counsel together, and mebby she can reason her out of it or hit on some plan."

"O, yes," broke out the master of the house, wrathfully, "it's a new dress here and a bunnit there, and carpets, and wall paper, and fix the front stoop, and paint the chicken-house, and have tea parties, and ride out, and don't set in your shirt-sleeves, and all along o' Mar' Elizy's visit. I wish she'd staid in Keokuk, that I do."

"W'y, father," remonstrated Mrs. Basset, while a light of irrepressible triumph shone in her eye, "I'm sure I ain't asked for none o' them things. I said, and you said, and we both said, there wa'n't no need to turn things upside down on account o' Cousin Mar' Elizy."

"And now on top of all that we must have a weddin' in the house," continued the exasperated head of the family. "Of course, if Jenny's goin' to carry on, and keep to her room, and run up a doctor's bill, it's an economy, as you may say, to have her married and done with it. I shan't take nobody's say-so, nor fit her out with new clo'es twice—let her understand that. O, I know," he went on with masculine scorn, "you may choose to live poor and turn your dresses inside out, and have folks look down on you; but I don't choose you should; and, what's more, I'll have no Mar' Elizy Robbinses undertakin' to settle my duty—she, nor yet you. I've been master here up'ards o' twenty year, and I don't propose to stand down now—d'ye hear that, ma?"

And Mrs. Bassett answered meekly: "Yes, pa, I do."—Dora Read Goodale in New York Evening Post.

WOMAN'S CLUB ELECTION.

TICKET HEADED BY ELIZABETH H. BALL IS SUCCESSFUL.

Three Factions Struggle for the Control of the Organization—Methods of the Old Administration Are Indorsed—Directors of the Various Departments Chosen—Annual Meeting and Reports of Officers and of Committees—Fight Over By-Laws.

The Chicago Woman's club held its annual election yesterday. Three tickets were in the field, and the one headed by Elizabeth H. Ball was successful.

It was the end of a long struggle of three factions for mastery. Many of the members were opposed to the secrecy that has been thrown around the meetings and wanted them open to reporters. Another faction favored the present method, in which only certain information is given out by a Press committee. The most conservative members were in favor of making everything done a secret and barring the press from the precincts of the club.

It was expected this question would come up during the afternoon session, but those members who had determined to make the fight for more liberality were disappointed, the consideration of the necessary change in the by-laws being sent over to an adjourned meeting on June 3.

As soon as the question was introduced by the Committee on Revision half a dozen members clamored to be heard in support of the motion that all meetings shall be open to reporters, but they were ruled out of order, and to shut off further debate the report was sent unread to an adjourned meeting.

The President was then authorized to appoint six delegates to the Model Workshop and Lodging-House Association; twenty-four delegates to the School Children's Aid Society; one delegate to the Convention of Charities and Corrections at Grand Rapids on June 4; and one to the Democratic county convention, in order that she might urge the appointment of one woman Trustee for the University of Illinois.

Result of the Election.

In spite of this setback, however, there was excitement enough in the election. The three tickets were headed by Elizabeth H. Ball, Mary L. Matz, and Marie C. Remick, and during the entire time the voting was being carried on the supporters of each ticket vigorously canvassed in favor of their respective candidates. Those in support of the ticket headed by Elizabeth H. Ball were the most numerous, however, and when the polls closed it was found that with the exception of one officer, the Second Vice-President, it had won.

The officers elected are:

President—Elizabeth H. Ball.
First Vice-President—Louise Dickenson Sherman.
Second Vice-President—Lucy F. Furness.
Recording Secretary—Mary Redfield Plummer.
Corresponding Secretary—Cornelia Baker.
Treasurer—Emily Starkey.

The polling began at 10 o'clock in the morning and lasted until 2:30 o'clock and was conducted according to the Australian method.

Department Directors.

In addition to the officers elected the following were chosen directors in the various departments:

Reform—
Mary Winniett Colman, Chairman, Julia B. Shattuck, Ida Edwards Keen.
Education—
Gertrude E. Blackwelder, Chairman, Clarrissa D. Morford, Agnes E. Stirling.
Philanthropy—
Mary H. Thomas, Leila G. Bedell, Mary H. Andrews.
Art and Literature—
Caroline M. Edwards, Chairman, Lula B. Carpenter, Kate Pomeroy Merrill.
Home—
Agnes V. Sherwood, Chairman, Mary L. Pettibone, Keturah P. McArthur.
Philosophy and Science—
Nellie J. O'Connor, Chairman, Kate M. Higginson, Bonnie Withrow.
Membership—
Harriet Hege Cary, Edith Thomas Carton, Emma J. Parker, Ida M. Lane, Marion Burton Upton, Laura R. Clark, Emma S. Wood, Frances E. Ripley, Sara Lacey, Annie W. Johnson, Laura E. Wilkinson, Nannie W. Rawson.

Reports of Officers.

During the time the voting was going on in the directors' room, and up to 5:30 o'clock in the evening, the annual meeting of the club was held in the auditorium, the President, Mrs. John C. Coonley, presiding. During the morning the annual reports of the officers, departments, and committees of the club were received and ratified.

The report of the Membership committee showed an increase of sixty-seven members during the year, making a total of 730. Ten reinstatements and eight deaths of members were reported.

Jane Addams of Hull House and Mrs. I. H. Peabody of Auburn Park were elected honorary club members.

Vice-President Kate G. Huddleston announced to those desiring to attend the biennial meeting of the General Federation of Woman's Clubs at Louisville on May 27, 28, and 29, that special cars would be provided for the Chicago delegates. The party will be composed of nearly 100 club women, and will leave over the Monon route at 8:30 o'clock on Tuesday morning. Tea was served at the close of the meeting.

Inspect West Side Parks.

The West End Woman's club at its last meeting provided for the appointment of forty women to assist in its municipal reform work. This committee, in order to better understand the needs and workings of the West Chicago park system, took a coach ride on Wednesday through the West Side parks and boulevards to inspect the work under way.

FARMING AT THE NORMAL

PUPILS LEARN TO MAKE HOLES IN THE GROUND AND PLANT SEEDS.

Country Farmers Warned to Mortgage the Old Homestead and Raffle Off the Cow—Experiment Not So Much a Blow at the Squedunk Onion Trust as at the Peculiar Theories of Certain Text-Book Compilers—Work Assigned to the Different Grades.

Prim-looking young women armed with rakes, dignified young men carrying watering-cans, and a small army of juveniles with their pockets filled with seeds and their hands full of potatoes and tomato plants began farming in Chicago yesterday morning. The farm lies south of the Cook County Normal School, where the hired men and their helpers learn readin', 'ritin', and 'rithmetic when not engaged in spring plowing.

When they began farming yesterday the people around the school sent word to their relatives down in the country to mortgage the old homestead and raffle off the cow, because the visible food supply for the City of Chicago was to be furnished in the future by Farmer Parker, the President of the Cook County Normal School, and numerous tenants who occupy the dormitories on four-year leases.

But the raising of crops on the Normal half-acre farm was not designed so much as a blow at the Squedunk onion trust or the Posey County hay-harvesters' combine as it was at the peculiar ideas the little boys and girls are taught. Many of the text-books concerning the rise and fall of the tomato vine and the broom corn were written by the same parties who write "Hints to Farmers" and items in regard to the cruelty of dehorning hydraulic rams.

The new professor arrived in the middle of the afternoon driving a horse hitched to a plow, and instead of saying "Young people, I take pleasure," etc., he says "Gee, haw."

The seed-planting for this year's crop was accomplished yesterday morning. The farm was divided into sections, or beds, which were assigned to the different grades. Each class in the grade received its part of the section, and each individual was given one row to watch and care for. Each bed was planted on one side with flower seeds and on the other with vegetable seeds. They were guided by a circular of instructions which would drive an ordinary McLean County farmer into an asylum. The planting was successfully accomplished under the direction of Farmer Jackman, the head of the Science Department, and Farmer Meyers, his assistant.

One little boy in the primary department put all the aster seeds down another little boy's neck, and an anxious wait ensued while the little boy with the seeds was held upside down and emptied, and one of the little girls ate up the scabiosa seeds and is now regarded with the most solicitous interest by her mother.

The work is only begun. The young agriculturists must remove all the weeds as fast as they appear and put salt on the potato bugs.

HAS MONEY TO THROW TO THE BIRDS.

Generosity Causes a Bridegroom to Lose His Bride and a Portion of His Inheritance.

Cincinnati, O., May 20.—[Special.]—Henry Wenning, who is 48 years old, was married yesterday to Kate Pardoner, who is forty years old. The couple began their honeymoon by driving about in a buggy.

Before starting Wenning had changed $100 into coppers, which he threw into the streets as he drove along. Naturally it was not long until he had a crowd of several hundred boys and men following him, picking up what he threw away. The crowd was so large when they reached John and Wade streets that it attracted the attention of Officer Colina.

The officer told Wenning to cease throwing away his money and drive away so that the crowd would disperse. While the officer was talking to Wenning the latter threw several handfuls of the coin into the air, and the crowd yelled with delight. The result was that Wenning was arrested and locked up at the Oliver Street Station, charged with disorderly conduct.

Wenning explained his strange conduct to the police by saying he had recently inherited $42,000, and as the money came easy he intended to have it go the same route. The bride was sent to her home.

SOME OF THE CURIOUS HAPPENINGS OF A CHICAGO DAY.

Conductors on Illinois Central suburban trains will all be in the hospitals in a short time suffering from severe attacks of nervous prostration if the festive commuter does not stop jumping off the trains and walking across the tracks at Battery D. Trains running into the Randolph street station stop at the foot of Madison street.

The iron fence along the railroad right of way has been taken down and the passengers whose business is in the vicinity of Madison street see a chance of saving a walk. They never get the idea until the train is about to start. Then they rush frantically from their seats and tumble off the train.

The conductor begs them to stop and the fat policeman waves his club and yells. But the excited commuters tumble into the ditch, skip in front of the southbound trains, and at the risk of their good clothes, not to mention a limb, make a saving of three minutes in time.

On a weather-beaten pedestal at the top of a high bill-board near Thirty-sixth and State streets is a stuffed moose. The advertisement painted beneath it disappeared years ago, and the moose is disintegrating as fast as the iron rods in his legs and the arsenic in his skin will allow. All of the skull on the State street side is bare of hide, and the presence of a stiff steel rod where the animal's spinal marrow used to be alone prevents a general collapse.

Last week two sparrows found a building site in the moose's right eye. They carefully removed the fragments of glass eye from the bottom of the cavity and enough hemp stuffing from the throat to make a regular sparrow flat. Enough feathers have been carried into the skull and the moose's throat to fill a small pillow. The bony arch that once protected the moose's eye now keeps the rain out of the nest. Every afternoon the head of the new house can be seen sitting on the antlers watching his possession.

"O, Mr. Policeman," begged a young woman who was scorching in the Midway yesterday. "It wasn't my fault. Really it wasn't."

"Well, youse was a scorching," replied the stern-eyed minion of the law. "An' I'll have to pull the wagon."

"But really it wasn't my fault," said the bicyclist, with tears in her eyes.

"Whose fault was it then?"

"Why, it's the wind."

"How's that?"

"Well, you know its blowing a ten-knot breeze today and my accordion skirt has fifteen yards in it, and when I'm going before the wind I can't stop."

"Well, it's all right this time because that's a new one, but it won't go again."

"What, the skirt?"

"No, the excuse." And the policeman went in seach of other erring bicycle riders, who were exceedingly scarce yesterday owing to the dust and the wind.

A liquor dealer whose saloon is in North Halsted street recently became the proud owner of a two-headed calf. Death cut short its career, however, while its owner was figuring up the increased trade its possession was to bring. He had it mounted and now it stands in front of his place of business, and the patrons of the place look upon it as one of the most interesting creations of nature and art. They call it "Billy."

Two birds, cow buntings, wandered up that way yesterday and spied the stuffed calf. They immediately perched upon its back and began an industrious search for cow ticks. They had plenty of time so they spent an hour in the task. They could not have been hunting for moths, for the skin has been mounted only a week or two, and is still green.

The birds went over every inch of hair on the animal's back and neck, and were finally chased away by the bartender who thought they were trying to ruin his specimen.

An Uncle Tom's Cabin company paraded in State street yesterday morning between Twentieth and Twenty-seventh streets. Marks and his donkeys and Little Eva in her chariot were well along towards the front of the procession, with the bloodhounds in the middle, and Topsy, with yellow sunflowers in her hair, rode a donkey at the end.

Finally a goat came out of the livery barn and fell into line.

In some way Topsy's calico sash became loosened and dragged on the ground behind. The goat took no notice of it until it was under his feet, and then he began chewing. There was a yard and a half of the sash, but the goat found room for it, and Topsy, yellow sunflowers and all, might have followed if the goat hadn't mistaken the donkey's tail-tuft for more calico fringe.

Five minutes later Topsy had brushed the dust from her calico dress and the parade moved on. The livery stable men are caring for the goat.

HUSBANDS TO BE HOME AT 11 O'CLOCK.

Amendment to a Curfew Ordinance in the Interest of Wives Is Indignantly Voted Down.

Bridgeport, O., May 20.—[Special.]—The City Council has ordered the drawing of an ordinance closing saloons on Sunday and at 10 p. m. on week days. Also an ordinance to prohibit children under 15 from appearing on the streets after 8 o'clock p. m.

Dr. Wagner's amendment for married men to report to their wives at 11 p. m. was defeated.

The discussion of the ordinance resulted in a fight Tuesday between Frank Barber and Ebenezer Lyle of the Council. Lyle had both eyes blacked.

Woman in Business.

Woman's introduction into the business world is no longer an experiment. The feminine wage-earner is now a permanent factor in the national economy. The individual drops out of the ranks to form a center around which home springs up, but another woman, not a man, takes her place. The type remains. More and more places are being made for women, to such an extent that a recent census bulletin reports the increase in the number of women employed in gainful occupations during the period between 1870 and 1890 to have been 113 per cent, while in trade and transportation the increase was 1,051 per cent. This change is significant. It is, in fact, a revolution. Twenty, or indeed, ten years ago the girls of an ordinary middle class family in which the father was a small business-man, an expert mechanic, or a farmer capable of supporting his family with decency if not absolute comfort, were expected to stay at home and help with the housework until they went to preside over homes of their own. It was considered something of a slur to say that a man's daughters were obliged to go out to work. Nowadays this sentiment is reversed. A business training is as much a matter of course for the daughters as for the sons. And no one is surprised when the daughters prefer putting the training into practice instead of devoting their time to household duties enlivened with social amusements. The growth of the idea that woman is an individual, not an appendage, that she has social duties and moral responsibilities as well as men, is really at the bottom of the revolution.—Mary E. J. Kelley in June Lippincott's.

EXCELLENT MODEL FOR A SHIRT WAIST.

Design Is in General Use and Includes Both Standing and Turn-Over Collars.

An excellent and dainty model for woman's shirt waists, and one of the most used, is shown here. The design includes both standing and turn-over collars, as may be preferred.

Any cotton fabric of heavy or medium weight is suitable for this useful waist.

The collar and cuffs may be made detachable or sewn to the waist. The former plan is the better, as one may have two sets for one waist, and so get double the amount of wear, as cuffs and collars soil first.

NO. 7799—A PRETTY SHIRT WAIST.

This pattern costs 10 cents, and may be ordered from the pattern department of THE TRIBUNE.

It cuts in seven sizes for 30, 32, 34, 36, 38, 40, and 42 bust measure. A medium size requires three and one-half yards of material twenty-seven inches wide.

Always give bust measure for waists, basques, coats, and jackets. For skirts give waist measure. For children's patterns it is advisable to give age.

DECIDE NOT TO ADMIT WOMEN

Action Taken by the Faculty of the Milwaukee Medical Society.

Milwaukee, Wis., May 20.—[Special.]—The question of admitting women to the Milwaukee Medical College was discussed today by the faculty of that institution and decided in the negative. The faculty is composed of twenty physicians, eight of whom were pronounced in favor of the admission of women. The opponents of the proposition, while not strongly antagonistic to the principle of teaching medicine to women, urged that to admit women to the college would be very unwise in view of the fact that the male students most clamorously objected to such a step.

THURSDAY, MAY 21, 1896.

THE silver question is really only semi-financial.

NATURALLY it was a reigny day when the Czar entered Moscow.

COL. HANNA prefixed a Presidential "B" to his "oom" business.

THE country's hope is that the soft money people will become hardened by reverses.

DR. SENN presents a notable exhibition of grafting, but not to be compared with some of the finer exhibits in the town pay-rolls.

THE members of the Venezuela Commission are reported to have been greatly agitated by the rumored discovery of another map. It proved to be only a shirt waist pattern.

THE British Foreign Office is to issue another Venezuela blue book with copious additions to the previous publication. A respectable library can be made out of these Venezuelan "issues."

THE latest Cabinet rumor is that Mr. Platt will not be in it. This ex-astute politician having burned his bridges behind him with such thoroughness finds he could not reach the fold again in time to qualify for office. He is said to be up Salt River somewhere poling his way down on a raft.

PEARY is contemplating another journey to arctic regions, this time to bring back a forty-ton meteorite he discovered last year. This will be a welcome change from the usual purpose of seeking the pole. An expedition armed with derricks will inspire greater public confidence and insure more speedy success to the relief party in locating it later.

A NEW law in New York provides for consolidating the Astor, Lenox, and Tilden libraries in New York City. This is a consolidation that will meet approval everywhere. The proposition to utilize the old reservoir at Forty-second street and Fifth avenue as a site for the new library building will be equally welcome. This has long been an eyesore not to be endured in Chicago's seaport.

THE members of Congress were given a lively scare by a severe thunderstorm on Tuesday, and a wild panic was caused by the report that the Capitol had been struck by lightning. The solons were let off with a scare this time, but the result may be more serious later. Storms of this character must be expected in hot weather, and the temperature of the public is rising so rapidly that other storms, more destructive than those caused by the elements, are not improbable. The obvious moral is to adjourn and earn a national benediction.

THE New York stock market yesterday opened dull and irregular. On the local stock market Diamond Match sold off to a weak close. Sterling rates were unchanged. New York exchange sold at 90 cents to $1.10 premium.—Leading speculative produce markets were fairly active, with wheat firm on crop damage reports from Michigan. As compared with the last prices of the previous day July wheat closed ⅝ cent higher, corn and oats steady, cash rye steady, barley steady, flaxseed steady, July pork 15 cents lower, lard 7½ cents lower, and ribs 10 cents lower.

A NEW claimant to the title of "meanest man" is in evidence, but temporarily in hiding. He attended the revival of Chicago Free Methodists, exhorted, sang, led in prayer, and was so "perniciously" devout the preacher held a private session with him after the meeting. When the session rose and the preacher was alone with his thoughts he discovered the contents of his vest had departed with the newly converted brother. This instance of conversion, so comprehensive as to include personal property, will be suitably rewarded when the police and the "brother" meet.

ALTGELD says "practically the gold dollar is a 200-cent dollar." Then every greenback must be a 200-cent dollar, because redeemable in gold. Then every silver dollar in circulation now must be a 200-cent one, because it is as good as a gold dollar. So if every dollar is worth twice its nominal value the country must have twice as much money as it thought it had. According to the Treasury Department the total circulation is 1,729 millions. Altgeld says it is only 1,100 millions. But if he is correct, and that 1,100 millions in double-value money, as he alleges, then the country has 2,200 millions of money. And yet Altgeld thinks that is not enough, and at the same time champions a plan to decrease it. For he claims free coinage would cut down the value of the gold dollar—that is of every United States dollar—just one-half. Then, according to him, the utility or purchasing power of the money now in circulation would shrink one-half. Then he would have the contraction he dreads. Altgeld is not a very logical demagogue.

A PARADE of the street sweeping department of New York is a novelty arranged for next Tuesday. Commissioner of Public Works Waring will ride at the head of the 1,400 sweepers and 600 carts with floats peopled with auxiliaries, and overseers will follow on bicycles. An exhibition of this kind has been made possible by the fact that the street problem has been solved to general satisfaction in New York by keeping the streets clean. Here is a chance for Chicago to imitate with profit. Having a street cleaning department, all that would be necessary to do at first would be to hire some men to clean the streets. This should be a simple task even to a child in business. Then when the streets are cleaned let the parade follow as in New York. There may be objections to this here on the ground that hiring men to clean the streets would deprive a lot of contractors and their employés from city money on which they depend now for support. But this charity cannot be continued always, and it may as well be cut off now as later. By all means let the experiment be tried. A parade of men who had cleaned the streets of Chicago would be an exhibition worth going miles to witness.

ALTGELD'S LATEST SELF-INTERVIEW.

If Altgeld were not afraid of the sound money Democrats of Illinois he would take no notice of them. His abusive attack on them printed yesterday is evidence that he is worried. He says:

> The split now talked of is noise simply—much noise, but the Democratic party will not heed it. The party will go steadily along letting the majority rule, and from present indications will declare almost unanimously for the free coinage of both silver and gold as it formerly stood.

It does not do to sneer at splits or bolts, even when they are small ones. They have cost great parties Presidents as well as Governors and minor officers. A comparatively small number of the honest money Democrats voted the Republican ticket in this county in 1894. But seven Republicans were elected to Congress from districts which had been gerrymandered by the Democratic Legislature so that at least four Democrats to two Republicans might be returned from them, one being doubtful.

In the remaining fifteen Congressional districts of the State there was not very much bolting done, but there was enough to give the Republican candidates a majority in all of them and to roll up a popular majority of 133,000 for the State ticket. That was before Altgeld called his free silver convention of last year and before he had made it apparent to the honest money Democrats that he intended to make their party a rotten money one.

Atgeld says sneeringly that "the Federal officeholders and a few bankers and corporation lawyers, who, though shrewd, have no constituency," make up the honest money Democrats. When he studies the election returns this fall he will see that they contradict him. The Republican majority, far greater than the phenomenal one of 1894, will show that there is much more than noise to the split he scoffs at.

While abusing the honest money Democrats Altgeld repeats some of the old free silver falsehoods. He says, for instance, that he and his gang are for the "free coinage of both gold and silver as it formerly stood." At the time he refers to the silver dollar was worth 101 cents to 100 cents for the gold dollar. As it stands now the silver in a silver dollar is worth but 51 cents.

How, then, can bimetallism, which is what Altgeld says falsely he yearns for, be restored at 16 to 1? He does not explain how. He never has answered that question. He ignores it and keeps on repeating his foolish assertion. The sound money Democrats should endeavor to compel him to explain how it is possible to establish bimetallism when the 371¼ grains of pure silver in a dollar are worth only 51 cents in Mexico, China, Japan, and all the other nations of the world.

JOHN SHERMAN FOR SECRETARY OF STATE.

The certainty of the outcome of the next national election is so generally accepted that the work of constructing the Cabinet has already begun. It is in the air that McKinley will be the next President and Tom Reed the next Vice-President. The little birds in every tree are singing it all over McKinleyland, which embraces three-fourths of the area of the United States. Now, those who are on the inside say that John Sherman will be Secretary of State in the next Cabinet. That is a good start—McKinley, Reed, and Sherman.

The appointment of Sherman would be an excellent one. He has been in the Cabinet before as Secretary of the Treasury, but he would fill the Department of State just as brilliantly and ably. No more available or influential man could be found for the head of President McKinley's Cabinet. His fame is national. His long experience on the Committee on Foreign Affairs has equipped him with unusual diplomatic experience and international knowledge. Our relations with all foreign nations would be safe in his hands. He would not give the country a jingo administration, nor, on the other hand, would he institute a timid or craven national policy. At the same time he would secure general respect for this government among all outside nations, and should a dangerous emergency arise he could be trusted to meet it and come out of it with honor, dignity, and self-respect. President McKinley will begin well if he appoints Senator Sherman Secretary of State. If he shall put as strong and capable men at the head of the other departments he will have an ideal Cabinet.

TOM REED FOR SECOND PLACE.

Congressman Grosvenor of Ohio, the recognized leader of the McKinley canvass, has made an oracular utterance to the effect that unless Speaker Reed himself forestalls the movement he will be nominated for Vice-President at St. Louis by acclamation. Mr. Grosvenor bases his utterances upon the fact that letters have been pouring in from all parts of the country showing that the people want the man from Maine to be on the same ticket with the man from Ohio, both as a matter of expediency and of good politics. He also quotes the fact that thus far in the history of politics in this country no nominee for the Vice-Presidency has declined that honor, and he does not see how Speaker Reed could create such a precedent in the face of the unanimous call of his countrymen. Mr. Grosvenor, who is certainly qualified to speak in this connection, also asserts that there is not the slightest use for Mr. Quay to go to Canton with the idea of laying the wires for the second place nomination, as there is not the remotest possibility of its being consummated.

Evidently, then, Speaker Reed will be McKinley's running mate, unless he himself says no. It would make the fastest team that ever ran in a Presidential race. It would be easy, then, to pick the winners before the race began. They would run a mile several seconds under any record and leave the competing team distanced. As to the probability of his accepting, that question is not to be considered, because there is no probability about it. The Czar who knows a quorum when he sees it and counts it, too, will be nominated with a yell and will have to accept, whether he wants to or not.

Mr. Reed occupies an influential position as Speaker of the House of Representatives, and one of honor and dignity, but it is no more honorable or dignified, and not so lucrative, as that of the presiding officer of the American House of Lords. Mr. Reed would fill the position with grace and perfect ease, and its burdens would be very light upon this skillful and experienced parliamentarian, who is needed there to straighten out many things. It ranks all the other offices except the Presidency, and in the hands of so able a man as Reed it would be invested with new and potent influences. He is not the kind of man to be kept under by the peculiar duties of any office he may be called upon to fill.

And then there is always the contingency that the occupant of the Vice-Presidency may be called to fill the higher place. In this unfortunate world, which is so harassed by microbic diseases, men's lives are quite uncertain, no matter how healthy or robust they may appear to be. The little microbes break many a pitcher at the fountain and wheel at the cistern which appeared strong. It was on account of this uncertainty that the office was created by the Constitution, and it was a wise provision. Hence, should such an emergency occur, the country would still feel safe. Such a ticket as this, with a sound platform, would sweep the country like a cyclone and be elected with a hurrah. McKinley and Reed are names to conjure with.

WHAT THE BANK FIGURES SHOW.

The consolidated reports of the national banks of this city for this month show a decrease in loans and discounts, as compared with May of last year, of $5,800,000, and in individual deposits of $2,700,000. These figures show the effect of dull or hard times. Had times been prosperous there would have been an increase of at least 5 or 6 per cent instead of this decrease.

The unsatisfactory figures of this year are inevitable in view of the evident decrease in opportunities for employment and the lessened activity in manufacturing and building. The causes of this unhappy condition of affairs are twofold. One of them is the inadequacy of the protection given by the present tariff, which benefits Europe at the expense of America. The other is the lack of confidence in the maintenance of the gold parity of the currency and the apprehension of a slump to 16 to 1 free silver and the expulsion of gold from circulation.

The hard times will last until McKinley is elected, the tariff modified, and the money question settled in favor of the sound dollar. Until then workingmen must expect low wages and irregular employment. Until then men will refrain from investing capital in new enterprises, and loans and discounts and deposits will shrink rather than increase.

A GOOD RIDDANCE TO THE OLD HULK.

The old Postoffice Building, dead in the prime of life, with none to mourn its loss, has barely escaped the potter's field. Out of the muddle that has attended its delayed obsequies one firm, the Chicago House-Wrecking company, has been found willing to remove its decrepit remains and pay a pittance for the privilege. The formal opening of bids in what was humorously termed a competition was a travesty. There was only the one bid for the forsaken hulk, and $15,519 is all that is offered for this structure that cost about $3,000,000 to build. It is guaranteed by the company that the material will be removed within five months and the work will be begun at once if the government accepts the bid.

It required three years to construct the building, and it was in use only twenty-one years, but it cannot be demolished any too soon to suit Chicagoans. It is not revered as a landmark, for its beauty, or for any other reason, and has no associations connected with it that are agreeable. It was always regarded as architecturally ugly and more like an incommodious old fort than a building to be used for the government business of a great city, and the illusion was intensified by the porthole-like windows cut through the super-thick walls.

The officers of the wrecking company say it contains about 45,000 wagon loads of material, and there is no sentiment that will improve on this description of the utility of the building. If it were sentient well might it wonder what it was begun for to endure so brief and agitated an existence. As it gradually wastes away before the attacks of the wreckers, the outposts of progress, it will be scattered over the city it disgraced so long, partly to fill in the new Lake-Front Park, partly as retaining walls in works of track elevation, and in a host of other humbler ways more fitted to its powers. The old hulk is going, going—sic gloria.

ILLINOIS HONEST MONEY DEMOCRATS.

THE TRIBUNE stated yesterday that it was the intention of the honest money Democrats, on finding themselves in a minority in the Chicago convention, not to submit to the free silver platform which will be adopted, but to bolt and have a national convention of their own.

The action of the sound money Democrats of this State indicates that they are fully aware of the proposed bolt and are getting ready to play their part in it. They know that they can do nothing at the State convention, even if they elect a majority of the Cook County delegates. For nearly all the other counties have chosen, or will choose, rotten money delegates. In some cases they represent the majority of their constituents. In many others, where the primaries were manipulated by Altgeld men, the delegates do not.

There is nothing for the sound money Democrats of this State to do now but to lie down and be trampled on, or to take the bull by the horns and set up in business for themselves, just as the anti-Hill Democrats of New York did two years ago when the machine tried to ride over them. The Illinois Democrats who will not accept free silver must have an organization of their own, hold a State convention of their own, and elect delegates who will sit and vote in the honest money national convention.

The preparations are under way. A full State committee, representing all sections of Illinois, is being selected. When chosen a conference will be held, "at which it will be determined as to what action will be advisable throughout the State to counteract the machine tactics by which silver delegations have been secured for the State convention."

There is but one effectual way of counteracting those tactics, and that is by calling a convention in which all the honest money Democrats of Illinois may be represented, and at which delegates will be elected to the national convention and a State ticket nominated, if deemed advisable. Those delegates will not be admitted to the Chicago convention, but they will be to the honest money one held at a later day.

The sound money Democrats of this State and city have made two blunders. One of them was in not making a fight last year when Altgeld called his free silver convention. Their inertness then lost them the control of the machinery in a great many counties and made their opponents more aggressive. The other mistake, though a less serious one, was in endeavoring to distinguish between Altgeld and his principles, and indorse the one while fighting the latter.

It is not yet too late, however, to take the offensive and to show Altgeld that he is mistaken when he says: "The talk about a split comes from a small squad of men who represent nobody but themselves, and who brought nothing to the gold movement but an appetite." When an honest money Democratic convention is held and Altgeld sees the character and the earnestness of the men who attend it he will learn something about the strength of the movement he affects to despise.

SMASH THE ICE TRUST.

The philanthropic companies which sell ice to the people of Chicago are probably trying to solve the metaphysical problem how long the people will endure a wanton violation of the laws of State, city, and health. In no other way can it be reasonably explained why they have dared to break all at once. They might have expected to run their trust through by a shifty resort to legal technicalities, but they certainly cannot hope to continue to send into many households ice filled with typhoid-fever germs and other death-dealing impurities. Whether they have been fatuous enough to indulge so preposterous an expectation or not, now that the facts have been brought to light this infamous combine and insidious breeder of disease must be smashed.

The Civic Federation is the latest agency to enter the fight, and it has been aroused by the charge that the entire ice harvest of the Calumet region, including Wolf Lake, Calumet Lake, and the Calumet River, is so badly contaminated by sewage and decayed vegetation as to be totally unfit for family use. Regarding the Calumet River says one competent witness: "The filth from the packing-houses and cattle-feeding pens at Hammond actually clogs up the stream at one point to such an extent that dredging machines are necessary to clear the channel." A mass of testimony of a like character is in the hands of the officials, and the Calumet River is the source from which hundreds of tons of ice are taken daily to be distributed for family use. The dealers who have not hesitated to endanger the lives of thousands of people in their reckless greed, and who have met all protests with an airy denial or an assumption of ignorance, appear to have banded together in a common war on society. Society must lose no time in taking up the gauge and wiping out the impertinent pest. It must be done thoroughly and immediately, even if it requires the undivided attention of all the legal machinery of the city, backed by the active assistance of the 1,800,000 inhabitants. Let the explanation be thorough and convincing that the patience of the people with extortion and contamination has reached the limit. Proper energy in collecting evidence should insure the enforcement of the ample laws that cover the case. Everybody is morally sure and has practical proof there is a trust of a kind that has been made criminal. Health Commissioner Kerr says he has known of the organization of the dealers for three months, but adds:

> As the movement was explained to me the intention was to reduce expenses, and it was said the companies could sell ice cheaper.

This is probably correct. Doubtless expenses have been reduced and they can sell ice cheaper. But instead of selling it cheaper they have raised the price from 25 cents to 40 cents per 100 pounds. All the companies took action together; all consumers were notified practically on the same day. It is a perfect and almost elementary example of a trust if ever there was one, and the law says the penalty shall be a fine of not less than $3,000 or more than $5,000, the higher figure being put in undoubtedly for just such flagrant cases as this one. The violation of the city laws has been even more open, and, involving the public health, more dangerous. Now let everybody hustle around for legal evidence and break this trust to smithereens.

THE WHEEL IS FOR WOMAN, TOO.

People who have a chronic objection to the bicycle and especially to its use by women have been supplying the void of arguments with the general statement that doctors pronounce it harmful. They have even supplied details with an assumption of authority that was convincing in every respect up to the point where they failed to include the name of any responsible medical guarantor for their assertions. When physicians have spoken the weight of their testimony generally has been on the other side, but they have entered the lists so seldom their words have been lost in the indiscriminate mass of opposing inexpert testimony by the croakers.

It is gratifying, therefore, to note the specific review of the facts as presented by Dr. W. H. Fenton in an article published in the Nineteenth Century entitled, "A Medical View of Cycling for Ladies." He announces without equivocation that any organically sound woman can ride a wheel with as much impunity as a similar man, and if organically unsound is subjected to no more limitations than a man would be. He treats the question entirely from a medical standpoint, as the title of the article indicates, and does not confuse it with any considerations of propriety. There are points of difference, however, in the sexes that require certain precautions on the part of the woman that a man need not take into account. Most of these the woman would take as a matter of course, but some she might overlook, and to that extent Dr. Fenton's article should be instructive.

He points out the obvious fact that women come much sooner than men to the end of their physical endurance, chiefly because of "hereditary disuse of their motor centers." For this reason he urges great care against overexertion. This the woman would naturally take from ordinary prudential reasons, and the cause of this excess of care will be gradually done away with as her training progresses. The use of the leg, the member most severely taxed in all cases of wheeling, Dr. Fenton finds to be of the greatest practical benefit to all women, the shop girl as well as the housewife, though from varying causes in each walk of life. In healthful restrictions that apply solely to women he lays stress chiefly on the style of dress. Warm, absorbent underclothing, gaiters, and ample covering for the ankles, neck, and arms, with high collars and close-fitting sleeves, he recommends unreservedly. The common dress of women does not sufficiently provide against the chills that succeed great exertion and heat, and he urges strict attention to this precaution. In all other respects, however, Dr. Fenton practically bids woman mount her wheel at discretion and ride away in serene consciousness that she is putting her physical energies to the best possible use. So far from violating any medical or physical laws she is complementing them all by gaining strength and grace in body and vigor in mind. Confusion to the man hereafter who would deny woman the manifold delights of the wheel!

PERSONAL INJURY CASES ON NEW BASIS.

Supreme Court Decides That Causes of Action Are Assignable—Benefit to Poor Persons and Attorneys.

No decision that the Supreme Court has made in recent years has excited so much talk among lawyers of this city as that which was handed down last week in the case of the North Chicago Street railway company vs. Ackley affirming the action of the Appellate Court of the Chicago District about a year ago in affirming a decree made in 1894 by Judge Stein of the Chicago Superior Court.

A woman had been made a cripple for life by falling from a Clybourn avenue car from which she was trying to alight. In 1892 she employed L. M. Ackley to prosecute an action for damages against the cable company and agreed to pay him one-half of whatever he might recover for his services and assigned half the cause of action to him to secure payment of the fee, and agreed to pay court costs and necessary expenses. The company refused to pay her as much as $1,000 in settlement.

Suit was begun in the Circuit Court in September, 1891, and two years and a half later was reached for trial. Just as it was about to be tried the railroad company's lawyer went to the woman's house and settled with her by paying her $3,750, and entered up judgment against the railway company for that amount and had the record satisfied.

The attorney of the woman thereupon filed a bill in equity against the company asking for a decree that the company pay him one-half of the amount of the settlement, alleging that the company had had full previous notice of his contract with his client. Judge Stein entered a decree to that effect in September, 1894.

The company having taken an appeal to the Appellate Court this decree was affirmed in an opinion written by Judge Gary.

When it was announced that the Supreme Court had affirmed Judge Gary there was great curiosity to know upon what grounds the Supreme Court based its ruling. Justice Craig, who writes an opinion, in which all the other justices concur, says whatever any cause of action is by statute made to survive to the executor or administrator upon the death of the claimant, it becomes assignable, unless there are reasons of public policy which take away the quality of assignability.

The court finds that the contract between the lawyer and his client in this case is valid and enforceable, and that the railroad company, having paid the full amount to the client, after notice, must account to the attorney for one-half of it.

The decision is so broad and sweeping in its terms as to furnish absolute protection to the attorney against any settlement being made behind his back, and enables any person who has a meritorious case and no money to prosecute it to secure the services of the best men at the bar, because he can give security for the payment of fees.

Her Happiness.

Since that day of which no word
From her lips is ever heard,
She has known that at her side
Sorrow evermore must bide,
Drink her cup and eat her bread,
Walk her paths and share her bed,
Be the last to say good-night,
Greet her first at morning light,
Go with her through all her ways,
To the ending of her days.

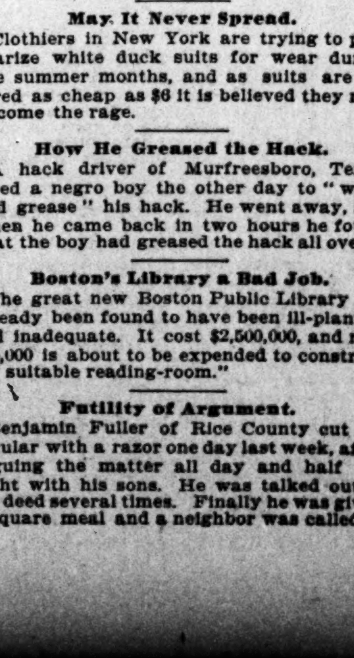

This is hers at last: to know
Life has dealt its heaviest blow.
She has nothing more to dread;
All her bitterest tears are shed.
Pain has now no poisoned dart
That she fears may reach her heart;
Neither day nor night can bring
Any untried suffering.

It is something, just to rest
Of this dreary peace possessed;
Just to slip the long control
Of her pride-encompassed soul,
And to let the days move on
In accepted monotone;
Not to more anticipate
This severest blow of fate;
Not against its doom to pray,
Any more by night or day;
Not to fear its deadly blight,
Any more by day or night.

As the storm-tossed mariner
Finds the desert island fair
After all the storm's wild stress,
So she too is almost glad.
Is there aught in life more sad?
What have been her strife and loss,
Her despair and pain and cross,
Who at last can almost bless
Such a hopeless happiness!

HATPINS OF LITTLE USE.

WOMAN'S HEADGEAR THE SPORT OF EVERY PASSING BREEZE.

All Contrivances to Keep It in Place Have So Far Failed to Accomplish This Result—The First Brisk Wind Tears Veils, Disarranges the Hair, and Necessitates a Chase to Recover This Part of Feminine Apparel—How Bicycle Riders Manage.

Why does a woman's hat blow off in spite of veils, hatpins, and all, when a man's hat sticks serenely on with never a thing to hold it?

A woman usually has heavy hair through which she sticks anywhere from one to five hatpins, and then to make doubly sure she draws her veil down over the front and pins it securely at the back. In spite of this the first breeze gives it a whisk and, lo! if it doesn't go actually into the gutter it turns a back somerset over her head, tears a rent in her veil, and leaves her hair in a disheveled condition.

While man—the "brute"—passes along in perfect comfort. His hat sticks tightly to his closely cropped head as if it were molded there. Perhaps there is a vacuum somewhere. Indications certainly point that way. Either that or else it is an incredible piece of personal favoritism on the part of old Boreas and his brothers.

Even the winds seem to share the widespread prejudice against feminine headgear. Nor do they hesitate to mark their disapproval in rough fashion.

Yesterday was a day for demonstrations. Men and women started with the usual rush to catch the early cars for down-town. Bright sunshine flooded the earth. It smiled from every leaf and blade of grass, and sparkled on the lake in a thousand flames of fire. The sky, washed afresh by the heavy downpour of the night before, was blue as a robin's egg.

Victims of the Wind.

People's faces brightened in the stiff, cool breeze as they took in heavy drafts of the life-giving ozone. At every shift of the shadows the wind increased. Some of the radiant faces began to take on a blue look. This was especially true of the women—and they were many—who had started out in shirt-waists without their jackets. So that by 8 o'clock the street cars—all open—were crowded with a more or less uncomfortable mass. Truth to tell, most of the blue, unhappy looking mortals were women. More than half of the men had taken the precaution to put on their overcoats. And they all wore thick, comfortable clothing.

What is it induces women so sensible in other things to be so inconsistent about comfort when it comes to clothing?

A pretty girl sat on the front seat of a Cottage Grove cable car. She wore a pale blue shirt-waist, and on her hat were billows of blue gauze. A wind came sailing in from a cross street and lifted the hat with its blue gauze from her head and carried the dainty thing back over the top of the car and dashed it into the street.

The conductor whistled "down brakes," and chased the hat half a block. Everybody laughed. The conductor, No. 415, came up perspiring and with face as red as his hair. He was just handing the hat to the young woman with his best bow when the wind with a shriek lifted his "conductor's" cap and rolled it into a mud hole.

"One man's hat gone wrong," some one commented, and everybody laughed.

Rolled Like a Hoop.

The car bowled on again, and it had hardly passed the second cross street when Boreas again pounced down upon it. This time a large fleshy woman wearing a sailor hat was selected. It is not known whether this was a warning to large women who insist on wearing sailor hats, but the hat came off with a jerk, one hatpin nearly struck a man in the eye, and another rolled with a jingle to the pavement below. The hat rolled like a hoop down the track, and was rescued by a man at his imminent peril from in front of another approaching train. The large woman was the only calm person in the car. She proceeded with great deliberation to retwist her hair, and made an extra deep stab with her remaining hatpin.

By this time every woman on the car made a grab for her hat when the car approached a crossing.

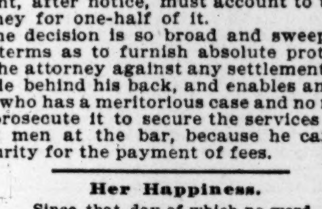

Men sat stolidly through the hazardous journey reading or smoking.

In spite of fancy hatpins costing $1 to $5 apiece, there is no absolutely sure way of keeping a woman's hat on her head.

The same difficulty is encountered in most of the bicycle hats. It is easy enough to anchor them at the back. But how to keep them down at the front is an unsolved problem. And as long as women are ambitious to show their hair by wearing small-crowned hats the perplexing question is likely to remain unanswered. A few have adopted the device, especially for cycling, of winding up a little knob of hair on top of the head, just over the forehead. A hatpin passed through secures the hat in front.

The following is an English dish: Fry a dozen silver button onions in a little butter until of a golden color and cover with a pint of stock or gravy, a tablespoonful each of mushroom and tomato catsup and a glass of claret; simmer until the onions are tender and lay in two pounds of tender sliced beef; draw to the back of the fire and let it stand twenty minutes, closely covered, to thoroughly impregnate the meat with the sauce; pour over slices of thin buttered toast.

Fillets of bass à l'Indienne—Pare, skin, and flatten the fillets of two large bass, cutting each in two; put in a saucepan with two ounces of butter, two tablespoonfuls of curry powder or paste, two gills of white wine and salt and pepper; cover and simmer fifteen minutes; lift out, pour a pint of white sauce in the pan; boil a minute, add the juice of a lemon and strain over the fish, serving plain boiled rice in a separate dish.

Calf's brains en matelote—Remove the arteries and steep the brains in cold water for several hours, changing the water three times; put them in a stewpan with a gill of vinegar and parsley tied with aromatic herbs; cover with boiling water and simmer forty minutes; lift out with a skimmer, pare each brain in two and alternate the lobes with croutons; fill the center with stewed mushrooms and tiny button onions, cooked tender and glazed in butter, and pour a brown sauce over all.

EVENTS OF A CITY DAY.

WIFE SHOOTS HER HUSBAND WITH PERHAPS FATAL EFFECT.

Dr. Thomas H. Renn Suffering from Four Bullet Wounds at St. Joseph's Hospital—Federal Grand Jury and the Bucket-Shop Cases—Report of City Clerk Van Cleave Omits Allusion to Vital Points—Other News of the City.

Mrs. Sarah H. Renn shot and seriously wounded her husband, Dr. Thomas H. Renn, at Elm and Townsend streets at 12:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The woman fired five times at her husband, four of the bullets taking effect, two in the head, one in the right arm, and the other in the left hand. After the shooting Mrs. Renn ran down an adjacent alley with the smoking revolver in her hand, through a vacant lot into Sedgwick street, and escaped.

The wounded man was taken to his home, No. 227 Townsend street, nearby, and later to St. Joseph's Hospital. There it was found that one bullet had fractured the man's skull. Last night he was still alive and had a fair chance of recovery.

The shooting was the outcome of family trouble, Dr. Renn and his wife not having lived together for two years. Mrs. Renn some time ago filed a suit for divorce and alimony. Dr. Renn, his three brothers, and a sister own the four-story brick building, No. 227 Townsend street, where they live, and also the property, No. 248 Townsend street, where his wife has resided for a year or more. The neighbors say the family purposed assuming Dr. Renn's interest in the property to prevent his wife securing a part of it. This is supposed to have been the immediate cause of the shooting.

Reports of Threats.

For some time Mrs. Renn, it is said, has been making threats against her husband. Yesterday morning she was noticed waiting near his home and at noon was seen standing in a doorway at No. 169 Elm street.

Shortly before 12:30 Dr. Renn left his home and started eastward in Elm street. His wife started across the street to intercept him, and they met at the side of S. Nelson's grocery, Elm and Townsend streets.

There was but one witness to the meeting—Mrs. Laura Outerbridge—and she was too far away to hear what was said. Dr. Renn stood leaning against the iron railing, while his wife seemed to ask him several questions, to which he apparently made no answer.

"Will you do what is right by me?" she was heard to ask. Then, as her husband turned away, she drew a revolver from under her shawl and fired.

The first bullet took effect in Renn's head and he fell. Then, standing over him, the woman emptied the revolver.

Flees from the Scene.

Mrs. Outerbridge screamed and ran after the woman, who fled down the alley back of the grocery and disappeared. Several neighbors ran to Renn's assistance, and he was carried into his home and Dr. E. M. Smith sent for. He said the man was fatally shot, and he was later taken to the hospital.

Dr. Renn is about 30 years old and his wife some years younger. She is described as about 5 feet 8 inches tall and weighing about 160 pounds. She wore a white-figured black dress, a black Fedora shaped straw hat, trimmed with flowers, and a black shawl.

The couple were married three years ago and have one child. Two years ago Renn disappeared, and for eight months his wife heard nothing of him. Then he returned and lived with his family in Townsend street. His three brothers, J. J., John F., and Patrick Renn, conduct a plumbing establishment at No. 327 Webster avenue. Mrs. Renn's mother lives at No. 131 Larrabee street.

FEDERAL JURY AND BUCKET-SHOPS.

John Hill Jr. Says Three Firms Will Be Indicted Today.

When John Hill Jr. of the Board of Trade concluded his work before the Federal grand jury yesterday afternoon and notified his witnesses to appear again this morning, he was assured indictments had been voted against these three firms:

F. J. Wakem & Co., No. 275 Dearborn street.

C. F. Van Winkle, No. 376 La Salle street.

The Hamilton Commission company, No. 4 Open Board of Trade Building.

Mr. Hill intends to present evidence against other firms this morning. One of the principal witnesses against the bucket-shop men was J. O. Jones of Webster, Ia., all of whose deals were carried on through the mails.

Among other witnesses were three young women who have been employed as stenographers by bucket-shops and who told all office secrets they had heard.

VAN CLEAVE'S REPORT IS BRIEF.

Omission of Details as to Plates, Badges, and Bonds.

City Clerk Van Cleave made his first annual report to Controller Wetherell yesterday, showing that the receipts of his office between April 9, 1895, and April 30, 1896, were $5,364. The report was brief and covered only three items. They were:

For transfer of licenses all kinds	$3,442
From duplicate dog tags	119
From certified copies of record	1,803
Total	$5,364

It has not been customary for the City Clerk to make a return of office receipts until the expiration of his term. But the complaints filed a few days ago that Van Cleave was receiving large sums in fees caused Controller Wetherell to ask him for an accounting at once.

The items and amounts given above were what he submitted. No mention was made of the receipts from wagon plates, drivers' badges, or bonds furnished to saloonkeepers. Van Cleave says these do not belong to the revenue which goes to the city. The money he accounts for has, he says, been paid in to the City Treasurer.

Whether the city will make any move to determine by process of law whether the City Clerk is entitled to perquisites from the sale of plates and badges is not yet determined.

DIES WITHOUT MEDICAL ATTENTION.

Investigation of a Reported Failure of Faith Cure.

Reports that the 11-year-old son of C. W. Schweichler, No. 599 North Lincoln street, had died through lack of proper medical attention caused an investigation yesterday by Coroner Buckley.

It was asserted that a faith-cure specialist had attended the boy, but this was denied by the parents. The lad is supposed to have died of bowel trouble.

When Undertaker Meister, No. 357 Division street, was called in he found no death certificate had been issued, and notified the Coroner's office. This was on Tuesday.

Dr. Hektoen, the Coroner's physician, was to make a post-mortem examination yesterday, but being unable to reach the place at the time set, the examination was postponed to this morning.

The boy's father says he had no idea his son was seriously ill, otherwise he would have summoned a physician.

LECKIE SETS UP HIS CONTRACTS.

Holds Failure of His Employes to Abide by Agreements.

James B. Leckie, charged with using the mails improperly, in connection with the Merchants' Police, charged to be a fraudulent concern, plead not guilty yesterday in the Federal court.

The evidence of Hugh Monoghan, Thomas I. Knudson, Thomas Brennan, and A. Abrahams was to show that each had made a deposit of $200 with Leckie when employed as watchmen. Upon being told that Leckie was a fraud they had demanded the refunding of their deposits. Each met a refusal, Leckie asserting that they had broken their contracts and forfeited the money.

It is understood the defense will confine itself to the terms of the contracts and to establishing that the Merchants' Police was a legitimate institution.

RECTOR GARBAGE GATHERING PLAN

Criticised on the Ground of Being Impracticable.

Charles H. Rector, new Alderman from the Twenty-eighth Ward, made his first move Monday night toward securing certain reform legislation.

He has a theory that the garbage collecting question could easily be settled by compelling householders to pay for garbage boxes furnished by the contractors. On Monday night he introduced an ordinance providing for an extensive system of garbage boxes, dry dirt cans, and pits adjacent to stables, where refuse can be thrown. It was sent to the Committee on Health and will probably remain there.

Those familiar with the subject said yesterday such an ordinance would be impracticable.

CHARGES SUBORNATION OF PERJURY

Judge Goggin Criticises the City Prosecuting Attorney's Office.

Judge Goggin yesterday declared that a school for subornation of perjury had been established in the City Prosecuting Attorney's office, and that the state of affairs disclosed by the evidence in the sidewalk damage case of Kerchaski against the city was worse than he had ever imagined. M. J. Kavanagh retaliated by saying the court had not been fair to the city, and a rather heated argument resulted.

The trouble arose because most of the city's witnesses live a considerable distance from the place of the accident.

Attorney Terhune declared he was prepared to prove subornation had been practiced by the city's lawyers, and when the jury had gone out Judge Goggin arose and with much excitement declared this would not be the end of the matter, whatever the verdict might be.

Attorney Kavanagh attempted to defend the City Attorney's office, but Judge Goggin would not hear him.

"I will send a copy of this evidence to the Mayor and Corporation Counsel," he said. "We hear much about bribing juries and intercepting grand juries, but in this case the city comes forward with twelve perjured witnesses."

GIVE MR. RITTER THE "GLAD HAND."

Young Women of the Recorder's Office Commend His Park Scheme.

Young women employed in the folio department of the Recorder's office commend Commissioner Ritter's plan of making a park in the south court between the County Building and the City Hall.

They have sent a communication to the County Board testifying their appreciation of Mr. Ritter's efforts to beautify the court. They say:

"In view of Commissioner Ritter's noble purpose we desire to extend the glad hand of womanship to him and to inform him that we are raising a subscription for the purpose of contributing towards the maintenance of a fountain to be placed in said park. In Ritter's Park we will meet by enchanting moonlight to eat our penny cakes and hokey-pokey ice-cream, washing it down with the pure and limpid water from Ritter's fountain. What would a poor girl do without this place? The folio department may die and its members pass away, but the name of Ritter, carved in blocks of ice, will stand in this park forever."

O'DONOUGHUE PROPERTY IS SOLD.

John Kranz's Bid for $170,000 Subject to Approval by the Probate Court.

The property of the O'Donoughue estate, No. 157 State street, was sold at auction at the Real Estate Board's salesroom yesterday to John Kranz for $170,000, subject to the approval of the Probate Court.

The land has a west frontage between Madison and Monroe streets. It is 20 feet front and 80 feet deep, and is improved by a five-story building constructed in 1872. The purchase price is $8,500 per front foot.

The same property was sold at auction a month ago to B. Rosenberg for $162,500. These figures were considered too low by the court and a second sale was ordered. Mr. Kranz was the only bidder yesterday.

The property at No. 192 Jefferson street, which was sold at the previous auction to J. Wilson for $28,000, was also ordered resold by the court. No one bid on this property yesterday and the sale was postponed.

HURT BY A FALLING SCAFFOLD.

Four Workmen and a Policeman Sustain Injuries.

A scaffold used in connection with the tearing down of a building at No. 260 Madison street collapsed yesterday, and five men, one a policeman, were variously hurt.

The injured are:

Joseph Bagiono, No. 63 North Market street, bruised about leg, hip, and arm, and severely cut on face and head.

A. Anderson, No. 170 Twenty-fourth place, badly bruised about body.

W. J. Jappa, No. 698 West North avenue, bruised about body.

Robert Cott, No. 68 Humboldt street, bruised about body.

H. Burgess, policeman of the Central detail, bruised about body.

The scaffold was on the inside of the wall on the level of the first floor. Bagiono was at work tearing down the wall when his end of the scaffold gave way and he fell to the basement. Policeman Burgess was called and sent in an ambulance call. Burgess then climbed upon the scaffold, when it gave way, throwing him and the other three men to the floor below.

POLICE CAPTURE AN INSANE MAN.

Enter a Freight Car and Overpower Clement Klein.

Clement Klein, who escaped from the Insane Asylum at Dunning on Monday and who threatened to kill Capt. Schuettler and Policeman John Larch on sight for convicting him on a charge of robbery, for which he served a seven years' term at Joliet, was recaptured yesterday after a hard fight. Policemen Carlson and Flynn found him in a freight car at Willow street and Clybourn avenue. Klein drew a butcher knife, but was overpowered.

SCHOOL BOARD EMPLOYE KILLED.

Maurice McDonnell the Victim of an Insecure Scaffolding.

Maurice McDonnell, No. 71 Washburne place, a carpenter in the employ of the Board of Education, was yesterday shingling the Deaf Mute School, No. 157 West Monroe street, when the scaffolding gave way and he fell seventy-five feet to the ground. He struck on a fence which had two barbed wires strung along on the top and the wires literally cut him to pieces. He died on his way to the Presbyterian Hospital. McDonnell was 35 years old.

Fielding Contradicted by Brewer.

William Brewer, temporary Commander of the Salvation Army in the Northwest, denies ex-Brigadier Fielding's reported statements as to the removal of furniture used by the latter in his home. Commander Brewer says the furniture was removed by the Salvation Army authorities only after repeated requests from Fielding.

Neighbors Object to Blasting.

Neighborhood residents yesterday sought in Judge Payne's court to enjoin blasting operations at the stone quarry of Thomas and John O'Connell in the block surrounded by Campbell and Grand avenues and Rockwell and Ohio streets. Damage to property from concussion is charged.

City Pay-Rolls Investigation.

Luther Laflin Mills last evening arranged with the State's-Attorney's office to present to the grand jury today the Civil Service Commission's evidence in connection with the charges of stuffed city pay-rolls. The charges against Bracken and Henneberry will be first investigated.

Sunset Club's Funds Disposed Of.

Philip Post, Secretary of the defunct Sunset club of Chicago, yesterday mailed checks for $279.50 each to the respective Treasurers of the Fresh Air Fund and the Hull House. This was in accordance with the vote of the membership in disbanding.

Prepares for Franklin Statue Unveiling

At the meeting of the Lincoln Park Board yesterday the committee having in charge the unveiling of the Franklin statue in the park on June 6 was given permission to erect a temporary grand stand for the occasion.

Asks $100,000 Damages.

Damages to the extent of $100,000 are asked by L. C. Crossman from James R. Lane in a suit entered in the Circuit Court yesterday for false imprisonment on a writ of ne exeat.

ALTGELD ASKS ONE THING

HIS AMBITION IS TO HEAD THE ILLINOIS DELEGATION.

He Will Come to Chicago Today to Take Charge of the White Metal Army—His Generals and Captains Elated Over the Situation—Subcommittees Completing Arrangements for Next Monday's Primaries—Some Fun Is Expected Today.

Gov. Altgeld will come to Chicago this afternoon and take charge of the local fight for free silver. He will sit in his Unity Building office, give directions to the machine leaders, and let them do the active work.

Gov. Altgeld wants to be delegate-at-large to the national convention. At least, some of the chief soft-money advocates who have his confidence say that is the one honor he desires this year more than any other. He does not want a renomination for Governor. His fight is against the Cleveland administration. His great ambition just now, therefore, is to head a strong 16 to 1 delegation in the national convention.

It is furthermore asserted that his Excellency would not have gone into the ante-convention campaign personally, except for the fact that Controller Eckles came on from Washington and tried to turn the free silver Democratic tide in favor of honest money. That and the organization of an Honest-Money committee in Chicago aroused his anger to such an extent he could no longer refrain from taking command in person of the white metal army. He expects to lead it to victory in Chicago and at Peoria.

His generals and captains are greatly elated over the situation. They were in high spirits at headquarters yesterday.

Subcommittees Meet.

The two subcommittees—Executive, Contests and Appeals—were in session during the afternoon. They met to settle all arrangements regarding the primaries on next Monday. Lists of the primary districts, the polling places, the judges and clerks as arranged, fixed, and selected by the ward committeemen were presented for their approval. It was expected the gold bugs would be there in force to again urge their demands for honest primaries under the Crawford law. In this the silverites had to admit they were somewhat disappointed.

However, notices were given of contests in several wards, but the only move made by the honest money people as an organization was to offer a substitute for the call issued by the Central committee.

As soon as the session began Lyndon Evans, committeeman for the Twenty-fourth Ward, offered a call arranged in compliance with the terms of the Crawford law, together with a complete list of primary districts by wards, of polling places, and the names of regular judges and clerks of election who had previously indicated their willingness to serve. He moved their adoption in place of the call and the lists prepared by the committee.

Joe Martin, Twenty-fourth Ward, quickly moved that the whole matter be laid on the table.

Before the motion could be put Robert Burke asked that it be held in abeyance until some of the people interested in ward contests could be heard.

As Lyndon Evans had to leave on account of the funeral of a friend action on his motion was postponed until 2 o'clock today.

Contests in Twelve Wards.

There are contests in the Second, Third, Fifth, Sixth, Thirteenth, Fourteenth, Sixteenth, Twenty-first, Twenty-third, Twenty-fourth, Thirty-second, and Thirty-fourth Wards. That is, there will be if the honest money men finally decide to go ahead and participate. It is believed, though, they will withdraw when their blanket substitute is rejected.

The Thirty-fourth Ward was taken up. Fred H. Teeple and James Ryan, both gold bugs, had reported two districts, two polling places, and regular judges and clerks. Bryan Tighe and his push objected. The dispute was referred to the ward representatives.

The South End was fixed up by an agreement that there shall be one polling place at Pullman and another at Roseland.

The North End is as it was. All the other contests were laid over until this afternoon.

Some Fun Is Expected Today.

There may be some fun today. Here is the personnel of the Joint committee:

Frank J. Gaulter,	John Powers,
J. B. McDonald,	F. X. Brandecker,
Robert E. Burke,	Henry F. Donovan,
M. J. O'Donahoe,	Lyndon Evans,
James A. Quinn,	John W. Lanehart,
Martin Emerich,	F. E. Eldred,
William Loeffler,	Thomas Byrne,
Thomas Cusack,	Thomas Gahan,
Thomas J. Mulroony,	Fred H. Teeple,
Joseph S. Schwab,	Charles Sigwalt.
John J. Brennan.

Roger Sullivan, Tom Cannon, and Joe Martin held proxies.

When the wards were called and John Powers failed to announce a contest for the Nineteenth there was a scene of excitement. The silver fellows took this as an indication he had given up the fight and wanted to get into the band wagon. In fact, they were busy all day circulating stories about gold standard advocates, who feared defeat in their respective wards, coming around wanting to make peace with the machine.

John P. Hopkins, Roger Sullivan, and other politicians declined to take Gov. Altgeld's charge that political highwaymen now have control of the honest money movement in this city as referring to them.

MACVEAGH EXPLAINS THE SPLIT.

Says Honest Money Democrats Have Been Ignored and Humiliated.

New York, May 20.—[Special.]—In answer to the inquiries of a morning paper here, Franklin MacVeagh says:

"The causes which have led to a split in the Democratic party in Illinois have been apparent for several weeks. The honest money Democrats have been disfranchised, ignored, and humiliated.

"The Cook County Central committee has decided to run the primaries under a notorious system, which has produced all the party frauds and disgrace. Such primaries never were associated with honest design.

"The only demand made by the honest money Democrats—and that in the form of a most respectful and temperate request—was a chance to vote and be counted. The request was refused.

"That the honest money Democrats are in a majority stands undisputed now. The insinuation that the uprising of the Democrats against a dishonest dollar and to preserve the honor and fame of the party included opposition to Gov. Altgeld's renomination is absurd.

"One of the first resolutions passed by the honest money Democrats was an indorsement of that renomination. Wanton and insulting disfranchisement of the Democrats of Cook County has forced the necessity of having the party properly represented by its own organization. The contest for honest primaries is full of interest already, but will grow in interest from this time on.

"The Democrats of Illinois can rely upon its steady continuance until the Democratic party of Cook County is purged and cleaned of all association with the cause of dishonest money, and until the majority of Cook County Democrats control—as all Democratic majorities are entitled to control—the expression, the principle, and administration of the party.

"Gov. Altgeld, who has heretofore posed as an out-and-out free silver 16 to 1 man, has seen fit to come to this city and deliver a long speech in favor of bimetallism. It was his first appearance in that rôle, and it is merely another free silver trick."

Lyman J. Gage sends the following statement:

"The money question is the cause of the split in the Illinois Democratic party.

"Gov. Altgeld and his machine refuse to give the sound money Democrats representation in the local primaries or voice in the organization of the county convention.

"I believe the honest money Democrats are in the majority."

SAYS THERE WILL BE NO SPLIT.

Secretary Sheerin Believes Democrats Can Settle Their Differences.

"I am confident there will be no split in the Democratic party," said S. P. Sheerin, Secretary of the Democratic National committee, who registered at the Palmer House yesterday with his wife. "All that talk about two conventions is bosh. I expect a large and perhaps stormy convention, but that there is the slightest danger of the party being unable to settle its differences in the convention I do not believe.

"I have no special mission here, and certainly shall take no part in the discussion of the money question in Illinois. The Illinois Democrats are able to run their own affairs without assistance from the National committee.

"I am here to look after convention affairs generally. I shall go out to the Coliseum tomorrow and see Col. Dickinson. The full Subcommittee will meet here on Friday, May 29, when the various detail committees will report."

EXPECT SUCCESS IN SIXTEEN WARDS

Honest Money Leaders Said to Have Perfected a Scheme.

It is learned the honest money leaders expect to elect their delegates at next Monday's primaries in sixteen of the thirty-four wards. The plan they have finally agreed upon, so it is said, is to go in then and make the fight.

In every primary district where the game is plugged so tightly against them they will have nothing like a fair show the scheme is to open polls of their own near by and take the ballots of honest money voters.

There will be an honest money ticket in every ward. Then, if the silver faction in the convention is strong enough to count them out they will hold a separate convention.

BLAINE CLUB DECIDES ON UNIFORM.

White Trousers, Dark Coats, Straw Hats, and Gorgeous Badges.

White duck trousers, dark coats, white straw hats, and gorgeous badges was the uniform adopted for the St. Louis convention by the Blaine club at the meeting in the Great Northern Hotel last night.

The Committee on Arrangements reported in favor of living in tents while in St. Louis, and that plan was adopted. A big vacant lot will be secured near the convention hall, and there the club will camp.

The question of a uniform caused a long discussion. The comittee reported in favor of duck coats, but they were rejected for fear the wearers might be taken for waiters. About 100 members of the club will go to St. Louis in private cars, starting on June 15.

PEOPLE'S PARTY IN SECOND WARD.

County and City Central Committees Are Appointed.

The People's party of the Second Ward held a meeting last night at No. 1417 State street. J. J. De Lacy stated that the object was to formulate a plan of work, and he read the creed of the party.

The following committees were appointed:

County Central committee—W. E. Burns and S. Murphy.

City Central committee—George McEllicott, J. J. De Lacy, and Austin Doyle.

The Omaha platform of the People's party was indorsed.

WILL ADOPT THE "HONOR" SYSTEM.

Recommended by Students of the University of Chicago.

The "honor" system of conducting examinations will probably soon be adopted at the University of Chicago.

At a meeting of the senior student council yesterday the students decided to recommend the adoption of the system to the faculty, and it is likely their recommendation will be accepted.

The plan contemplates the removal of all surveillance at examinations, and the placing of students entirely upon their honor.

A program for senior week was decided upon. On June 18 will occur the President's reception to the graduating class, and on the following day the senior finals. The baccalaureate sermon will be preached on June 21 by some prominent divine. June 22 will be quadrangle day, and the senior banquet will take place in the evening.

CENTRAL DEBS CLUB IS ORGANIZED.

Question of Fathering His Candidacy for President Not Decided.

The Central E. V. Debs club at its organization meeting last night at McCoy's Hotel tried to determine whether Debs' candidacy for President would be nearer success under the banner of the People's Party or under that of a new industrial party that should be formed for that purpose.

The men of the People's Party contended that it should be the one to sponsor Debs in order that the party might be saved from the free silver Democrats or Republicans.

The question of the evening was not settled, but was postponed until next week's meeting.

The election resulted in the selection of Seymour Stedman as President.

MEMORIAL SERVICE FOR THE DEAD.

Special Program Prepared by Lyon Post, G. A. R., and Relief Corps.

A memorial service will be held in Columbia Theater on Sunday morning, May 24, at 10:30 o'clock. A special program for the service has been arranged appropriate to the memory of departed comrades by the following organizations:

Lyon Post No. 9, G. A. R., Department of Illinois.

Lyon Relief Corps No. 11, W. R. C., Department of Illinois.

Chicago Camp No. 1, Sons of Veterans, Department of Illinois.

Fullerton Battalion.

GREET THE RECTOR AND HIS BRIDE.

La Grange Episcopalians Give a Reception in the Parish House.

The rector of Emanuel Episcopal Church, La Grange, the Rev. Charles Scadding, and his bride were were given a reception last evening in the parish house. The reception was arranged by members of the church, but participated in by people of the village generally. Mr. Scadding was only recently called to La Grange from Trinity Church, Toledo, O., and he returned to Toledo last week to marry Miss Mary Pomeroy of that city. They came to La Grange a few days ago. About 500 persons were present.

DEATH OF EDWIN RUTHVEN HARMON.

He Was One of the Oldest Settlers of the City.

Edwin Ruthven Harmon, who died yesterday at his home in Rogers Park, was one of the oldest settlers of Chicago. He was born in Fredonia, N. Y., Oct. 18, 1818, and came to Chicago with his parents in 1835. His name appears in the first directory of Chicago as a clerk in Wadsworth's store. Later in life he was engaged for many years in the wholesale dry goods business under the successive firm names of Keep, Harmon & Co., Harmon, Aiken & Gale, and Harmon, King & Co. He has resided continuously in Chicago since 1835, except during brief periods when he represented his firm in New York and from 1881 to 1884, when he lived in Aurora, Ill. He has not been engaged in active business since the great fire. He married in 1851 Mary Huntoon, who survives him, together with four sons and two daughters, Horatio L., James H., Harold C., Philip K., Mrs. L. C. Earl, and Mrs. Samuel C. Edsall.

Edward A. Mulford.

Edward A. Mulford, aged 45, proprietor of the Mulford Ticket Agency, died of consumption on Tuesday night at his home, No. 30 Aldine square. Mr. Mulford was a pioneer in the ticket brokerage business, establishing the first office here in 1872. He was a member of the Chicago Athletic club and of the Marquette club. He left a widow, two sons, and a daughter. The funeral exercises will be held at the residence tomorrow morning, with interment at Rosehill.

The Rev. Victor Zaleski.

The Rev. Father Victor Zaleski, priest of St. Andrew's Catholic Church, Hammond, died of dropsy yesterday at his home in West Hammond. He was a graduate of St. Francis Seminary of Milwaukee, and for several years assistant rector at St. Mary's Church, Chicago. The funeral services will be held on Saturday morning at Sobieski, Ill., the interment being in the Polish Cemetery of this city.

Jennie Pettit.

Wabash, Ind., May 20.—[Special.]—Miss Jennie Pettit, daughter of the late Judge John U. Pettit, died at 8 o'clock this morning of anæmia, after an illness of five months. Miss Pettit was born May 30, 1869, and possessed one of the brightest intellects the city boasted.

H. G. Withrow.

H. G. Withrow, aged 32, died at the Presbyterian Hospital yesterday of cardiac rheumatism. He was a son of Judge Withrow of this State, and left a widowed mother and one sister. He was Assistant General Superintendent of Motive Power of the Metropolitan L.

ASK FOR INCREASED PAY.

MORE MONEY RECOMMENDED FOR SCHOOL BOARD EMPLOYES.

Favorable Committee Report Is Laid Over to a Future Meeting—List of Those to Be Benefited—Provision for Waifs Down-Town—Talk of Moving Offices to the West Side Regarded as a Joke—Arrangements for Vacation Schools.

At the meeting of the Board of Education last night the Committee on Janitors and Supplies recommended an increase in the salaries of clerks and messengers in the board rooms as follows:

Mrs. Emily Stevens, from $1,050 to $1,500.
T. R. Sammons, from $780 to $1,000.
C. E. Guilbert, from $1,000 to $1,100.
M. Braeutigam, from $260 to $480.
Samuel Frankland, from $900 to $1,000.
J. J. Cummings, from $400 to $480.

On motion of Mr. Rosenthal the report was laid over.

It was directed that examinations should be held on June 30 at the West Division High School for teachers of four years' experience who wish to become teachers in the primary, grammar, and high schools, and also for high school graduates who wish to be admitted to the Normal School.

Members Errant, Cusack, and Blount were appointed a committee to investigate the cost of the architect's office.

A communication was read from Perkins Bass, giving $4,500 for the Perkins Bass School.

Miss Annie Goggin was confirmed as the principal of the new Pulaski School, and Miss Catherine Elles as her head assistant.

The report of the School Management committee recommending the establishment of a down-town school for waifs and street children was adopted.

Moving Talk a Joke.

Chairman Cusack of the Committee on Janitors and Supplies said last Monday at a meeting of the committee he thought it would be good policy for the Board of Education to move its offices to the West Side. He wanted a new and larger building erected for the Supplies Department, now at No. 161 West Monroe street, which would also contain room enough for the board and its committees. The only other members of the committee present were P. F. Pettibone and Mrs. Sherman, all three being residents of the West Side.

Several members and officers of the board were asked yesterday what they thought of the scheme.

Mr. Cusack said: "I was perfectly sincere in my suggestion, but I had no idea of anything coming of it. There are too many members on the other sides of the city who will oppose it for it ever to be the policy of the board."

Mr. Pettibone—I took Mr. Cusack to be joking, and therefore I was joking, too.

Mrs. Sherman—I took the whole conversation in fun. I had no idea any one meant what he said.

Business Manager Guilford—I have been quoted as approving of the board being removed to the West Side, but I do not approve of it.

President Cameron—I have never heard of a project for moving the board rooms to the West Side or anywhere else. If the rooms were to be moved at all they should go to the Lake-Front Park. But why discuss the matter, for we have no money for such a building?

Mr. Kohtz—It is wind—all wind. I never heard of such a project and it is entirely out of the question.

Mr. Mallette—This scheme for moving to the West Side was mentioned three or four years ago, but it was mentioned unfavorably. I never knew any one being seriously in favor of it. Even if we wanted to move the West Monroe street site would be unsuitable on account of being too far from business.

Mr. Blount—If the board should ever think of such a thing as building offices there is only one proper location for them, and that is on the Lake-Front.

Mr. Errant—I know nothing of any serious proposition to remove the rooms to the West Side. There has always been some West Side member who would like to see such a thing done, but the idea was never entertained by any one else.

Work for Vacation Schools.

At the meeting of the Education committee of the Civic Federation yesterday Dr. W. R. Harper, who presided, reported a plan of work and study for the vacation schools which Miss Sadie American and her committee are laboring to establish.

It was recommended that there should be a Superintendent, who should arrange the curriculum, and an Educational committee of three to select teachers and buildings. Instruction should include, it is recommended, manual training, nature study, and history in connection with the Columbian Museum and other public institutions. It is held, too, that attention should be paid to esthetic and artistic development.

The committee is, as yet, entirely without means, and looks to public-spirited people to furnish pecuniary aid.

Drowned During an Outing.

Alton, Ill., May 20.—[Special.]—William Pollard fell from the steam launch Glad Tidings today and was drowned. He was with a merry pleasure party that started this morning for a week's outing on a house-boat on the Illinois River. The party returned tonight with the dead body.

Equestrians Ready to Parade.

Arrangements are now complete for the North Side equestrian parade on Sunday. Instructions have been issued to the different officers of the divisions of the parade in order to facilitate the formation. The formation and route of the parade have already been described in THE TRIBUNE.

ONE HONEST MAN.

Dear Editor: Please inform your readers that if written to confidentially, I will mail in a sealed letter the plan pursued by which I was permanently restored to health and manly vigor, after years of suffering from Nervous Weakness, Loss of Vigor, Lack of Confidence, etc. I have no scheme to extort money from any one whomsoever. I was robbed and swindled by quacks until I nearly lost faith in mankind, but thank heaven, I am now well, vigorous, and strong, and anxious to make this certain means of cure known to all. Having nothing to sell or send C. O. D., I want no money. Address JAS. A. HARRIS, Box 800, Delray, Mich.

CASTORIA

Lame Weak Back

What It Means. How to Cure.

Men suffering with lameness, weakness, or stitches in the back know that there is a radical trouble that in time will lead to very serious results. These should also know that there is a radical cure for them—no matter what the cause of the trouble—in Dr. Sanden's Electric Belt. Electricity works as great wonders in disease as other directions, and this belt is absolutely guaranteed to cure. IT GIVES CURRENTS YOU FEEL THROUGH ALL WEAK PARTS OF BODY, and material benefit is experienced from first hour used. My new, illustrated book, "Three Classes of Men," should be read by every man suffering the slightest weakness. Sent free, sealed, by mail.

DROWNED IN A DELUGE OF HITS.

Chicago Takes a Second Drubbing from the Giants.

New York used a scalpel on Tuesday. Yesterday it used a club. The Chicago baseball club was the victim in each instance. The first day the score was 7 to 0, after a clean, well-played game, and yesterday it was 19 to 4 after a miserable exhibition of the national game as it should not be played.

Several things operated against the local team, all tending to make the defeat more overwhelming. In the first place Truby was missed from his accustomed place at the second corner, the position being filled by "Josh" Reilly. This young man has never played second base, and the strange environment embarassed him to a painful degree, his play being marked by pitiful errors and brilliant catches and stops, the intermittent recurrence of one serving to spoil the fine record that would have been made by the other. He played earnestly, and shirked none of the difficult balls that invaded the outer limits of his territory. Given a little experience he may cover the base in a manner more than satisfactory to the Chicago "fans." He will have to accustom himself to his new surroundings, as there is nobody else to fill the position, and Truby is good for three weeks on the list of the incapacitated. His ankle was as big as a Westphalian ham yesterday, and he was unable to touch his foot to the floor.

Principal Reason for Defeat.

The weakness at second was one reason for the defeat, though not the principal one. Lowe, Pfeffer, Gleason, and Truby combined could not have won a victory. Parker weakened in one inning and the game was won and lost right there. He did not lose control, but every time he sent the ball near the plate there was a crack and a hit and a run. New York took on a terrific batting streak which nothing could stop, and when the cannonading was over thirteen men had been at bat and nine hits had been made, three of them good for two bases each and one counting as a triple. There were as many runs as hits and six of them were earned. Nearly all the hits were made between center and right, keeping Messrs. Ryan and Lange extremely busy.

Parker asked to be relieved at the end of the disastrous inning, but Capt. Anson told him to play it out, and for four innings thereafter he held the opposition down to one hit, but in the ninth the Giants found him for five more hits, which, with a base on balls, netted five runs. Then everybody was ready to go home, including the tired New-Yorkers.

There was a third reason for the defeat in the general loose and slow playing of the Chicagos. The game began with two errors in the infield, which were responsible for three runs, and from that time to the end the locals played in a hopeless way that invited defeat. At the bat they were not weak. Fifteen hits will win any ordinary game, but as yesterday's was decidedly extraordinary the hitting of the Chicagos seemed to have no effect. Four runs, no two in one inning, was the best the White Stockings could do.

Some Bad Decisions.

Sheridan's umpiring was not as faultless as usual, and that added to the confusion of the home team. He was at sea on balls and strikes and made three bad decisions on bases, all against Chicago except one. But Mr. Sheridan could not have changed the result had he tried. His work simply served to make the defeat more overwhelming, and if he was to have an off day it was just as well that it came at a time when the score was not close.

The agony began with the first man at bat. Van Haltren hit to Reilly, who was too anxious and fumbled the ball. This was immediately followed by Dahlen's fumble of G. Davis' easy grounder, the two base runners scoring on Tiernan's cracking two-base hit to left field. The latter went to third on the throw-in and home on Stafford's single between Everitt and Dahlen.

In the third inning Tiernan secured his base on balls and traveled to third on Gleason's clean hit to right, the latter stealing second. Tiernan came in on Stafford's long fly and out to Lange, and Gleason scored when Reilly, Dahlen, and Decker were unsuccessfully trying to make a double play on Stafford and H. Davis.

Then came the slaughter of the fourth. Van Haltren hit to right for one base. G. Davis to the same spot for two, and Tiernan to right center for three. Gleason was given a base on balls and stole second, Tiernan scoring the next moment while Lange was capturing a fly from Stafford's bat. H. Davis was the second man out on a fly to Dahlen, but the cannonading was resumed, three straight hits being made by Connaughton, Meekin, and Wilson, the pitcher's hit being good for two bases.

Hits Follow Errors.

Another opportunity for an out came when Van Haltren, on his second turn at the bat in that inning, hit to Reilly, who was so nervous he made two misplays, one leaving the batter safe on first and the other permitting a run to be counted. Following this came another batch of hits. G. Davis made his second double of the inning, and Tiernan and Gleason singled to left, but the little right fielder was too ambitious and he was nipped at the plate.

When Parker was told he was expected to pitch the game to the end he ground his teeth, and for four innings the New Yorks made only one little hit to left. Then they began batting operations again, keeping up a fusillade until it seemed the terrible fourth was to be repeated. There were five casualties without an intervening put-out. Wilson, Van Haltren, and G. Davis achieved singles, and Tiernan walked to first on balls, after which Gleason rapped out a triple to deep center. He failed to score on Stafford's third fly and out to Lange, but came in with the fifth run of the inning when H. Davis sent one straight over second base. The latter stole second, but a moment later retired the side by being too impatient. He saw Connaughton's long fly gobbled up by Ryan and then sprinted for third, but he had not taken the precaution to first touch the bag on the fly ball caught, and was declared out when Dahlen secured the ball, touched the base, and asked for a decision.

White Stocking Runs.

Chicago made hits in every inning, but scored in only four, and then only one run at a time. In the first, when two men were out, an earned run came in on doubles by Lange and Ryan. In the second Flynn hit to right for a base, was advanced on Kittridge's base on balls, and scored on Parker's hit to left. No more runs were made until the seventh, when Decker made the circuit on successive hits by himself, Flynn, and Kittridge.

The last run came in the eighth. Dahlen doubled to right, and reached third when Van Haltren muffed Lange's fly to center, coming home on Ryan's hit to the shortstop and out at first. The score:

Dangerous Senators Today.

Washington comes today. The Senators have been playing good ball this year and are next to Chicago in the percentage column. Either Mercer or Maul will pitch. The latter has just rounded into good shape and the former has lost only one game this season out of nine pitched. Griffith or Terry will occupy the box for Chicago. The players are as follows:

HASTINGS KNOCKED OUT OF THE BOX

Brooklyn and Pittsburg Play a One-Sided Game in the Rain.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 20.—After the third inning the game was a farce. Hastings was batted too hard and Goar was sent in in the fourth. It began to rain during the fourth inning and the home team played for a called game. The umpire made the teams play, though it rained until the sixth inning had started. Attendance, 1,500. BALTIMORE LOSES THROUGH POND.

Cleveland Batters Make Numerous Hits Off His Delivery.

Cleveland, O., May 20.—Cleveland hit Pond hard during the three innings he lasted, and that, combined with costly errors by Baltimore's infield, gave Cleveland the game. Cuppy was hit freely, but not effectively. Attendance, 2,000. The score:

BREITENSTEIN NOT ABLE TO PITCH.

Consequently St. Louis Proves an Easy Victim for Boston.

St. Louis, Mo., May 20.—Breitenstein, who was to have pitched for the Browns today, tore the nail off the index finger of his left hand, and will be laid up for two weeks. Kissinger, who took his place in the box, kept the visitors down to seven hits, two of which they scored. Stivetts did equally well by the Browns, but they were unfortunate on the bases, and made several costly errors, losing the game. Attendance, 1,500.

No Game at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., May 20.—Washington-Louisville game postponed on account of wet grounds.

IN THE HIGH SCHOOL LEAGUE.

Evanston Wins a Close Game at Oak Park.

Evanston and Oak Park high schools played a close game yesterday at Oak Park. The batting on both sides was weak, most of the hits being easy grounders or pop-up flies. With the exception of the first inning, when Oak Park made four runs on errors by Judson and McConnell, Evanston played a perfect fielding game. Oak Park had the game well in hand until the last inning, when, with two out, Riefsnider dropped Orchard's fly, McConnell drew a base on balls, Riefsnider fumbled Judson's easy grounder, and Andrews misjudged Clarke's hit, which netted three runs and lost the game. The score:

LAKESIDE JOCKEY CLUB GATES ARE THROWN OPEN TO THE PUBLIC.

Redskin Again Proves His High Class When Matched Against Indiana Horses by Winning the Handicap Easily—Track Is Heavy and Time Made Is Rather Slow—Large Crowd of People in Attendance on Opening Day—Four Favorites First.

The opening day of the Lakeside Jockey club's fifteen days' meeting was, from an attendance standpoint, a success, over 4,000 people passing through the turnstiles. The track, however, was not in as good a condition as its management would like to have seen it, the recent rains making the going a bit heavy.

Barring this, everything was in fine shape, the six events being run off without a hitch.

The event of the day was, of course, the Hammond Handicap, which was easily won by Redskin. Eleven of the stars at the track were programmed to start, but California, Simmons, Francis Pope, and Kamsin were among the missing when the field pranced to the post.

Redskin was in at top weight, 117 pounds, and was installed a 7 to 5 favorite. Foster Bros.' entry, Sullross, and Eloroy and Lillian E. were held at 9 to 2, and Merry Monarch and Dick Behan at 5 to 1. Frankie D., the other starter, could be had at 30 to 1. Dwyer sent them away to a beautiful start, with Lillian E. first. She and Frankie D. alternated in the lead to the head of the stretch, where Dick Behan showed first a half length before Redskin, with Lillian E. a head back.

Redskin took command half way up the stretch and won easily by two and one-half lengths. Dick Behan was second and Lillian E., who swerved badly 100 yards from the wire, third.

Four favorites, and all well backed, won the principal events. The summaries:

First race, selling, 11-16 mile—Mamie G., 95 pounds [P. Clay], 2 to 1, won; Cassa, 110 [W. Feeney], 25 to 1, second; Cunarder, 110 [Morgan], 15 to 1, third. Time, 1:16. Chenoa, Lawmaker, Caufield, Major Dripps, Tamerlane, and Rubberneck also ran.

Second race, for 2-year-olds, ½ mile—Devoir, 109 pounds [Murphy], 5 to 2, won; Lottie Wimmer, 94½ [Davis], 6 to 1, second; Thomas Paine, 115 [P. Clay], 4 to 1, third. Time, :54½. Ethel Farrell, Brown Girl, San Benita, Coin, and Perhaps also ran.

Third race, selling, 11-16 mile—Ferryman II., 97 pounds [Davis], 9 to 2, won; Sligo, 112 [Feeney], 10 to 1, second; Pinchback, 101 [Dorsey], 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:15½. Rachel McAllister, Pearson, Correlle, Bansach, and Rosa May also ran.

Fourth race, the Hammond Handicap, 1 mile—Redskin 117 pounds [Soden], 7 to 5, won; Dick Behan, 102 [Hothersall], 5 to 1, second; Lillian E., 96 [P. Clay], 9 to 2, third. Time, 1:50½. Sullross, Eloroy, Frankie D., and Merry Monarch also ran.

Fifth race, selling, ¾ mile—Nikita, 90 pounds [P. Clay], 7 to 10, won; Simmons, 106 [J. Murphy], 5 to 2, second; Dominico, 94 [Everett], 10 to 1, third. Time, 1:20½. Hillsboro and Chimes also ran.

Sixth race, ¾ mile, selling—John Hickey, 103 pounds [Warren], 11 to 5, won; Collector, 103 [Everett], 50 to 1, second; Spendoline, 103 [C. Hueston], 5 to 2, third. Time, 1:36¾. Timberland, Feedman, Francis Pope, Jamboree, Freddie L. T., and Dr. Parke also ran.

SOME CLOSE FINISHES AT ST. LOUIS.

Fair Association and Ullman Reach an Agreement.

St. Louis, Mo., May 20.—Close and hot finishes of large fields in nearly every one of the five events were seen today by 2,000 people at the fair grounds where the track was still muddy.

Damocles, the favorite in the last race, finished first, but was disqualified for fouling Frontier as the field came into the stretch, and Helena Belle, a 15 to 1 shot, was given first place with Theresa second, and Constantine third. Alex. Ullman's petition for an injunction to restrain the fair grounds officials from interfering with the betting ring was denied by the court today. Prior to the "draw in" Ullman had a conference with the track officials which resulted in an understanding. He will stick to his agreement, and continue to conduct the privilege. While the exact agreement was not given out, the were undoubtedly mutual concessions. The twelve books on today will pay a pro rata share of $1,600 per day until next Saturday, when another agreement will be made. Summaries:

First race, ¾ mile—Astolfina, 102 pounds [A. Barrett], 6 to 1 and 2 to 1, won; Little Cliff, 104 [T. Murphy], 6 to 1 and 2 to 1, second; Dennis, 107 [Webster], 12 to 1 and 4 to 1, third. Time, 1:23½. STEEPLECHASE RACING IS PERILOUS

New York, May 20.—About 3,000 persons saw poor steeplechasing at Morris Park today. The second race, for maidens, was the worst of the lot. Brookdale broke his leg in front of the grand stand and had to be shot; Jake Shipsey, the favorite, fell and did not finish; and Pow Wow stumbled at the last jump but one and did not come under the wire. Flushing fell also, but was remounted and managed to get in before the five minutes was up and got second place. The summaries:

First race, 1¾ miles, 7 hurdles—Tom Moore, 145 pounds [Chandler], 6 to 5 and 1 to 2, won; Scud, 142 [Sprague], 6 to 1 and 8 to 5, second; Kilkenny, 158 [Mr. Persse], 13 to 5 and 4 to 5, third. Time, 3:20. Red Cloud and Mars Chan also ran.

Second race, 2 miles, steeplechase—Marble, 152 pounds [Mr. Persse], 5 to 1 and 8 to 1, won; Flushing, 159 [J. Hueston], 2 to 1 and 4 to 5, second. Time, 4:07. Jake Shipsey [fell], Pow Wow [fell], and Brookdale [killed] also ran.

Third race, Empire State Steeplechase, about 3½ miles—The Peer, 157 pounds [Brazil], 1 to 2 and out, won; Rodman, 148 [Mr. Lynch], 5 to 1 and 4 to 5, second. Time, 8:00. May Blossom [fell] also ran.

Fourth race, West Chester Handicap, 2 miles, 8 hurdles—Southerner, 150 pounds [Veach], even and 1 to 2, won; Annie Bishop, 140 [J. Callahan], 8 to 1 and 5 to 1, second; Addie, 144 [Mr. Lynch], 6 to 1 and 2 to 1, third. Time, 3:48. Winship and Adelbert also ran.

Fifth race, amphibious ⅞ mile, flat—Mirage, 134 pounds [Taral], 5 to 2 and 3 to 5, won; Rubicon, 145 [Chandler], 9 to 10 and 2 to 5, second; Pay or Play, 123 [Griffin], 7 to 1 and 2 to 1, third. Time, 1:29. Sabilla, Fugitive, and The Sage also ran.

WHEELMEN ARE IN GOOD HUMOR.

Management at Tattersall's Pays Some of the Prizes.

Broad smiles covered the faces of the riders at Tattersall's last night. Acting Manager Wyman said a bond had been filed with the L. A. W.'s representative, Fred Gerlach, and that all the men would get their money and prizes on Saturday night. The management seemed to realize that they are in a tight place, and instead of waiting until Saturday paid some of the amateur prizes last night. Among those paid was Herman Kohl, who got his $35 diamond. Mr. Kohl is now sorry he said anything.

The feature of the evening was Frank Wing's lowering of the world's half-mile indoor record of 1:06 to 1:03 3-5, followed by Jay Eaton, the speedy Philadelphian, who lowered Wing's record three-fifths of a second, doing the half in 1:03 flat. The summaries:

One mile amateur handicap—F. Burkhart won, H. Kohl second. Time, 2:25.

Frank Wing against one-fourth mile indoor record. Time, 31 2-5.

G. E. Bicker against half-mile indoor record. Time, 1:06.

A. C. Van Nest against one-mile record. Time, 2:20.

One mile professional—G. T. Kreamer won, Jay Eaton second. Time, 2:22 3-5.

Frank Wing against half-mile indoor record. Time, 1:03 3-5.

Jay Eaton against world's indoor half-mile record. Time, 1:03.

A. C. Van Nest against one-fourth mile indoor record. Time, 32 1-5.

Half hour race—D. F. Pearson won, H. Kohl second. Distance, 11 miles.

Two-mile professional—Jay Eaton won, G. T. Kreamer second. Time, 5.05 3-5.

South Side Cycling Club Run.

The regular Thursday run of the South Side Cycling club tonight will have as its objective point the club-house of the North Shore Wheelmen in Sidney court. The run will be made a lantern parade.

Little Things in Baseball.

Baltimore has made the best record of the Eastern clubs now in the West.

Tim Sheehan has left the St. Louis bench and gone to Columbus, O., to play right field.

Nichols, Sullivan, Mains, and Stivetts of the Boston team have played without an error.

Cincinnati reached the top of the column honestly. Beating the big clubs gave it its proud position.

Manager Hanlon has put up a row of brownstone houses in Baltimore out of the profits of the Orioles.

Center Fielder Hamilton of Boston gives it as his expert opinion that the club that beats Baltimore will win the pennant.

Thornton and Briggs, the two Chicago pitchers, have been farmed to Grand Rapids of the Western League. This leaves Griffith, Terry, Friend, Parker, and McFarland on the regular staff.

Denzer, the young man found by Manager Comisky at St. Peter, Minn., pitched four innings on Saturday and only two hits were made by Columbus. He struck out five men in succession.

In the Southern end of the league circuit the grand stand prices are 65 cents and days are set aside for the free admission of women. "Ladies' days" in Chicago would fill the stand with deadheads.

TIRE OF STAGG'S RULE.

'VARSITY STUDENTS WILL ASK FOR VOICE IN ATHLETICS.

Dissatisfaction of the Last Two Years Coming to a Climax—Senior Student Council Takes Hold of the Matter and Will Bring It Before the Faculty—Representation on the Board of Control the First Request—Lack of College Spirit in Athletics.

A movement is on foot at the University of Chicago to secure student control of athletics. Ever since the opening of the institution, four years ago, athletic affairs have been in the hands of a faculty board on which the students have had no representation whatever.

Prof. Stagg was engaged under a five years' contract to oversee gymnasium work and to have full charge of all athletic teams. He has acted as coach of both the football and baseball teams, and the students have had no voice in selecting even so much as a manager. For the last two years there has been much dissatisfaction over the manner in which things are conducted, and also one or two abortive attempts to change the existing state of affairs. The attempts have failed partly for the lack of executive ability behind them, and partly by reason of the faculty frowns.

Now, however, the Senior Student Council has taken hold of the matter. This council is composed of seven members, one from each division of the Senior College, and is empowered to confer with the faculty on all matters relating to the student wellfare. Joseph E. Raycroft, Stagg's assistant in gymnasium instruction, has been made the Chairman of a committee within the council to draw up and submit to the faculty a plan for student representation on the Athletic Board. It is understood that several of the faculty members who are influential in athletic affairs look with favor on the plan, and have even offered suggestions concerning it.

Those who are on the inside say that the present plan is only a step in the right direction, and that at the expiration of Stagg's contract, one year from next June, the control of all athletics will be assumed by a bona fide student athletic association.

The new move was the subject of much excited talk about the campus yesterday, the students without exception being heartily enthusiastic in its favor. Lack of student representation on the athletic board is held to be responsible for that want of college spirit which is so much bemoaned at the university, and the new plan is hailed as the harbinger of better days to come. Some of the students are disposed to criticise an action of this kind reflecting upon Mr. Stagg when that gentleman is out of the city with the baseball team on its Eastern trip, but aside from this the plan will receive the earnest coöperation of the entire student body.

GAMES COMMITTEE HOLDS MEETING.

Representatives of Different Colleges Transact Important Business.

A meeting of the Games committee of the Western Intercollegiate Athletic Association was held at the Great Northern last night. Representatives were present as follows:

C. B. Neal, University of California; J. H. Frederickson, University of Illinois; A. E. Culver, Northwestern University; L. W. Meyers, University of Wisconsin; H. Meyers, State University of Iowa; and G. A. Bliss, University of Chicago.

A committee was instructed to conclude the contract for the Wentworth avenue grounds, and a list of officials for the meet was drawn up. Contrary to the example of last year the association will award medals and a championship banner to the college winning the highest number of points.

Word was received that California will not compete in the games this year. Leland Stanford, however, will join the association and send a team.

NAPOLEON WINS FROM THE WIZARD.

Former Regains His Old-Time Form and Plays a Great Game.

"Napoleon" Ives won the third of the series of billiard games last night, making 500 points while the "Wizard" was accumulating 439, but that he had to play to do it was indicated by the fact that his average was 19 6-26, it taking but twenty-six innings to finish the game.

At variance with the usual program of missing the first shot Ives opened with 26 and in the third made a run of 75. The audience was fully twice as large as that of either night previous, and in honor of the battle of the giants was decidedly demonstrative. The sympathies seemed to be generally with Schaefer, but when the see-saw play began, and first one and then the other player would be ahead, the applause was frequent and prolonged.

They soon grew accustomed to ordinary runs and were almost displeased when either player failed to count. As before, George Siler was referee and Charlie Matthews marker.

Opens with a Run.

Ives opened with a run of 26, in free, easy, play, with comparatively little nursing. Schaefer followed with 2, which Ives duplicated. Jake then made 8, and "Napoleon" then demonstrated his prowess by accumulating 75 points in the next inning. The "Wizard" then went out to square himself. It was no sure thing any way, but Jake chose a two-cushion draw that left the balls in good position, and before he sat down 64 buttons were added to his string.

In the fifth Schaefer discovered 27 more waiting for him, and this brought him nearer to his rival that he had been since the start. Ives, however, followed with 20, which again widened the gap.

Jake made only 3, and then Ives rolled up 40, freezing at that point. Mr. Ives then studied, and instead of spotting the balls he gave a vicious drive. This naturally ended his run, but failed to leave the balls without the range of possibilities.

Schaefer Shows Resentment.

There was just a trace of resentment apparent in Schaefer's manner as he came to the front and made the first point by a fine cushion carrom, played in an apparently reckless manner, yet so finely calculated that the balls lay in beautiful position in the center of the table. He stopped at 83, making every point by delicate position play, not going round the table once.

With the score standing 187 to 170 against him Ives rolled up forty-six in play so nearly perfect that the only mistake seemed to be in missing the last shot. Jake trailed along with twenty and then missed a coupling in the corner because of lack of force. Ives found only one in the leave, and Jake then rolled up forty in the ninth inning, making the score 247 against Ives' 217. Schaefer's average to that point was 27 4-9.

In the eleventh Jake made forty-four while escorting the balls half way across the end of the table, straddling the balk line most of the time. He slipped again through lack of power on an easy massé. Ives obtained twenty-six out of it.

The thirteenth inning proved unlucky for both players. Ives, however, pulled in thirty-seven in the next, again putting him ahead of Schaefer.

Ives Forges Ahead.

In the twenty-first Jake made 43, which tied the score at 399 and caused a tumult in the house. A run of 42 in the twenty-fifth left Ives but six to go, while Schaefer needed 79. Jake secured but 18 in the next inning and Ives then made an easy 6. Ives and Garnier are to play tonight. Following is the score of last night's game:

Ives—26, 2, 75, 6, 1, 20, 40, 46, 1, 17, 0, 26, 0, 37, 3, 0, 36, 0, 0, 35, 28, 2, 46, 5, 42, 6. Total, 500. Average, 19 6-26. Highest run, 75.

Schaefer—2, 8, 64, 0, 27, 3, 83, 20, 40, 4, 44, 1, 0, 8, 0, 20, 26, 1, 4, 1, 43, 4, 2, 16, 18. Total, 439. Average, 17 14-25. Highest run, 83.

MICHIGAN IS NOW IN THE LEAD.

Defeats Chicago University in Western Championship Series.

Ann Arbor, Mich., May 20.—[Special.]—The Western intercollegiate championship will hardly be the prize of the Chicago University. Today the score stood 9 to 2 in the Wolverines' favor. Watkins, Michigan's smiling left-hander, and Michigan's plain superiority in point of team playing were enough to lose the Chicagoans, even had not Clark been found safely for twelve hits, with a total of fifteen bases.

For four innings not a hit was made off Watkins, and only five came after that, two of them scratches.

On Chicago's side there was an absence of the team work that Stagg is supposed to bring about. When asked if he didn't think Chicago has a good chance against Cornell and Harvard, Mr. Stagg said:

"They haven't a chance against anybody if they play like this."

Watkins got the lion's share of attention, but Lowney praise for some of the prettiest assists possible, and Shields' batting and base running was applauded.

Capt. Abells played the cleanest game for Chicago, but Herschberger redeemed a bad muff by some pretty catches later on and by his batting. The score:

MICHIGAN REPORTS RULE

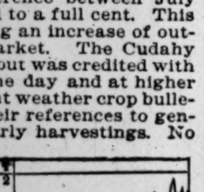

SHORTS FRIGHTENED BY MESSAGES TELLING OF INSECT DAMAGE.

July Wheat Sells Above Call Price—Too Much Rain in the Red River Valley—Foreign Markets Reflect No Uneasiness — July-September Difference Widens to One Cent—Provisions Weak on Big Hog Receipts—South Water Street Prices.

Insect damage reports from Michigan were by all odds the thing in wheat yesterday. There were bad reports from Indiana and from parts of this State, but the State of Michigan was the center of insect damage intelligence. Nearly every one who has any Michigan correspondents had stories of destruction and predictions of a short winter wheat crop. If there were any reports not along this line a large majority of them were kept out of circulation. Two or three dispatches which were considered significant were from dealers in agricultural machinery. They told of good prospects and of large sales of reaping machines. There were messages from the Northwest telling of continued wet weather and stating that the spring wheat seeding is practically abandoned, with a shortage in acreage assured. The Northwestern receipts were 238 cars, against 362 the same day last week and 178 the same day last year. The foreign news was not particularly inspiring, with the exception of a cable from Paris telling of drought in France, and this was discredited by a later cable. Clearances were disappointing at the equivalent of only 125,000 bu, as against 349,000 bu received at primary points. Local receipts were 11 cars, against 63,000 bu taken out of store.

Cargo Lot of Wheat Worked.

While the majority of the cash wheat dealers say that it is impossible to work wheat for export a cargo of 56,000 bu of No. 1 Northern wheat was taken for direct export by William Dunn, and this had its effect with the other bullish announcements of the day. The difference between July and September widened to a full cent. This was taken as indicating an increase of outside interest in the market. The Cudahy contingent sold freely, but was credited with buying it in later in the day and at higher prices. The government weather crop bulletins were bearish in their references to general conditions and early harvestings. No one had any particular theory to account for the advance of July wheat above call price except the reports of damage by insects. The short interest apparently has been worked out of the market, and such people as Linn and Brosseau, who are generally bearish, were inclined to enlarge upon the possibilities of damage and its effect on prices. The principal difference between the damage reports of this year and last is that those of last year were accompanied by non-professional buying orders. The foreigners show no more anxiety over the reports this year than they do over the statistical situation. Liverpool closed unchanged to ¼c lower, while Paris and Berlin were fractionally higher.

JULY WHEAT RANGE

Coarse grain markets were about as dull as they have ever been known to be. Corn prices fluctuated only ⅛c and oats ¼c. Speculative trade was left almost wholly to the hands of scalpers. The corn market was firm in tone, the important factor being continued light receipts. The estimated car lots for yesterday were light at 200 cars, but receipts were only 151 cars. The expectations for today are 225 cars. There were some advices in hand relative to too much rain, notably in Iowa. Withdrawals from store were large at 387,835 bu, and charters were made for 155,000 bu. Primary point receipts were 310,000 bu; shipments, 411,000 bu. Exports were liberal at 258,000 bu. New York clearing 100,000 bu. The feeling in the cash market was firm, and samples ruled ¼c higher.

The undertone in oats was strong, despite the dullness. Charters were made for 280,000 bu. There was still a good inquiry for cargo lots of white oats at former prices, but bids on No. 2 were ½c lower. The sample market was firm.

Sales on track and f. o. b. coarse grain included: Corn—No. 4 at 27½c, No. 3 at 28¼c, No. 3 yellow at 28¾@29c, No. 2 at 29@29¼c, No. 3 yellow at 30¼c. Billed through: No. 3 yellow at 27c, No. 2 yellow at 27¼c. Oats—No. 3 at 17¾@19¼c, No. 3 white at 19¾@20¼c, No. 2 at 19½@19¾c, No. 2 white at 21¼@22c. Billed through: No grade at 18c, No. 3 at 17¼@19¾c, No. 3 white at 19¼@20¼c, No. 2 at 18¾@18½c, No. 2 white at 20½@21c.

Provisions weakened on the overrun in hogs. Receipts were 39,000, instead of 31,000 as expected, and 32,000 are looked for today. The hog market was fairly active, but 5 to 10c lower. Cudahy was credited with selling, but aside from the usual marketing by packers there was nothing significant. The cash demand is indifferent, and there are no long holdings that show a profit. July ribs sold under $4.00, and everything closed at about the lowest price of the day.

Not much disposition to trade in flaxseed was shown, but the tone was firm. Receipts were 10 cars; shipments, 8 cars. No. 1 Northwestern, on track sold at 88½c, and at 88c to arrive. July sold at 85½c. September was wanted at 87c, and 87½c was asked.

The season for trading in barley has reached the dull stage. There is just about enough demand to absorb the light receipts, and the trade does not expect to see values go any lower. Poor, thin to choice ranged at 27@35c.

Rye was slow and steady. No. 2 to go to store sold at 36c, and f. o. b. at 37c. May was nominally 36c. June sold at 35½c. July was 36c bid and 36¼c sellers. September sold at 38¼c, and was offered at that toward the close.

Timothy seed was quiet and steady. For September $3.05 was bid, and contract prime was nominally $3.25. Common to choice country lots ranged at $2.50@3.20. Cloverseed was inactive and steady on the basis of $7.85 for prime. Bran sold at $7.25@7.50.

To Be Heard by Senate Committee.

The board will make its opinions on the proposed amendment to the inter-State commerce law felt at Washington next week. The board is firmly against any amendment that takes away the severe penalty attached to violations of the law. H. F. Douseman will represent the board and I. G. Iglehart and Elliott Durand the freight bureau. Mr. Inglehart will also represent the Chicago end of the National Transportation Association. E. P. Wilson will represent the National Transportation Association and the Cincinnati Freight Bureau. A hearing will be given these gentlemen by the Senate committee next Tuesday.

The "call room" was opened yesterday as an abiding place for traders and customers of the board who are not members, but who desire information on the markets without "sponging" at the commission houses. Admission tickets can be had at the Secretary's office at the rate of $1 a month for outsiders, members having free access. The committee decided on the fee, as some discrimination had to be made to prevent the room from becoming a common loafing place. The room was well patronized yesterday and was voted a success.

Puts on July wheat ranged at 61⅝@61¾c, and calls at 62¼@62⅜c.

It was reported on 'Change yesterday that owing to the feeling against the through-billing rate, about which much as been said in this column, the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy and the St. Paul had revoked it, but it is understood that the Rock Island still keeps it in effect.

The following dispatch from Gillett & Hall of Detroit was one of the more important dispat[illegible] from Michigan which served to develop [illegible] timent: "We do not wish to pose as [illegible] but the reports reaching us from di[illegible] our State give us great concern a[illegible] of our wheat crop. The dam[illegible] spread than expected, and investiga[illegible] ties in various parts of the State o[illegible] previous reports."

Estimated receipts for today are 7 cars of wheat, 225 cars of corn, 185 cars of oats, and 32,000 hogs.

Lake freights were easier. Corn paid 1@1¼c to Buffalo and oats 1c. Charters were made for 56,000 bu wheat, 155,000 bu corn, and 230,000 bu oats.

CHICAGO NEWSBOYS LIKE DECISION.

They Say They Are All Right if the Conductors Cannot Put Them Off Moving Cars.

The New York Court of Appeals, in a recent opinion, has decided that newsboys must be treated as passengers by street railway companies. Once on the cars the little fellows cannot be forced to jump off without the company assuming the risk. The court held that when a newsboy was on a car he should be treated with as much consideration as a passenger and should not be forced to jump from a moving car.

Excepting as a precedent, the decision has little interest for Chicago newsboys or street railways. Some years ago there was an epidemic of accidents to newsboys jumping on street cars. The different lines finally prohibited all boys from selling papers on the cars, and since that time accidents have been few and far between. The Council also passed an ordinance subjecting newsboys to a fine for jumping on the cars.

The order and ordinance have proved effectual in all but the down-town part of the city. The method of selling papers is to run along the sides of the cars when they stop at street crossings. This has become the rule with but few exceptions. In the downtown district the boys jump on the cars freely. The trains go slow around the different loops and there seems little danger.

The street railway people take little interest in the New York decision. They admit responsibility when the boys are hurt by being driven from the cars while in motion, but look for their remedy in the power to keep the boys off entirely.

One little fellow, not bigger than a minute, was selling papers at State and Madison streets yesterday, when he was asked for his views on the matter. He was told what Newsboy Thorpe of New York had to say. His remark was:

"That guy knows what's what. You just say that again and put my name to it. I'll stand by you."

The New York boy said: "It's a good thing [the decision]. You can sell lots more papers by jumping cars than you can on the street. On the street everybody is on a hustle. It's different when they are on a car. They have nothing to do, and most of them are glad of a paper. If the conductors can't chase us off the car now we'll be all right. It's easy enough to get on."

The name of the little fellow who wanted to be "quoted" is "Spot," and he says he don't care for conductors or Council laws.

FRUIT GROWERS' NATIONAL UNION.

Representatives of State Organizations Meet in Chicago.

Fruit-growers met yesterday at the Palmer House to organize a national organization. John D. Cunningham of Marietta, Ga., was elected Temporary Chairman, and Willis Brown of Portland, Ore., Secretary. Mr. Cunningham on taking the Chair explained the object of the convention, which was to make a union of the State organizations, securing better rates from railroads. Officers will be elected today.

The following were in attendance:

J. D. Cunningham,	E. N. Fay, Portland, N. Y.
Thomas Morehouse,
Col. R. D. Graham, Grand Rapids, Mich.	J. O. Snyder, Milton, Ky.
G. K. Sinnetto,	Willis Brown,
E. H. Mendenhall, Kinmundy, Ill.	W. A. Gardner, Kansas City, Mo.

MATCH STOCK SELLS OFF.

FROM A FAIRLY STRONG OPENING IT GOES TO A WEAK CLOSE.

Heavy Trading During the Day, with Total Sales of 17,320 Shares—Opening Is at 223 with Close at 211½—Biscuit Is Also Weak—Suburban Electric Lets a Contract for Eight Miles of Double Track—Narrow Market for Local Securities.

Diamond Match gave another pyrotechnic exhibition yesterday of the descending order. It opened with a fair show of strength at 223, and after the liveliest day's trading that has been known in the stock since the advance began it sold off to a close at 211½. The official record of sales showed transactions to the number of 17,320 shares. At the close there were sales of 1,250 shares in 50 and 100 share lots at 212. That was the last quotation down on the board when the Chairman's gavel fell, but there was another sale of 50 shares reported at 211½ which the Chairman allowed to go on the board. The course of the market was not wholly downward. The declines of the stock were stopped several times and there were recoveries, but each time the offerings of stock were so heavy as to break the quotation with lower prices again as the result. At the opening there were two sales at 223, followed by declines to 222½, 222, and 221½. There were fractional advances followed by further declines, and at the close of the first call the stock was selling at 220. From this figure it went off rapidly to 213, advancing to 216½, declining to 212½, followed by a further advance to 215¾. It stood at this price ten minutes before the close of the Exchange, when a further raid was made by the bears and the stock went off to a weak close at 211½.

There is a diversity of opinion as to who are doing the selling in Diamond Match. Baldwin & Farnum are heavy sellers, while Foreman and Sturges also sold considerable stock. There was a good deal of selling in small lots by other brokers. Breese & Cummings, Edward L. Brewster & Co., Counselman & Day, and Chapin & Gaylord were among the heavy buyers. There are some who believe there was a good deal of short selling and that the majority of the sales may be credited to the shorts. There was without doubt a good deal of liquidation on the part of weak holders who were not willing to stand the risk of further declines. The insiders are still talking confidently of greatly advanced prices for this security. It was given out yesterday that buying had been done from 216 down to 212 for the account of strong holders of Diamond Match stock.

Too Busy for Match Gossip.

Brokers were too busy yesterday dealing in Match to give up much time to the discussion of gossip. The old story to the effect that the two Europeans who had come over with President Barber were dummies was revived. In contradiction of this brokers were telling of letters received by people outside the crowd interested in Match which proved their reliability. Byron L. Smith, President of the Northern Trust company, was handed a letter of introduction by Dr. Furth yesterday from the Lander Bank of Vienna, in which it said Dr. Furth was well known to the officers of that institution and that there had been close business relations existing between the bank and the Bernard Furth company, of which Dr. Furth is the head. The letter was of the strongest character regarding Dr. Furth's position in the commercial world. Another story was to the effect that Bryant & May, English match manufacturers, had not and were not considering the question of an amalgamation with the Diamond Match company. In proof of this the story went Mr. Bartholomew of Bryant & May had failed to come to America to inspect the machines, as it had been announced he would. It was said at Diamond Match headquarters that Mr. Bartholomew had made all preparations to come to this country when one of the head men of the concern died and the trip was postponed on that account.

A good deal of speculation was indulged in as to the future of the market. A good many expressed their belief in the intrinsic worth of the stock, but said the Moores would be willing to have the stock sell off in order that friends of theirs might get in at lower prices. J. H. Moore said yesterday it was the desire of those interested in Match to keep the market steady, but he said if people insisted on selling their stock on a declining market it was not a part of their duty to protect the interests of these holders.

Biscuit Is Weak in Sympathy.

New York Biscuit stock, which stood second in point of importance, was weak in sympathy with Diamond Match, though prices were much better maintained. The opening yesterday was at 93¾, from which point it advanced to 94 on a second sale. It sold off again, going to 92½, with a recovery to 92¾ at the close. There were total sales of 4,050 shares during the day.

The Suburban Electric railroad, which is to run from a connection with the Metropolitan and the Lake Street Elevated roads to Riverside and La Grange, has let a contract for the building of eight miles of double track between Riverside and the western terminals of the elevated roads. There has been completed two and one-half miles of double track from Riverside to La Grange, and the work on the eastern end of the line will be carried on without delay. It is not expected now the road will be in operation before Sept. 1. There has been delay owing to the high waters, which have retarded the building of the bridge over the Desplaines River. Another delay has been occasioned through the difficulty of coming to terms with the Northern Pacific railroad as to the viaduct the Suburban Electric is to build over its yards and tracks. The cost of the Suburban Electric will be approximately $900,000. There is a total issue of bonds authorized of $3,000,000, but of this amount only $700,000 have been placed, though the people taking the $700,000 have offered to take an additional $100,000. The company will be running trains by Sept. 1, according to present plans. The new lines of the Ogden Street railway company, which is under lease to the Cicero and Proviso, will not parallel the Suburban, as many suppose.

The Governing committee of the Stock Exchange met yesterday afternoon and elected six new members. The question of brokerage charges between members of the exchange was discussed, but no action was taken in the matter.

The sales of other securities than Diamond Match and New York Biscuit were comparatively few. Lake Street was inclined to weakness, opening at 24¾, selling off to 24¼, and closing at 24½. West Chicago showed only a few sales at the uniform price of 105½. American Strawboard sold as low as 40⅝.

IN THE NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.

Decrease in Gold Exports—Morgan's $6,500,000 of Northern Pacific 4s.

NEW YORK, May 20.—The speculative movement today was almost entirely based on professional operations and manipulation by the inside interests in Sugar against the shorts. The dealings in the stock comprised over 61,000 shares out of a general aggregate of about 117,000 shares. The opinion has obtained that on the way down some time ago large lines of shorts had been put out on Sugar at about 125, and the bears were reported thoroughly confident of the soundness of their position, basing their arguments upon the alleged unfavorable trade prospects and the recent declines in the grades of the foreign and domestic product. There has been a conflict of opinion as to the result to the company of the recent weakness in raw sugars, a decline of ⅛c having occurred in the last five days. On the one hand it is alleged the company's stock is only moderate, and that the decline will not have any important effect upon its earnings, and on the other it is urged that the drop finds it loaded up heavily. At all events, the bears found today that the powerful pool in the stock had still to be reckoned with. Sugar early in the dealings receded a small fraction, to 120, but later was rushed up 2¾ per cent, to 122¾. The movement imparted some sympathetic snap to the general list, and fractional gains were recorded. Improvement in the tone of the market followed the news of the placing abroad by Mr. Morgan of $6,500,000 of new Northern Pacific 4 per cent bonds and more favorable intelligence in relation to the crop outlook. The amount of gold engaged for shipment to Germany tomorrow was less than had been anticipated, owing to the increasing firmness of the exchange market.

The market during the greater part of the day was in a condition of semi-stagnation, but prices were well maintained. The absence of any selling pressure evoked favorable comment. The late dealings were marked by decided firmness, Manhattan gaining 1 and Rubber preferred 1⅛ per cent. The other improvements recorded were fractional. Speculation left off strong in tone with top prices ruling.

The market for railway and miscellaneous bonds was without important feature, although a continued absorption of some of the leading issues was noted, including Northern Pacific and Southern 5s. A number of the usually inactive mortgages figured in the dealings at improved prices. The sales were $910,000. The principal gains were Michigan Central 5s of 1931, 2¼; St. Paul and Sioux City 1sts, 2; C., C., C. and St. L. C., W. and M. Division 4s, 1½; New Jersey Midland 1sts, 1¼; and Keokuk and Des Moines 1sts, N. Y., N. H. and Hartford debenture 4s, Pittsburg and Western 1sts, and St. Paul and Omaha consols, 1 per cent. Governments were moderately active, but steady, with transactions of $65,000.

State bonds were quiet, the dealings being confined to $2,000 of Virginia centuries and Tennessee settlement 5s.

IN THE FOREIGN MONEY MARKET.

Stocks Recover on More Favorable News from Pretoria.

NEW YORK, May 20.—The Evening Post's London financial cablegram says:

"The stock markets opened dull today on the Times' telegram reporting that the leaders of the Johannesburg reform committee would be sentenced to fifteen years' imprisonment. Later private cables reported that merely nominal sentences would be passed, and the markets recovered, closing at the best. Home rails and West Australian mines were favored chiefly. Americans were irregular and lower on balance, but closed better. Pierpont Morgan is said to have placed part of the $6,500,000 new Northern Pacific 4 per cent prior lien bonds at about 89."

The Paris bourse was firmer and the Berlin market was steady.

NEWS OF THE RAILWAYS.

FAIL TO RESTORE RATES ON GRAIN FROM IOWA POINTS.

Western Roads Deem It Advisable to Take No Action Except to Agree to Meet Reduced Rates Made by the Chicago Great Western—No Differential to Be Allowed the Lake Michigan Car Ferry Company—No 5,000-Mile Tickets.

Executive officers of the Western roads at their meeting yesterday failed to bring about a restoration of rates on grain and its products from Iowa points to Chicago, and it is rather doubtful now whether the agreement made day before yesterday for the restoration of Chicago-St. Paul rates will be carried out.

Neither President Stickney nor any other official of the Chicago Great Western showed up, which was a clear indication that the concession made by the other roads in restoring proportional rates in connection with the lake lines was not satisfactory to the Chicago Great Western. Consequently it was deemed advisable to take no action as regards the disturbance in rates from points in Iowa to Chicago except an understanding not to meet the reduced rates made by the Chicago Great Western until the policy of the latter has more fully developed.

Further consideration was given to the agreement made the day before to restore rates between Chicago and St. Paul on May 31. Under this agreement the all-rail lines, including the Chicago Great Western, agreed to restore the rates to the 60-cent basis, first-class, and the Lake Michigan Car Ferry company agreed to go back to the same rate, on condition, however, that immediate consideration be given to its claim for a differential rate of five cents per 100 pounds below the all-rail rate, or five cents above the rate accorded to the Lake Superior boat lines.

The managers of the all-rail lines represented at the meeting felt inclined to grant the demand of Faithorn's car ferry line, but this could not be done unless the Chicago Great Western agreed to it.

After considerable telegraphing a reply was received from Traffic Manager Stohr of the Great Western stating that his road would under no circumstances allow a differential rate to the car ferry line or the Soo line, which works in connection with it, and any reduction made by the latter would be promptly met.

This removed all doubt as to the position of the Chicago Great Western road in this matter, and as the other roads did not care to get into a row with it they resolved unanimously to allow no differential rate to the Lake Michigan Car Ferry company.

TROUBLE ABOUT BICYCLE CHARGE.

Western Roads Cannot Withdraw Unless They Leave the Association.

Chairman Caldwell has informed the Wisconsin Central that it cannot withdraw from the bicycle agreement without giving up its membership in the Western Passenger Association. This the Wisconsin Central is not prepared to do.

The Chicago Great Western, it is understood, would also like to see the bicycle charge abolished.

At the request of these two roads a meeting of the Western Passenger Association was called yesterday to be held at the association rooms in "The Rookery" next Friday, when a strong effort will be made to eliminate the clause providing for a charge for bicycles of passengers from the general agreement.

Fort Wayne's Road Annual.

Pittsburg, Pa., May 20.—The twenty-third annual meeting of the stock and bond holders of the Fort Wayne and Chicago railway company was held here today and the following directors reëlected: Charles Lanier, Henry Amy, William C. Eggleston, New York, and James McCrea, Pittsburg. The report of the President shows that the income for 1895 was $11,102,923.30; expenses of operating and maintaining, $7,448,303.35, leaving earnings, $3,654,619.95. The Pennsylvania railway company, lessee, paid to the Fort Wayne company, as rental for the year, $3,693,638. There was represented at the meeting $38,600,000 of the $51,000,000 of the stocks and bonds.

No Five-Thousand-Mile Tickets.

Officers of the lines in the Central Passenger committee held a meeting yesterday and considered the advisability of adopting an interchangeable 5,000-mile ticket good over all lines in the association. Many objections were raised at the meeting against the proposition. Such tickets, it was claimed, could be used by scalpers to demoralize the regular rate and cause other serious trouble.

UNION PLUMBERS ORDERED TO STRIKE.

Journeyman's Association Disciplines W. R. Thompson, No. 85 Lake Street, for Employing Non-Union Men.

Walking delegates from the Journeyman Plumbers' Association ordered a strike yesterday at the shop of W. R. Thompson, No. 85 Lake street. All the men quit work at noon. Mr. Thompson has a contract with the West Park Commissioners to place 500 street washers or sprinklers in Douglas Park. It is charged non-union men, laborers, and boys are employed to do the plumbing.

The officers of Local Union No. 61 of the Cutters' and Trimmers' Union said yesterday the resignations of members are still coming in, and a number of complaints have been received from the men who returned to work to the effect that wages have been reduced from 20 to 30 per cent since the strike was declared, and a further reduction is feared.

The cases against sixteen of the nineteen members of the Brotherhood of Electrical Mechanics, charged with conspiracy by James V. Kettles, were dismissed yesterday by Justice Richardson at the request of the complainant. The cases against William Young, W. P. Moffat, and Fred L. Wolfrum will be heard on May 26.

Kettles made application to join the union, but refused to submit to the usual examination, demanding the return of his initiation fee. He was told the money could not be returned until after the next regular meeting of the union, May 23. He then swore out warrants, charging conspiracy.

Union plumbers are dissatisfied with the city's system of sanitary inspection. The union has appointed a committee to wait upon Mayor Swift and request that instead of what the union calls "a lot of cheap skates" competent plumbers be selected as inspectors. The union men say seventeen men out of the twenty-one are incompetent.

PROSPERITY OF THE FRUIT JAR TRADE.

Work Is to Be Continued All Summer and Glassblowers Are Offered $150 a Week.

Muncie, Ind., May 20.—[Special.]—On account of the prospects of a mammoth fruit crop Ball Brothers, the largest fruit jar manufacturers in the world, have decided to run all summer. Heretofore all the glass factories in the world have shut down in the summer on account of the excessive heat. The blowers at Ball Brothers only consented to work when they were offered wages of $150 per week from now until Sept. 1. Ball Brothers average 172,800 jars, or 1,200 gross a day.

COMES FROM THE ETERNAL CITY

Father Smolikowski to Investigate Polish Church Troubles.

The Rev. Father Smolikowski, General Superior of the Resurrectionist Order of Catholic Priests, is in the city, having come directly from Rome to look over the work of the order.

Father Smolikowski will especially investigate the Polish church troubles and the parochial schools of the order. He will remain in Chicago for a few weeks and only two months in the country.

During his stay here the General Superior's headquarters will be at St. Stanislaus' Church, Noble and Bradley streets. Thus far Father Smolikowski has been the recipient of marked attention at the hands of the church congregation, and every effort will be made to render his stay here pleasant and profitable.

MAKES A STRONG PLEA FOR THE BEARS

Son of President Baker of the Board of Trade Addresses the Yale Political Science Association.

New Haven, Conn., May 20.—[Special.]—The methods of speculation on the Chicago Board of Trade were discussed in an interesting paper before the Yale Political Science Association last evening by Mr. H. D. Baker, son of William T. Baker of Chicago.

The subject was, "Short Selling and Its Effect on Prices." Mr. Baker claimed that the bear was a necessary agent in the healthful adjustment of prices, but that he should be allowed no favors over the bull.

The burdens which the bull has to bear in paying the charges of insurance and storage, and the parasitic influence of bucket-shops and of elevator monopolies, give the bears a constant advantage, and this has ended in an unwarranted and disastrous depression in prices.

"As long as 16 to 1 is the shibboleth for the farmers' troubles," said Mr. Baker, "the country will be free from anti-option legislation, which would produce more harm than it could do good."

PUBLIC SPIRIT SHOWN BY A BANK.

Offers $100,000 to Make Minneapolis a Stock Feeding Center.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 20.—[Special.]—The Minneapolis Board of Trade proposes to make Minneapolis a stock feeding center. The idea was discussed at a public meeting today, and the Bank of Minneapolis offered to advance $100,000 for the purpose.

Women Voters in Utah.

It is estimated that there are 40,000 women voters in Utah and 10,000 more who may become naturalized.

PROPOSALS

—FOR—

$200,000 Town of West Chicago Five Per Cent Bonds.

Chicago, May 18th, 1896.

Sealed proposals will be received by the West Chicago Park Commissioners at office in Union Park, Chicago, Illinois, until 4 o'clock p. m. of Tuesday, May 26th, 1896, for the purchase of $200,000.00 Town of West Chicago bonds, with accrued interest from January 1st, 1896, to June 1st, 1896, on which date the bonds are to be delivered should a proposition therefor be accepted. The bonds are dated July 1st, 1895, payable July 1st, 1915, optional after July 1st, 1900, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, payable semi-annually. Principal and interest payable at the office of the West Chicago Park Commissioners. Said bonds are issued by the authorities of the Town of West Chicago, in pursuance of and subject to the provisions of an act of the General Assembly of the State of Illinois, approved and in force June 21st, 1895.

The Town of West Chicago is a part of the City of Chicago, and contains a population of 715,000, and for the year 1895 the assessed valuation of said Town was $61,338,255. Further particulars and a Prospectus of the bond issue will be furnished on application to the Secretary of the Park Commissioners. Proposals must be addressed to "West Chicago Park Commissioners, Union Park, Chicago, Illinois," and indorsed "Proposals for bonds," and must be accompanied by a certified check for two per cent of the amount bid, payable to the order of the West Chicago Park Commissioners, as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder.

The bonds are certified to by the Equitable Trust Co. of Chicago. These bonds are a part of a $600,000.00 issue, $250,000.00 of which were recently sold.

The West Chicago Park Commissioners reserve the right to reject any or all bids.

NEWS FROM WASHINGTON

GROSVENOR WILL EXPOSE CLEVELAND'S CIVIL SERVICE PLOT.

He Introduces a Resolution Calling for Information from the Heads of Departments Which Is Expected to Show That Nearly All the Republicans in the Government Employ Have Been Dismissed and Their Places Filled by Democrats.

Washington, D. C., May 20.—[Special.]—"It is my intention to show the people of the United States what kind of a civil service reformer Grover Cleveland is," said Gen. Grosvenor, who is managing the McKinley campaign at this end of the line, "and with this end in view I have introduced a resolution addressed to the heads of the eight Executive Departments, calling on them for information regarding the clerical force in their respective departments.

"According to the order recently issued by the President it will not be possible for the Secretary of the Treasury under the next administration to appoint the chief clerk of the Treasury Department. Ever since the administration came into power there has been a determined effort to weed out Republicans and fill their places with Democrats, and this work has been thoroughly accomplished. Now that the departments have been filled up with Democrats from Chiefs of Division down to the char women, the President of the United States throws the protecting ægis of the civil service law around the incumbents, and says in effect they shall not be disturbed.

"In other words, now that the Republicans have all been weeded out of the civil service, the opposition plans to run things when a Republican administration comes into power.

"My intention is to have a report made on this matter as quickly as possible from the various departments, and the resolution which I have introduced today has been referred to the Committee on Reforms in the civil service. That body will have to report either favorably or unfavorably on the proposition within a week, and meanwhile we may get replies from some of the Cabinet Ministers. At any rate, it is likely that answers will be returned to my resolution before the adjournment of the Fifty-fourth Congress, although we may have to wait until next December for all of the replies.

"According to the terms of the proposition submitted by me today information is sought on three points, as follows:

"First, the number of bureau officers, Chiefs of Division, clerks, and employés of every grade who were employed in the Department of Justice on the 4th day of March, 1893, and who have since been removed or have died, or have resigned, separately stating the numbers of the several grades of clerkships, and separately stating those holding positions in the classified service under the civil service law, and those not in the classified service.

"Second, the number by the same designation of grades of those appointed in the Department of Justice since the same date, with the same classification—to-wit: those who have received appointments under the civil service rules and those appointed not under the civil service rules.

"Third, the number of employés, clerks, Chiefs of Divisions, and other officers of the Department of Justice who were appointed during said period without civil service examination and civil service rules, and who are now covered by the orders of the President extending the civil service law, rules, and regulations to the employés of said department."

WOODMAN MAY MAKE THE RACE.

Purposes Making It Hot for the Machine Which Turned Him Down.

Washington, D. C., May 20.—[Special.]—"Although I did not have much time after the recent convention in my district to talk with friends in Chicago," said Congressman Woodman, "those with whom I did talk encouraged me in my idea to run as an independent Republican candidate for the Fifty-fifth Congress.

"When the Fourth District was carved out of Cook County it was planned to make it a Democratic stronghold, and it was expected to give a Democratic majority of anywhere from 2,000 to 5,000. Notwithstanding the fact such odds stared me in the face I went in and made the fight, which resulted in my carrying the district by a plurality of upward of 4,000. I am convinced that if I should make another contest even as an independent candidate I could repeat my former success, and if energy and hard work will accomplish anything I will bring about this result.

"One thing is certain, D. W. Mills cannot carry the district, whether he has the whole machine with him or not. As a matter of fact, however, there is a division of sentiment in the district regarding his candidacy and it will crop out long before election day rolls around. There was neither justice nor fair treatment shown me by those who controlled the convention on last Saturday, and I purpose making it warm for them all along the line as soon as Congress adjourns.

"It was evident from the outset that Bidwill was opposed to me and would leave no means untried to accomplish my defeat for a renomination. Now that the machine has decided to take up another candidate and push me aside after using me for a hill horse we will see if they can elect the candidate they have chosen. I am well convinced that they cannot do it, and the assurances that I have received from my friends recently have tended to strengthen me in the belief that I alone am capable of polling the full Republican strength in the Fourth District and being elected to the next Congress."

HITT TESTIFIES IN THE HOLT CASE.

Identifies the Handwriting in the Will as That of the Dead Judge.

Washington, D. C., May 20.—The legal battle over the estate of Judge Advocate-General Holt is now fairly on and the developments already mark it as one of the most remarkable will cases ever tried in the District of Columbia. Several more witnesses were produced today in the effort to establish the authenticity of the alleged will. After the Rev. Dr. J. G. Butler of this city had identified the writing as Judge Holt's Representative Hitt of Illinois took the stand. He said he had known Judge Holt for over twenty years and believed, though he was not certain, that the document bore his handwriting.

Attorney Wilson, for the heirs-at-law, asked the witness if there were any characteristics of Judge Holt in the composition of the alleged document. This move brought out a strong protest from the opposing counsel. They contended that the testimony was not competent and the objection was sustained by Judge Bradley, who ruled the question trenched too largely on the territory of the jury. Hitt then went on to testify that the late Judge Advocate's handwriting was variable, but had certain characteristics which gave it marked individuality.

Other witnesses gave similar testimony.

IMMIGRATION BILL IS PASSED.

Bartholdt-McCall Measure with the Corliss Amendment Is Adopted.

Washington, D. C., May 20.—After two days' debate the House today by the overwhelming vote of 195 to 26 passed the Bartholdt-McCall immigration bill as modified by the Corliss amendment.

The Senate today passed bills appropriating $400,000 for a public building, Tacoma, Wash., and $100,000 for a public building at Salem, Ore.

The conferrees on the river and harbor bill reported a disagreement on the Santa Monica and San Pedro deep water harbor amendment.

ALL THE BALLOTS WILL BE COUNTED

Election Committee Will Proceed with Rinaker-Downing Contest.

Washington, D. C., May 20.—[Special.]—At a special meeting of Elections Committee No. 1 this afternoon it was provided the recount should embrace all ballots cast in all of the precincts and counties of the Sixteenth Illinois District. This recount will be conducted in the manner provided by the election laws of Illinois.

South Dakota Bankers in Session.

Yankton, S. D., May 20.—[Special.]—The State Bankers' Association is in session here. It is attended by representatives from many Northwestern States, as well as fifty from South Dakota. Among the strangers present are E. S. Lacy, President of the Bankers' National Bank, Chicago; A. A. Crane, cashier National Bank of Commerce, Minneapolis; B. J. Kelsey, cashier Bankers' Exchange Bank, Minneapolis; Charles R. Hannan, Council Bluffs, Ia.; and others.

INSURANCE AFFAIRS.

Insurance men in Maryland, representing companies in all parts of the country, are contesting the constitutionality of the only insurance law passed by the last Legislature. They have united to test the meaning and validity of the law, have employed counsel, and have declined meanwhile to take out licenses. In order to raise the issue for judicial proceedings the grand jury at Baltimore indicted A. T. Bensinger and James D. Moulton of the firm of Moulton & Co., agents of the Girard Fire and Marine company of Philadelphia, for doing an insurance broker's business without a license. They demurred and the case will come up in the State Court of Appeals, probably this week. The questions involved in the case are of interest to all the companies and grow out of the enactment of successive statutes in reference to insurance brokers.

Under an act passed in 1868 the brokers were required to take out an annual license, at a cost of $100, through the clerk of the court. By an act of 1894 the section fixing the license charge to be paid to the clerk of the court was repealed, and brokers were required to procure, at the same cost, a license from the State Insurance Commissioner. The law passed by the Legislature which recently adjourned repealed the act of 1894 and contained affirmative legislation as to the license of brokers.

It is contended that the title of the law indicates only a purpose to repeal a former law and that any affirmative legislation under the title is unconstitutional. The brokers in the State claim they are under no legal obligations to take out licenses.

The complete report of Theron F. Giddings, Insurance Commissioner of Michigan, for 1895 has reached the Chicago offices. Concerning mutual companies and the need of more stringent laws for their regulation, Mr. Giddings says:

"The general law of the State governing mutual insurance has from time to time been amended to suit interested parties until it contains much which is vicious and unsafe for sound and reliable indemnity to policy holders. A continuance of this must in time result in disaster, especially so much of the law as allows the insurance of all classes of property on the mutual plan. The law should be so changed as to surround companies of this character with better safeguards to protect the public. A special law governing this class of insurance should be enacted and the entire mutual law should be revised."

George E. Kline, assistant manager of the Western Department of the Continental, is expected home from San Francisco, Portland, and other coast cities the last of this week. He has been engaged in making the changes necessary as the result of abolishing the coast department.

TRAMPS PUT UP A FIGHT.

ENGAGE A SHERIFF AND FIFTY ARMED MEN IN BATTLE.

They First Hold Up Men and Women on the Streets of Decatur, Ind., and Then Buy Beer and Indulge in Drunken Orgies—Deputy Sheriff Haley Is Fatally Shot and Citizens and Hobos Are Severely Wounded—Ten Are Arrested.

Decatur, Ind., May 20.—[Special.]—A gang of fifty drunken tramps struck this city last evening. They held up several citizens and attacked women on the streets.

After procuring money enough to buy several kegs of beer they opened a camp on the banks of the river near town, where they held high carnival.

The Marshal and Sheriff, with fifty armed deputies, attempted to arrest them, when a hot battle ensued. The tramps were all armed with revolvers and over a hundred shots were exchanged.

Dan Haley, a deputy, was fatally shot in the abdomen. Several other citizens were severely wounded. Ten tramps were captured and lodged in jail. The rest fled, many of whom were wounded and left blood tracks as they ran.

There was much excitement all night and lynching was freely discussed. The captured tramps will be tried as soon as the excitement dies down.

BEATEN BY MASKED STUDENTS.

Faculty of Lawrence University Will Announce Expulsions.

Appleton, Wis., May 20.—[Special.]—J. J. Schneck, a student of Lawrence University, was waylaid and severely beaten last night by three students wearing masks. In the struggle one of the assailants had his mask torn off, and was recognized as E. L. Abbott. Abbott was today arrested on a charge of assault, and a fine assessed amounting with costs to $10. The fine was paid by a subscription among Abbott's classmates. Abbott refuses to give the names of his confederates in the assault. The cause of the assault is said to be that Schneck is a faculty spy. The faculty will use every effort to apprehend all parties concerned in the affair, and all will be expelled.

LAKE SHIPPING NEWS.

Freights and Charters.

CHICAGO—There was no business except for the lines even at 1¼ cents on corn to Buffalo. The Denver was placed for wheat to Kingston at 2⅞.

CLEVELAND, O.—Ore men are offered more tonnage than they are able to take care of and the market is weak. A few Escanaba boats were placed today at 60, but tonnage was put in at 55, and cargoes are very scarce at the cut. No charters from the head of the lakes were reported, but shippers will not pay $1, and a break in that rate is almost certain, as offerings of tonnage are liberal. Nothing doing at Marquette, and that rate will follow Escanaba in the downward slide. Coal freights are firm and unchanged. Charters: Coal—Roby, Becker, Erie to Chicago, 50; Edwards, Golden Age, Ketchum, Wadena, Cleveland to Milwaukee, 45; Sauber, Buttironi, Ohio to Ashland, 35; Venice, Fairport to Milwaukee, 45; schooner St. Lawrence, Cleveland to Sturgeon Bay, 50. Ore—Nahant, Pentland, Mowatt, Escanaba to Cleveland, 60.

BUFFALO, N. Y.—Coal—Charters: Marion, Baldwin, Butman, Milwaukee; Carpenter, Manitowoc; Dobbie, Green Bay, 45; Syracuse, Chicago, 50. The Pawnee, Orton, Edwards, and Young were placed for lumber from Duluth to Buffalo at $2, and the Dobbie for ore from Escanaba to Tonawanda at 75.

Around the Lakes.

CHEBOYGAN, Wis., May 20.—A telegram was received tonight ordering the wrecker Favorite to the steamer Choctaw, sunk in St. Mary's River. The Favorite is away working on the schooner Commerce, ashore at Seul Choix Point.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich., May 20.—The steamer L. C. Waldo, Capt. John Duddleson, down-bound, ore laden, collided with the steamer Choctaw, Capt. John Ward, bound up, light, abreast of Spry's lumber dock in St. Mary's River at daybreak. The Waldo struck the Choctaw nearly amidships on the starboard side, cutting a hole ten feet long from deck to bilge. As soon as possible Capt. Ward got the Choctaw on the beach. The Waldo had its bow smashed in, and is full to the collision bulkhead. The damage to the Waldo is estimated at $10,000 and to the Choctaw a like amount.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS.

AT LYON & HEALY'S. AT LYON & HEALY'S.

EXTRAORDINARY VALUE IN USED PIANOS. The slightly used and second-hand pianos offered by us present extraordinary value, for the reason that we have all such instruments in our own extensive repair shops. Often $25 to $50 worth of work is expended upon a single second-hand piano before we offer it for sale. The result is, that even the cheapest piano we sell will give substantial satisfaction and all our second-hand pianos are on a distinctly higher plane than the haphazard "bargains" sold elsewhere.

We quote of the many pianos of this class now ready in our salesrooms these few examples:

Kimball upright	$ 90	Steinway upright	[illegible]
Guild upright	115	Knabe upright	[illegible]
Fischer upright	150	Fischer upright	[illegible]
Ludwig upright	195	Hallet & Davis up't	[illegible]
Emerson upright	180	Fischer upright	[illegible]
Lester upright	190	Hallet & Davis up't	[illegible]
Bush & Gerts' upr't	135	Haines Bros.' upr't	[illegible]

Good square pianos from $40 to $100 each.

We also have the largest and finest stock of beautiful modern uprights of world-known makes, such as Knabe, Fischer, Krakauer, Hazelton, and Blasius pianos, to be found anywhere under a single roof.

These celebrated instruments are sold only by us, and are offered for less than the prices asked elsewhere for pianos of obscure origin.

Customers renting from us are given the privilege of purchasing within a limited time, and money paid as rent will be applied toward purchase.

A stool and cover free with every retail piano. Write for particulars of our easy payment plan. Pianos stored and repaired at low rates.

LYON & HEALY, Cor. Wabash-av. and Adams-st., Chicago.

NOTICE OF RECEIVER'S SALE.
IN THE CIRCUIT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF WISCONSIN.
Charles Greve, Frederick H. Marx, M. J. Dewald, M. Thome, and Charles Halstrom, complainants, vs.
Waukesha Spring Brewing company, defendant; Own F. Aldis, Henry W. King, Bryan Lathrop, Byron L. Smith, and Richard M. Bradley, as trustees, under the City Real Estate Agreement and Declaration of Trust, and Henry J. Blakely, Intervenors.
NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN. That by virtue and in pursuance of a decree of sequestration and sale made and entered in the above entitled action in the court aforesaid on the 18th day of May, A. D. 1896, and now on file and of record in the office of the clerk of said Circuit Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Wisconsin, in the City of Milwaukee, in said Eastern District, I will expose for sale and sell, at public auction to the highest bidder for cash, as a whole and in bulk the brewery of said Waukesha Spring Brewing company, at the corner of Grand avenue and Williams streets, in the City of Waukesha, in the County of Waukesha, in the State of Wisconsin, on the 20th day of June, A. D. 1896, at the hour of ten (10) o'clock in the forenoon of that day, all of the property, real and personal, effects, credits, franchises, and assets wherever situate of said defendant, Waukesha Spring Brewing company, now in my possession as receiver in said action. That a full and true inventory of all the said property, real and personal, effects, credits, franchises, and assets will be filed in the office of the said clerk of said Circuit Court in the Government Building, corner of Milwaukee and Wisconsin streets, in said City of Milwaukee, within ten (10) days from and after said May 18th, 1896, and will there remain on file for the inspection of all persons until said time of sale. That the purchaser at said sale will be required to deposit with the undersigned receiver at the time of sale the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars ($25,000.00) in cash or in a duly certified check acceptable to the undersigned, to apply on the purchase price of said property, and until said deposit is made no bid will be considered final. The right to reject any and all bids is hereby expressly reserved.
FREDERICK H. MARX, Receiver.
Dated May 20th, 1896.

TO KEEP UP THE PAVING.

RESIDENTS OF DEARBORN AVENUE BESET BY DOUBT.

Undecided as to Whether Smooth Thoroughfares Are a Blessing or the Reverse—Proposal for Maintaining Repairs Under Consideration—Work Being Done in Rush and La Salle Streets—Relative Merits of Granite and Vitrified Brick.

Property-owners of Dearborn avenue are considering the advisability of repairing the asphalt pavement in the street in front of their homes.

The Barber Asphalt Paving company has offered by circular letter to keep it in good condition for five years for $1 per front foot of land. But the ultra-fashionable people along Dearborn avenue are not certain whether they want to improve the thoroughfare again. In fact, they are said to be indifferent, so much so that they have expressed a desire that the street be kept as it is until the bulk of the North Side traffic is diverted to some other thoroughfare—La Salle avenue, for instance. So, at least, W. D. Kerfoot says.

Dearborn avenue was rendered unbearable to Mr. Kerfoot through the allurements its smooth pavements offered to vehicles of all descriptions and bicycle riders, and he has lately moved to another locality.

The agitation of the paving matter has likewise called attention to the impassability at the present time of the lower ends of two other principal North Side thoroughfares—Rush street, which is being paved with heavy granite stone blocks, and La Salle avenue, upon which are being laid cedar blocks. The former has been heralded as the probable boulevard connection between the North and South Sides, but with granite paving it is feared it will be anything but a pleasant place for a carriage drive, and fully as uncomfortable for bicycle riders. Cedar blocks will not make La Salle avenue the chief North Side street, the Dearborn avenue people say, though from Chicago avenue north it has a bonafide asphalt pavement.

First Asphalt Pavement.

The circular letter of the asphalt company tells the story of the paving of Dearborn avenue, which had, it says, the first genuine asphalt pavement in Chicago. It was laid in 1884, under a five years' guarantee. Toward the end of this period the city authorities required the company to lay a new wearing surface. At that time, the circular asserts, the company informed the city of serious leakages in gas mains, which contributed to the difficulty with the pavement. The city promised to have these leakages repaired, but did not, and the company relaid the surface under protest.

"This is the part of the circular which galls: "Dearborn avenue has sustained during all these years, or up until last year at least, almost the entire traffic of the North Side, thus throwing upon it an unfair burden."

The company asks then that the Aldermen be requested to pass an ordinance for the purpose of keeping the street in repair in accordance with the offer made.

Mr. Kerfoot remarked that he thought it would be a good idea to allow Dearborn avenue to become out of repair in order that the traffic might be diverted to another street. He spoke of the nerve-shattering incidents witnessed during the bicycle season and again during the winter when "there is maintained a skating rink for horses."

Where Repairs Are Needed.

Dearborn avenue really is in bad condition in numerous places. At the intersection of Indiana street some paving was done for the North Chicago Street railway company beside its tracks. The vitrified brick has been battered down just next the tracks and the traveler over it is given an unpleasant jolting.

The vitrified brick paving was put down on Dearborn avenue as far north as Ohio street last year. A subgrade was put in first, then six inches of concrete, then a cushion of sand and cement, and lastly the brick, which were sanded and tarred. The cost to the property-owners was $2.03 a square yard. The vitrified brick is made of shale instead of clay, the material for ordinary bricks. It is burned harder. Most of those used in this city are from Galesburg, Ill.

From Ohio street to Chicago avenue Dearborn avenue is paved with asphalt, on which the reserve of five years has yet one year to run. Beyond Chicago avenue as far as Lincoln Park there are large holes at frequent intervals in the pavement, to the danger alike of occupants of carriages and the ever-increasing multitude of bicycle riders. Beyond Oak street is an enormous puddle of water lasting from Monday night's rain, and which extends half-way down the block. The water is from four to eight feet in width. In that block are a dozen holes where the paving has worn out. There are smaller but as many holes in each block for some distance north.

Beyond Goethe street are many, and another trap for the unwary bicyclist or driver is a hole by the edge of a sewer box. The asphalt paving in this section cost $3 a square yard. Very little of the street in this neighborhood bears marks of having been cleaned recently. In some places are indications of preliminary sweepings of dirt by laborers, but it has been left in piles, which it has not taken long to scatter. In front of the new County Jail Building is a huge pile of rubbish.

La Salle Avenue's Condition.

As regards La Salle avenue, it is well paved and in good condition from Lincoln Park to Chicago avenue. The La Salle avenue people fought for a long while against the use of asphalt, but the aid of the courts was asked, and the people lost. The paving went down in 1894. From Chicago avenue north to Illinois street it is now being paved with cedar blocks, which are nearly all laid.

Rush street is being paved with granite, at a cost of $2.54 a square yard. The bridge is being paved with cedar blocks.

Illinois street has lately been paved with the vitrified brick, at a cost of $1.82 a square yard. It will be finished about the middle of next week.

The city officials say they have no money with which to further improve the condition of the streets.

Frank E. Hemstreet, Assistant Superintendent of Streets, said yesterday he hoped soon to have an estimate of the cost of repairing Dearborn avenue, the importance of which, he said, he realized.

Canvasser Rebuffed.

He said a prominent Dearborn avenue property-owner, who lately complained to him, agreed to do some canvassing on his own part if furnished with a frontage chart. The chart was made, but it never left the City Hall. The man returned and said his missionary effort had met with such rebuffs he had given it up.

As explaining the fact that Dearborn avenue is in a worse condition than it was last fall, Mr. Hemstreet said the moisture and thaws and frosts of last winter had a bad effect on the asphalt pavement.

"The Council allowed us but $2,500 for repairing all the asphalt streets in the city during the year," said Mr. Hemstreet.

He said the vitrified brick pavements, though put down largely in an experimental way, should last from twenty to thirty years. He thought if they demonstrated their durability they would be more in demand than the granite pavements.

ELECT KEELEY LEAGUE DELEGATES.

Executive Committee Will Name the Place for the Next Convention.

Springfield, Ill., May 20.—[Special.]—The Keeley League convention today elected Gov. Altgeld an honorary member of the State League. The selection of the place for the next annual meeting was left to the Executive committee. It is probable that Dwight will be chosen.

The following delegates to the three conventions named were chosen: To the Anti-Saloon League at Washington, D. C.—Ben W. Mason, Bloomington; L. F. Crosby, Chicago; J. J. Miller and W. S. Brown, Dwight; William P. Grimsley, Springfield. National Catholic Total Abstinence Association at St. Louis—Thomas E. Barry and N. A. Reed Jr., Chicago, and I. N. Ives, Bloomington. National Keeley League at Indianapolis, Ind.—N. A. Reed Jr., Chicago; W. P. Martin, Decatur. Alternates, I. N. Ives, Bloomington, and L. F. Crosby, Chicago. This concluded the session of the league and it was adjourned sine die.

The Woman's League was opened with devotional exercises, led by Mrs. Ida B. Cole of Chicago. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Mrs. W. S. Brown, Dwight; Vice-President, Mrs. Charles Stewart, Bloomington; Secretary, Mrs. W. H. Robertson, Springfield; Treasurer, Mrs. George J. Alexander, Bloomington. Executive committee—Mrs. Kate Reed, Chicago; Mrs. Blake Barrows, Farmington; Mrs. Lucy Porter, Mackinaw; Mrs. Mary Ives, Bloomington; Mrs. Charles Cole, Springfield; Mrs. H. A. Kenyon, Dwight; Mrs. Pemberton, Bloomington; and Mrs. S. P. Barry, Carthage.

The following fraternal delegates were then selected: To the Anti-Saloon League at Washington—Mrs. Mary Ives, Bloomington; Mrs. W. S. Brown, Dwight; Mrs. M. Kate Reed, Chicago; Mrs. Robertson and Mrs. Frank Pillo, Springfield. To the Illinois Federation of Clubs—Mrs. Mary Ives, Bloomington, and Mrs. M. Kate Reed, Chicago. To the State W. C. T. U.—Mrs. Mary Ives, Bloomington. To the State Catholic Total Abstinence convention at Galesburg—Mrs. Ida B. Cole of Chicago. To the Non-Partisan W. C. T. U.—Mrs. W. S. Brown, Dwight. Delegates-at-large to the National Woman's Keeley League at Indianapolis, Ind.—Mrs. M. Kate Reed, Chicago; Mrs. George J. Alexander, Bloomington; and Mrs. Willard S. Brown, Dwight.

At a union meeting of the two societies Mrs. W. S. Brown read an interesting paper. Col. Nate Reed of Chicago, editor of the Banner of Gold, delivered an address. State Secretary Brown read a letter of greeting from Col. A. J. Smith, Governor of the Leavenworth Soldiers' Home and National President of the league. The afternoon was spent by the leaguers in sight-seeing. The Lincoln monument, State Fair grounds, and other places of interest were visited.

UNDER TREATMENT FOR RABIES.

People at Pasteur Institute Who Were Bitten by a Wichita Mad Dog.

The local Pasteur Institute is rapidly filling up with badly frightened people from Wichita, Kas., where there is a mad dog scare of the wildest description. Eight persons from Kansas are now being treated for hydrophobia, and another party will arrive early tonight. Those now at the institute are:

The Rev. E. C. Beach,	Frank Bartlett,
George Rankin,	Jesse Hagerty,
John Klopfstein,	Lloyd Pryor,
Zip Schwartz,	Mrs. Kumkle,

The patients were sent to the institute by the Commercial club of Wichita. None of them has developed alarming symptoms except Lloyd Pryor, who was bitten on the face and who complained yesterday of severe headaches.

The mad dog fright in Wichita was caused by a coach dog becoming afflicted with rabies on May 10 and biting a large number of people and animals before he was killed. Since then over 300 dogs have suffered the death penality in the Kansas town, as well as several horses and a multitude of cats which were thought to have felt the teeth of the mad coach dog.

Umbrellas Extraordinary.
A sensation in rain shedders.

Our umbrella man has just concluded a deal with one of the most extensive manufacturers of Umbrellas, by which we become owners of his entire sample line and surplus stock at our own figures. In this way we pay for the Umbrellas less than half what we'd have to pay ordinarily, and this gives us a chance to throw them on the retail market at prices little short of wonderful.

They are all pure Silk Umbrellas in black and colors. There are several thousands of them in all sorts of styles, including most beautiful Dresden, pearl, inlaid, ivory, gold, and imported natural wood handles. They vary in quality, but there isn't an Umbrella in the lot but is a superb bargain at our price.

Beginning Today

We offer the entire purchase in three lots as follows:

Lot 1, values up to $4.00—Beautiful Silk Umbrellas, 26 and 28 inch—a wide variety of effects in handles..... 1.95

Lot 2, values up to $6.00—Elegant Umbrellas, Ladies' and Men's, 26 and 28-inch sizes—handles of every description..... 2.45

Lot 3, values up to $9.00—The highest grades of Silk Umbrellas, with highly ornate handles, in Dresden, gold, silver, ivory, inlaid work, and natural woods... 2.95

We rest on the assurance that this is the best umbrella offer made, or possible to be made, this year.
